New Air Drop Set Despite Kentucky Tragedy

Winds Are Blamed for 5 Deaths

137 Chutists Are Sent to Hospital

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP)—Army authorities planned today to go ahead with another mass airborne drop Saturday on the heels of a tragic maneuver which killed five and hospitalized 137 paratroopers.

The military exercise turned into grim reality yesterday when the paratroopers were tossed about the drop zone by treacherous and shifting wind gusts.

Helpless to Deflate

The victims, among nearly 1,400 taking part in the air drop, were dragged across the rough drop zone by billowing parachutes which they were helpless to deflate. None of those hospitalized was believed in serious condition.

"The guy who collapsed my chute for me looked like Santa Claus at Easter time," said Sgt. J. C. Daniel Kling of St. Louis, who suffered severe cuts and bruises. "Guess I went clear across the drop zone."

The battle-trained soldiers making the jump were members of the 502nd Battle Group, one of five such groups in the streamlined 101st Airborne Division. The 502nd is the aggressor force in exercise Eagle Wing.

Blown Against Trees

The other groups, acting as defenders, are scheduled to jump Saturday. Army spokesmen emphasized the jump would take place despite yesterday's tragedy.

The five who were killed were blown against trees and rocks by the wind gusts or strangled by the suspension lines when they were unable to collapse their parachutes.

The injured included:

Chute Too Fast

Maj. Gen. W. C. Westmoreland, 44, who assumed command of the 101st earlier this month, jumped with the 502nd, his 70th jump without injury, but he was dragged 300 feet across the ground.

"I just couldn't run as fast as my chute was going," he commented.

Westmoreland said wind readings of 10 knots (about 11½ m.p.h.) and under were made at drop time. Drops are permitted unless wind velocity exceeds 12 knots.

1,250 Foot Jump

"The injuries sustained resulted from an increased wind velocity or gusts following the drop," the general added. Authorities declined to estimate the velocity of the gusts which played such havoc with the troopers.

The men jumped from 1,250 feet, aiming at the zone, which is two miles long and one mile wide. Some were blown into adjacent wooded areas; the others were dragged through puddles of water and across stumps and rocks.

DRAGGED AFTER PARACHUTE DROP—A paratrooper is dragged along the ground at Fort Campbell, Ky., after a mass parachute jump by members of the 101st Airborne Division. Five paratroopers were killed and 43 injured in the jump. Fort Campbell officials said most of the casualties resulted from the wind dragging the men along the ground after they landed. Wind speed was placed at 15 miles per hour, which is within safety limits.

Brophy, Sammons Get 4th Accused of Holdup

Detectives Clarence Brophy and Frank Sammons, who last November caught three of four young men after a stickup at the Kingston Laundry, 79 Broadway, today were credited with arrest of the fourth.

District Attorney Howard C. St. John said that the arrest yesterday at Milford, Conn., of Arthur Ferrow, 25, of Kingston, resulted of persistent work by the detectives.

Based on Indictment

Ferrow was charged at Milford with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution, and a spokesman for the Federal Bureau of Investigation there said the arrest was based on an indictment for first degree robbery in Ulster County.

St. John said his office would extradite, but he thought the defendant would waive extradition.

Police were supposed to be looking for one John Diego, 19, of Albany, and the person who got away after the local detectives caught the trio on Fair Street, but based on descriptions given, the detectives kept Ferrow in mind.

Records Traced

Various accounts of the Nov. 14 activities of the four were checked, and a point noted was that they had said only three had taken a plane from the Boston area to Albany. There they said they picked up the young man who, they said, claimed he was John Diego.

A check by the district attorney's office revealed that all four had made the plane trip to Albany, and from then on the detectives and the district attorney's office traced records and details which led to yesterday's arrest at Milford.

Got Only $56

The Nov. 14 laundry stickup netted the four only $56, which two of them demanded at gunpoint from Barbara Bilyou, 19, of Port Ewen, an office employe.

The local detectives were part of an area-wide police dragnet when they caught three of the young bandits on Fair Street. The car in which they rode, reported stolen from Albany, was spotted near the Fair Street Reformed Church by the detectives.

They caught one of the group seated in the car. Detective Brophy sat with him to await ar-

Bush Is Given Unofficial Nod For Second Term

Senator E. Ogden Bush of Delancey, Delaware County, was unofficially designated to succeed himself as state senator from the 34th New York State Senatorial District, Wednesday at a meeting called by Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, chairman of the Ulster County Republican Committtee.

The meeting, held at the Governor Clinton Hotel, was the 34th Senatorial District meeting for the counties of Delaware, Greene, Sullivan and Ulster. The purpose of the meeting was to select, unofficially, the senatorial candidate on the Republican ticket this coming fall.

Those at Meeting

Atttending the meeting to make this unofficial designation were Senator Bush, chairman of the Delaware County Republican Committee; Neal Brandow, chairman of the Greene County Republican Committee; Harold W. Cole, chairman of the Sullivan County Committee and Assemblyman Wilson, chairman of the Ulster County Republican Committee.

In addition to the county chairmen, there were two members from each county's Senatorial Committee present. Members from Ulster County Senatorial committee were Frank Campochiaro and Harry Gold.

Sen. Bush was nominated by William Donahue of Greene County and seconded by Assemblyman Hyman Mintz, of Sullivan County, Mrs. Isabelle For-

Israel 10th Anniversary Joyous Time

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP)—Israelis danced in the streets until dawn today to celebrate the 10th anniversary of their nation's founding.

The festive celebrations today of the Jewish state's first decade included a military parade through Jerusalem for which troops and armor had been brought into the city. Israeli officials apparently planned to ignore Jordan's protests that the concentration of military equipment violated the 1949 armistice dividing the city between Israel and Jordan.

Nationwide Party

The nationwide birthday party was touched off by a 10-gun salute broadcast the length of the 8,050-square-mile nation. It was the signal for fireworks displays and displays and street dancing by many of the nation's almost two million Jews.

Loud speakers carried polkas to the crowds in Jerusalem. In Tel Aviv more than 1,500 entertainers gave free variety shows at six stages erected in main streets.

10,000 Tourists on Hand

Some 10,000 tourists were in the crowds that packed Tel Aviv for a large fireworks display. Cabinet ministers, rabbis, diplomats and specially invited German guests joined in the holiday spirit.

The anniversary officially began yesterday morning. A two-minute silence was observed throughout the nation at 10 a. m. and memorial services were held in synagogues.

In the evening, a memorial beacon was lit on Mt. Herzl by the speaker of Parliament, Joseph Sprinzak. Then smaller lights were kindled by 11 new immigrants from all parts of the world, including a youngster who migrated from New York to Tel Aviv.

Area Man Held for Kidnaping

Girl Hysterical Following Ordeal

NEWBURGH (AP) — Setting up roadblocks, state police last night seized a young father and charged him with kidnaping an 11-year-old girl and performing an unnatural sex act.

Found in a station wagon were Charles K. Schoonmaker, 26, and the girl, who was taken to a hospital suffering from hysteria.

Schoonmaker was taken before Police Judge Louis Acquaro today. Police said the girl—not identified—was criminally attacked but not raped.

Refuses Counsel

Schoonmaker is married, has three sons, and works for a Business Machines Corp. at Kingston. His home is in High Falls Park.

At his arraignment, Schoonmaker refused counsel, saying: "I know I'm wrong and I refuse counsel. I want to be punished. I want to go directly before the grand jury."

Police Account

Police gave this account of events leading up to the arrest:

The girl's mother said her nine-year-old son ran into the house yesterday afternoon and said his sister went away in a car with a man. The mother leaped into her car and followed the other vehicle, a red station wagon, but lost it. She called police, who set up roadblocks around Newburgh. The arrest was made on a road near Montgomery, also in Orange County.

Officials said Schoonmaker told of inviting the girl into his car after asking her the way to nearby Stewart Air Force Base.

Solon Rejects Raise

SCARSDALE (AP)—A Republican state senator has turned down a $1,500 raise in his expense allowance as judiciary committee chairman, saying he prefers to operate under his regular $3,500 a year allotted for expenses.

Veteran Sen. Pliny W. Williamson said yesterday he returned a voucher for the added $1,500 to Senate Secretary William S. King.

The increase was voted in the final sessions of the recent legislative session.

New York lawmakers receive $7,500 a year, plus an additional $1,000 in lieu of expenses. Legislative leaders and chairmen of key committees get additional expense money.

Williamson has represented his district in the State Senate since 1935.

Couple Killed in Crash

GLOVERSVILLE (AP)—A man and his wife were injured fatally last night when their panel truck and a state police car collided on Route 148 near here.

Howard Bassler, 66, of Gloversville, was dead on arrival last night at the Nathan Littauer Hospital. His wife, Lulu, 67, died today at the hospital.

Klein, Curran Would Go Before Grand Jury

City Judge Aaron E. Klein and Justice of the Peace William P. Curran of Town of Rosendale, who declined on April 10 to testify before an Ulster County Grand Jury in regard to alleged "leaks" in the Reuter Commission investigation testimony, today signified their willingness to appear voluntarily before the grand jury.

On April 10 when subpoenaed before the Grand jury they declined to testify on advice of their counsel, John J. Schick, on the grounds an attorney-client relationship existed.

Two Cases Over

Since then the Bruce V. Clarke and Floyd Krom cases, in which Klein and Curran appeared as counsel, have been disposed of. Clarke and Krom, former police officers, were under indictment for acts which it was alleged happened while they were on the police force.

Clarke entered a plea of guilty to unlawful entry Wednesday, and the indictment against Krom was dismissed on motion of his attorney Aaron E. Klein.

The summons to appear before the grand jury on April 10 arose out of an allegation that there had been leaks in Reuter testimony.

Judge Klein and his associate William P. Curran, representing Clarke and Krom had moved for inspection of the grand jury minutes. On April 7 that motion was withdrawn and Judge Klein stated he was ready for trial.

Adjournments Taken

In February Judge Klein requested and received an adjournment of the Clarke and Krom cases to make possible application to Governor Harriman for disclosure of any information amassed in the course of the Reuter investigation dealing with the Clarke and Krom matter and alleged promises of im-

State Launching Plan to Improve Forest Preserve

SYRACUSE (AP)—The State Conservation Department is launching a program to improve recreational facilities in the Forest Preserve—in the face of a proposal for limited lumbering operations.

Sharon J. Mauhs, conservation commissioner, said last night his department is putting in motion Protect Forest Preserve to emphasize the constitutional mandate that the Adirondacks and Catskills be kept "forever wild."

Sees 'Straw Men'

Roger Tubby, co-publisher of The Sanarac Lake Adirondack Enterprise, said today that Mauhs had set up "a number of straw men" in opposing Tubby's proposal to open up the preserve to limited tree-cutting.

Tubby made his proposal last month. He said experience of other states had shown that limited cutting would improve the appearance and health of the forests and game, improve water resources and enhance recreational facilities.

Mauhs, who previously had said he disagreed sharply with Tubby, announced his department's plans at the annual meeting of the Oneida Lake Assn. "What I object to," Mauhs told the group, "is using such terms as 'scientific forestry' . . . as a smokescreen to make the public think that you can log portions of the Adirondacks and Catskills without messing up the woods."

Much Time Needed

The commissioner said that Project Forest Preserve would in-

Asks Talks Start Now On Agenda

KhrushchevTurns Down Ike's Bid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, Britain and France called on Russia today to begin group diplomatic talks immediately on an agenda for a summit conference and on plans for a foreign ministers meeting.

May Back Away

Identical notes presented by the three Western powers to the Soviet government in Moscow were frankly designed to probe Russia's intentions toward a heads-of-government session. Officials here have found increasing evidence in recent Soviet moves that Premier Nikita Khrushchev may be backing away from a summit session because he cannot dictate its terms.

The latest of the Soviet maneuvers was disclosed last night when Moscow made public a Khrushchev letter to President Eisenhower on cessation of nuclear weapons tests.

Khrushchev rejected an Eisenhower proposal to resume disarmament negotiations with technical studies of arms control measures.

Still Studying Note

The White House said today Eisenhower is still studying the Kremlin note.

U. S. officials say the Soviets have shown unwillingness to be pinned down to practical East-West negotiations that would really solve problems.

Today's Western note to the Kremlin grew out of a suggestion made by Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko last Thursday and Friday.

At that time, the powers having agreed to hold pre-summit discussions, Gromyko called in the U. S., British and French ambassadors separately and suggested that the discussions be in a series of separate meetings between him and the three Western envoys.

Surprised at Proposals

In today's notes, the Western powers expressed surprise at the Gromyko proposal, called for joint four-power discussions at the diplomatic level and said the purpose would be not to reach decisions but to discover the possibilities of agreement at the summit.

"The three powers consider that, as a matter of practical procedure, the necessary preparations can be advanced more rapidly by joint meetings rather than by a series of separate interviews," Russia was told. "In this way unnecessary complications and delay would be avoided."

The Khrushchev letter received prompt attention from Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles yesterday. Press Secretary James Hagerty said it was a reply to a

World's Fair Orchestra To Play Kingston Concert

The American orchestra which has been invited to play at the Brussels World's Fair, the National Symphony Orchestra of Washington, D. C., has been chosen for one of three concerts in Kingston next winter. The orchestra with Howard Mitchell conducting will be presented for members of Community Concerts Association as part of the local group's 30th anniversary series. The committee hopes it will be the seventh consecutive oversubscribed season.

Roberta Peters, famous coloratura soprano of the Metropolitan Opera, TV and radio, also has been signed for the series. The third artist will be named at the close of the annual one-week membership drive, May 4 to 10.

For Members Only

Admission to all three concerts which are held at the Community Theatre, Broadway here, is by membership card only. Anyone may join the association simply by paying the annual dues before the close of the campaign, 5 p. m., Saturday, May 10. Memberships may be secured from workers now, or at headquarters in the Governor Clinton Hotel, the week of the drive. No single admissions are ever sold under the Community Concert organized audience plan.

Captains for the drive are meeting today at the home of Mrs. Bernard Forst, to obtain final instructions. Mrs. Forst and Mrs. Lloyd LeFever are co-chairmen of membership and may be contacted for further information.

100 Will Campaign

During the next few days about 100 workers will be receiving materials to conduct the campaign throughout Kingston, the county areas and Catskill mountain districts.

A listing of renewals was arranged again this year by a mailing campaign held earlier this spring. This move was necessary to determine the number of memberships still available for new members because the house was completely over-subscribed last year. Members may still renew with their workers.

Officers for Year

A first report on the drive will be given Sunday afternoon, May

Saugerties Shopper Poll Seeks Better Facilities

Saugerties Shoppers. in an opinion survey released today, indicate they feel a number of improvements could be made to retail facilities in the Saugerties business district. Among these are better parking, store modernization and an expansion of the variety, quality and sizes available in apparel and other stores.

These are some of the results of the survey of shopper opinion in Saugerties conducted last fall by Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the State Department of Commerce, and announced Wednesday night at a meeting of the Saugerties businessmen at Schoentag's Hotel, Route 9W, Saugerties.

The report showed that 70.9 per cent of those canvassed found newspaper advertising the most helpful media for shopping information.

The Freeman was among the local papers listed high in preference among Saugerties shoppers.

Representing State Commerce Commissioner Edward T. Dickinson were Robert E. Barron, senior business consultant, and W. Dale Swartzmiller, regional supervisor for the Mid-Hudson area, with offices in Kingston.

Following Barron's comments with a slide projection of the survey, he showed color slides of large green lawns in back of stores and buildings between Main and Jane Streets which he suggested could solve the Main Street parking problem. He indicated that some concerted action by the Chamber could bring about full utilization of these properties available in back of the Main Street stores.

Newspaper Guild Gives 1958 Labor Award to George Yerry

An outstanding area labor leader has been chosen for the Kingston Newspaper Guild's 1958 Labor award, Guild president, Charles J. Tiano, announced today.

George E. Yerry Jr., business agent of the Kingston Metal Trades Council and president of the Carpenters Local Union 1175 for the past 17 years, will receive the Page One citation at the Guild's formal dinner-dance on May 3 at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Yerry will be honored along with distinguished personalities in the field of sports, radio-TV, journalism and community service. He receives the award which went to M. Michael Potoker of New York in 1956 and to Sam Doyle in 1957.

"George Yerry represents the highest type of labor leader," Tiano said. "His record as a labor figure over the past 17 years reveals a high sense of responsibility to the community and to the rank and file members of the many unions he serves."

Native of Ulster

A native of Woodland in Ulster County, Yerry joined the labor movement in 1941 when he

Both Ave, GOP Claim Credit For Big Boost in School Aid

ALBANY (AP) — Gov. Harriman and the Republicans were locked in an election-year struggle today over who should get the credit for a 53½-million-dollar boost in school aid.

The Democratic governor yesterday signed bills that will increase state aid by about 10 per cent in the school year beginning Sept. 1.

They were Republican bills. But Harriman carefully avoided any mention of the GOP authorship in a statement he issued with the key measure.

Instead, Harriman, who is seeking a second term, pointed out that state aid for education had climbed 77 per cent since he took office in 1955.

"I take great satisfaction," he said, "in approving this bill as another important step forward."

This brought a prompt and indignant reply from the Legislature's GOP leaders, Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck and Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney. Both have designs on the Republican nomination to oppose Harriman.

Said Mahoney and Heck in a joint statement:

"The new law was conceived by Republicans, drafted by Republi-

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — When television was born a dozen years ago there were two ways for a movie actress to look at it, says Anne Baxter.

"Either you got in on the ground floor or you decided to wait and see if it grew into something good. I waited, and I'm glad I did, for I feel it's improved greatly."

On GE Show

Although Miss Baxter is not up to her neck in the medium and certainly not over her pretty head in it, she definitely has dipped a small foot into television.

Next Sunday, for example, she will play a young lady of slightly tarnished brassiness in western stagecoach days on "G. E. Theater" (CBS-TV, 9 p. m.) "Stop-Over" is, in her own words, loads of fun:

"A stagecoach breaks down in a desolate part of the west where you roast by day and freeze at night.

"I'm forced to spend a couple of days with some good and simple people. In the course of our stay together I change them somewhat and they change me."

Good Script Essential

Miss Baxter took the assignment because she believed it was a fine script. A good script, she says, is essential if an actress would do a good job on the home screen.

"One bad exposure to the millions who make up the audience can do an actress inestimable harm. . .yes, it affects her films as much as future television shows. There is only one important investment an actress can make. That is in the role she is playing at the moment."

Rejects 80 Scripts

Before Miss Baxter made her television debut on "G. E. Theater" a couple of years ago she read about 80 TV scripts over a long period of time — and turned down every one.

"To make a generalization about them," she said, "they either contained too much story or to little. Most of them were written by people who didn't understand the television medium because they felt superior to it."

But times have changed, she says and the scripts are improving. An example of a good script, she agreed with this department, was seen in her second TV appearance a few weeks ago when she starred in "The Right Hand Man" on "Playhouse 90" (CBS-TV).

Her future on the home screen? That depends on how she likes the scripts she reads.

As for the past and that menace of one bad show, she seems to have a point. If we hadn't enjoyed seeing her in "The Right Hand Man," we wouldn't be watching her Sunday in "Stop Over."

22 Area Riders Enjoy Ride Over Mohonk Trails

Horseback riders from the Kingston area and Marlboro gathered at High Falls last Sunday for a 15-mile trail ride along Lake Mohonks famed horse trails.

The ride, organized by Kiersted Ranch on Lucas Avenue Extension continued around the mountain trails overlooking the Hudson Valley and was climaxed with a picturesque view of the Mohonk Mountain House, the lake and gardens.

Despite rain, the spirits of the 22 riders were not dampened.

On the ride were Jake Post, Aulie Roosa, Bernerd Klinger, George Chipchase, Elmer Benson, Mr. and Mrs. Les Kiersted, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mayone, Mrs. Margaretha Deelwater, William and Jean Dichtelmiller, William Molinaro, Chris and Dawn Countryman, Susan Boyd, Stanley Sutton, Sam and Howard Quimby and Red Tressiosi.

Due to the enthusiasm shown by those attending the Sunday event, similar rides will be held in the future, it has been announced.

Palsy Center Has Two New Staffers

For the past few months, two new staff members have been busily fitting themselves into the activities at the Ulster County Cerebral Palsy Center, 400 Broadway. They are Mrs. Robert Mayers, physical therapist and Mrs. Armand Lamontagne, occupational therapist.

Mrs. Lamontagne, known to the children as "Miss Ginger" lives in Woodstock. Prior to her position here she was employed by the Day Care Center, Station B, Poughkeepsie. Mrs. Lamontagne holds a Bachelor of Science degree and certificate of occupational therapy from the University of New Hampshire.

Mrs. Lamontagne replaces Mrs. Jane Fountain who resigned in January to join her husband at McGuire Air Base.

Mrs. Robert Mayers, known to the children, as "Miss Marion" lives at 16½ Andrew Street and is a graduate of Ohio State University where she received her Bachelor of Science degree in physical therapy with a minor in psychology.

Mrs. Mayers temporarily replaces Miss Phyllis Bulgatz, who was awarded a state scholarship grant and is currently taking a nine-week course in graduate work at the Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York City. The course is an intensive study of all the latest developments and techniques used in working with cerebral palsy victims. "Miss Phyllis" will be back at the CP Center May 5.

Chiropractors Will Convene May 9 to 11

The annual three-day state convention of the Chiropractic Association of New York, Inc., will be held May 9, 10, and 11 at the Towers Hotel, Brooklyn.

More than 1,000 chiropractors from key areas throughout the state will attend the convention at which time strategy will be formulated for an all-out fight in the next session of the legislature for licensing and regulating chiropractors.

One of the highlights of the three-day convention will be the selection of "Miss Perfect Posture" on Friday morning, May 9, who will represent New York in an international posture competition in St. Louis in June.

Finalists from sectional elimination contests held during the past month throughout the state will compete in the state-wide finals.

C of C to Take Action On Cut of RR Service

WALLKILL — At the regular monthly meeting of the Wallkill Chamber held Monday, a lengthy discussion was held on the proposition of the New York Central Railroad to curtail the service, both freight and express, of the Wallkill Station. It was voted that the president would appoint a five-member committee to look into the situation, and to inquire how to protest legally the service curtailment proposed.

It also was announced that the Town of Shawangunk would appear on May 29 at the hearing to testify and would be represented by Frederick H. Stang. Mr. Stang will help prepare any individual protests for the hearing.

George Heitzmann announced that tickets would be out after May 1 for the annual chamber dinner to be held in the Wallkill Reformed Church Hall Wednesday evening, May 21. All the directors will serve on his committee. Harold Alsdorf was appointed program and entertainment chairman.

An invitation was read from the Legion Post inviting the Chamber to participate in the Memorial Day parade and exercises. A committee of Herbert DuBois and James B. Crowell was named to see Chamber members about the participation.

Local Unit Elects

The Wallkill Home Demonstration Unit met recently and held election of officers for the fiscal year. Elected were Mrs. Charles Stuhmer, chairman; Mrs. William Stuart, secretary, Mrs. George Brach, treasurer, and Mrs. Graham Burmeister, vice chairman.

Plans were also made for Home Achievement Week from April 28 to May 3. The Wallkill Unit will have a display of projects including huck towels, dried flower arrangements, community service projects in the window of the former Variety Store, Wallkill Avenue.

On May 2, the unit will hold a food sale at the Variety Store, and the proceeds will be used for the purchase of Christmas gifts for children in foster homes. Anyone may donate articles of food for the sale, or contributions toward the foster home gifts.

The next meeting held in May will be a garden series of films, and a flower exchange among the members of the unit.

Po'keepsie Man Is Named to New Local IBM Post

DONALD A. HARRISON

International Business Machines Corporation today announced the appointment of Donald A. Harrison, of Poughkeepsie, as advisory engineer in development engineering at the company's Military Products Division plant at Kingston.

Harrison joined IBM as a customer engineer in June, 1949 and worked at several California offices before his transfer to early SAGE computer development in June, 1954. During succeeding years Harrison was assigned to various equipment and program development projects and is currently working in development engineering's reliability group.

A veteran of six years service with the U. S. Navy, Harrison received his bachelor of electrical engineering degree from the University of Southern California.

Harrison, his wife, Mary, and sons, Ronald, 3, and Donald, Jr., 10, reside at Sherwood Drive, Poughkeepsie.

New Paltz
Nursery School Registration Is Set for Monday

Registration for children four years of age, whose parents are interested in nursery school education, will be held Monday, April 28, in Room 9, Campus School of the State University Teachers College, New Paltz, from 1 to 4 p. m.

Edward L. Klotzberger, Campus School principal, explained that the four-year-old children whose birthdays are before December 1 are considered for enrollment in the four-year-old group. Klotzberger further explained that enrolment will be limited in this group.

To facilitate registration, parents are asked to bring the children to be registered and they should bring the children's birth certificates.

Tests indicate that carpets absorb sound, reducing noise as much as 50 per cent.

Colonel Mario (Chick) Ciccone now stationed in Tullahoma, Tenn., is the first Air Force Life Master.

The Colonel's bidding is what you would expect from an airman. It is high, wide and handsome but when it comes to playing the dummy there is no flying blind in a fog.

East and West can make five clubs double dummy but West chose to double Chick at four spades.

The King of clubs was opened and after careful study the Colonel came up with a play that is the equal of anything Generous George ever perpetrated, under the guise of Christmas spirit. He let the king of clubs hold!

This brilliant play insured his contract against East's five trumps and four red cards. From this point on the defense was helpless. Nothing could keep the Colonel from making all his eight trumps on a cross ruff plus one diamond trick and the ace of clubs. Of course, Chick took the ace of clubs the next time the suit was played and used it to discard one diamond.

You readers can have a lot of fun working out the variations in play and defense to beat the hand if the Colonel makes the mistake of taking that first club trick.

Boyle Heads P-TA

TILLSON — Raymond Boyle, BM1, USN, was elected president of the Tillson Parent-Teachers Association for the coming term, at a recent meeting at Tillson School.

Other officers elected include Mrs. Robert Demarest, vice president; Mrs. Edward Parker, secretary and Mrs. Randolph Christensen, treasurer.

The trophy won by the Tillson School basketball team, champions in the elementary school league, was shown by Principal Ernest Hopper.

A three-act comedy, "Out of the Frying Pan," presented by the Spotlighters, will be sponsored by the P-TA Friday and Saturday, May 2 and 3, at the Tillson School Auditorium, starting at 8:15 p. m.

Get Acquainted Social

TILLSON—The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Tillson Volunteer Fire Company will hold a "get acquainted" social Wednesday, April 30, at the Tillson Firehall, starting at 10 a. m. Refreshments will be served at noon. During the day, various social games will be played and members introduced to new arrivals, at the informal gathering.

Chinese Experiment

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Fifteen sixth graders at Patrick Henry school here are studying the Chinese language on an experimental basis. After a few lessons the children seem fascinated, says Mrs. Priscilla Humbert, teacher. She is the daughter of a Baptist missionary who lived in China 15 years. Principal Malcolm U. Pitt, Jr., says the study of Chinese is being offered as a "language experience" rather than as a basic course.

PROBLEM OF DISPOSAL

Could any of us in the days of our youth have dreamed that the disposal of ashes could become a serious problem? Cleaning out the furnace or the cook stove wasn't the nicest job we knew, but after that chore was finished we just gathered the ashes together, carried them away and that was that!

Now along comes nuclear science to complicate things. Nuclear fission can be translated into electric power, but the process leaves behind waste products that are radioactive to the point where they could become a serious health hazard unless disposed of properly. A committee of the National Academy of Sciences has reported on its preliminary investigation of this problem, which is of great importance to everyone.

At present, most radioactive fission products are stored in tanks and disposed of in the deep recesses of the sea. That method obviously is not satisfactory when one considers that atomic waste must be isolated for centuries before it becomes harmless. During those centuries, the waste may escape its containers and pollute the oceans.

The committee has proposed that atomic "ashes" be placed in underground salt mines or pumped into porous subterranean limestone. If these disposal methods were used it would seem to place certain sections of our country at a disadvantage, as the committee suggests that "the location of nuclear power stations be made with an eye on the accessibility of disposal sites." With no intention of being facetious, we cannot help but remark on the oddity that the location of the power plant of the future may depend on its proximity to the "dump."

KHRUSHCHEV'S BOAST

Nikita Khrushchev attracted a lot of attention by bolding declaring that the United States was destined for second place in the race for world economic leadership. His assertion must be considered in perspective. Khrushchev is neither fanatical nor profound. He is a Communist bureaucrat, with second hand knowledge of the United States, who has given no evidence that he is especially versed in history or even in Marxism. He sees a Soviet victory because he apparently lacks the imagination to conceive of any alternative but his own.

He represents the relatively ignorant Communists who came to the top as a result of Stalin's victories and murders. Khrushchev is really a bargain for the West, a bargain in the sense that he is what we get after better and smarter men, men with moral courage, were slaughtered. Khrushchev is hard, energetic, cunning, tactically flexible and bold. But he has no vision, let alone a crystal ball. His prediction of victory is necessary because he can only be big and gain authority to match his power if he takes on something big—the U.S.A. He must take the line he does and boast as he does in order to lift himself above the gray mass of Kremlin bureaucrats and become a new leader.

Still, it would not be wise to ignore Khrushchev's grandiose claim. There is evidence that this country may not be making a sufficient effort to assure its own survival. It is not showing the leadership necessary in this hour of mankind's crisis. If history should prove the bald-headed Kremlin boss right, then history would never forgive Uncle Sam for letting a man like Khrushchev lick him. This great nation must make a more determined effort to prove, by deeds rather than words, that Khrushchev is wrong.

FOR HIRE: EVERYTHING

This is the day of the service trades. Put your money on the line and you can rent something you don't want to buy or get something done you can't do or don't want to do.

Many of the jobs mother used to perform around the house are done now by shops outside. The rest of the time she's running household machinery which usually has to be repaired by outside servicemen.

To supplement their labor-saving equipment, many people rent tools for use around the house, like sanders, drills, saws and floor polishers.

Things have got to the point even manufacturers rent tools and machinery, and then the buildings to put them in.

Nobody's figured out a way to rent food, but the retailers of fresh-baked and ready-cooked foods are doing fine.

Clothes, of course, are a service item from 'way back. Especially since America went casual and dress affairs became uncommon, the dress suit renters have done well.

If we're lucky, in another 10 years we'll be able to rent people to put the suits on and go to boring dinners in our place.

Money talks, but it seldom has to argue.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE SUN SITTERS

Sun worshippers are as old as there are people, but why anyone likes just sitting in the sun and getting a brown skin, is something hard for me, a room-sitter, quite to understand.

In the first place, it is impossible to read in the blinding sun of the Florida beaches. Of course, you might say: who needs to read when one can talk? But how is it possible to talk when all the women are talking? And some are singing, not musically, but just enough to make you turn around, so that you look. And when you look, what do you see? Just another woman who wants to be looked at. Why does she want to be looked at?

Alas! The years are fading. The figure has lost its form. The face might have been that of a sweet and kindly grandmother, perhaps like Whistler's "mother" but for the manipulations of the beauticians who insist upon taking years off a face by rubbing out all the kindly lines that make for character and gentleness.

And so one sits and the sun and and the wind color one a nut brown. The deeper the brown, the more the proof is that one has stayed at an expensive hotel at Miami Beach; that one has paid plenty a day not only for a room in a hotel but also for a cabana. It is a way of life that knows no depressions, no bad times, no worry because it povides status in certain circles.

In a country which has no aristocracy, how does not gain an acknowledged status? It used to be done, in the up-building era of our history, by working diligently, getting a good reputation, marrying properly and staying married properly and ending up either with money in the bank like Andrew Carnegie or by doing something outstanding like becoming president of such a university as Columbia or Harvard.

In these days, such slow processes of achieving anything are most trying. One takes, shortcuts, like getting a head-waiter to provide an important table, or getting one's name repeated often in a gossip column, or being seen on public occasions with the big shots or having the money to be seen out with a flashy gal—particularly one whose reputation is unusually notorious so that a gossip might say that Nellie Bly, or whatever her name is, grows more popular every day, having been given a zillion carat diamond by somebody's husband. On Monday night, she was seen with A; on Tuesday with B; and so on through the alphabet.

Among the poor, such folks are called B girls and they prowl the bars to find their men. In the upper classes, they often go by various European titles even if they originate in Philadelphia or Biloxi. The titles might be according to the Almanach de Gotha or according to Cholly Knickerbocker, but they are sacredly guarded lest the plain American stick out like an over-long slip. Apparently being just an American is not good enough in these bars where social position is determined by whether one sits in a chair or on a leather-covered bench in something that used to be called a booth, but now is called by a French name.

But to get back to the American Zoroastrians, who sit on the beach all day long to sun themselves until they look brown, I tried to figure their conversation and found it all gossip. There is no Sputnik; there is no recession; there are no Arabs; there is nothing to worry about but why Mrs. So-and-So cannot hold a husband.

It is a wonderful experience watching the sun worshippers chirping about each other day after day, hour after hour. Perhaps gossip has its value and its pleasures but it can become a repetitious bore. Who knows anyone well enough to know why one sits in loneliness to take the sun and then listens to petty gossip which when repeated never sounds even remotely clever? The answer may be that those who have not found a useful life must find some kind of life, even if it is only to ask, did you hear that Mrs. So-and-So can't get a divorce because they really were never married? What tragic jokes we humans play on ourselves!

Face It Men: You're Last in Mind When Gals Buy Clothes

"Women don't really dress to please men, do they?" said the young man in the tone of voice he might have used when he first asked, "There isn't really a Santa Claus, is there?"

And, like his Mama who once had to admit to him, "No, there really isn't a Santa Claus," I had to say, "No, women don't dress to please men."

We don't, of course. Oh, once in a while we'll buy a blue dress (if blue happens to be "good" that season) because our man like blue. Or we'll take back a hat he thinks is outlandish (if we are a bit doubtful about it ourselves).

But, on the whole, we don't dress to please men. Occasionally, we dress to please ourselves. We see a dress we just can't resist because the gossamer feel of the chiffon, or the heavenly color, or the beautiful workmanship appeals to our love of beauty.

We think we can't possibly live without this dress and we get it, even though we may feel guilty at paying the price.

SUDDEN FANCY IS RARE

But this falling in love with a dress or hat doesn't happen very often. Most women can count on one hand the dresses they have had that they really loved.

Most often, other values guide us when we go shopping for clothes. We have to have the right outfit for a certain occasion. By that we mean we must have something that the other women present will consider to be right. Then we are buying approval.

Or our ego is at a low ebb and we need to buy something that will bring forth compliments from our women friends. Then we are buying admiration.

Or we look at our clothes, all suddenly outdated by a whole new style trend, and we are ashamed to wear cloths so obviously out of style. So we buy the new, whether we like it or not. Then we are buying conformity.

However deflating it is to men's ego to face the fact that women don't dress for men as they pretend they do, it's the plain truth. There ain't no Santa Claus.

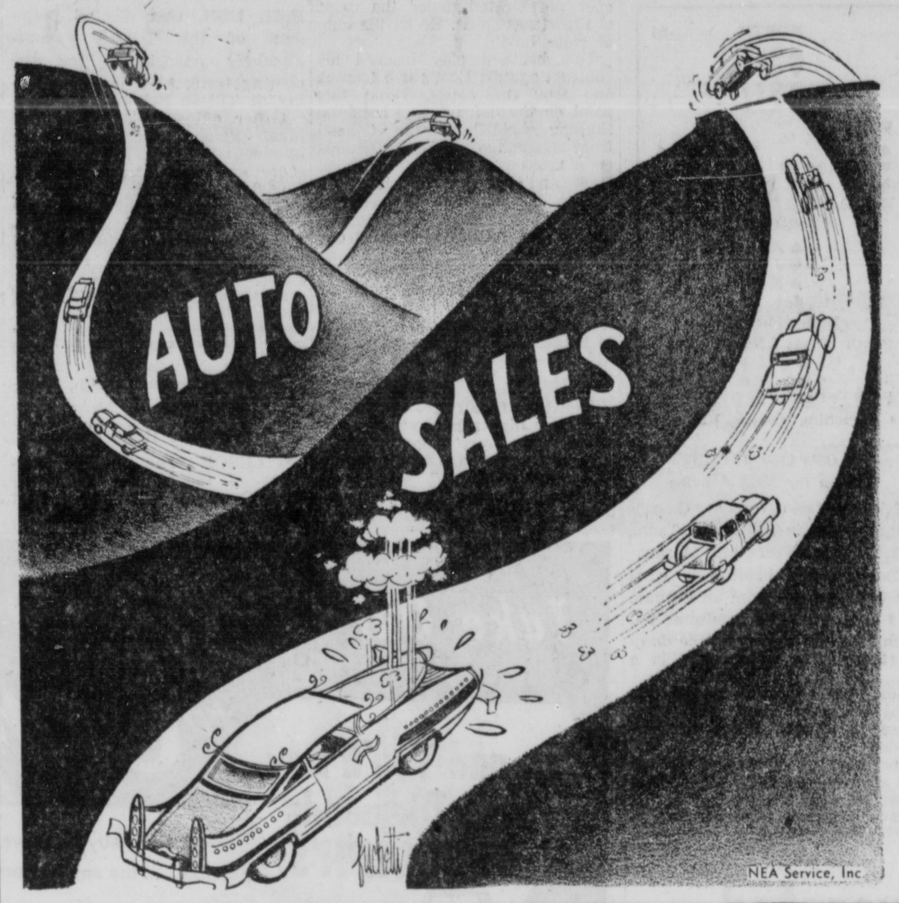
The Little Ones Don't Seem to Mind the Hills



Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Most important new job created in President Eisenhower's proposed Department of Defense reorganization bill would be that of "Director of Defense Research and Engineering." It would be raised to the status of the present secretaries of Army, Navy and Air Force.

This would put the new man on the third level of the Pentagon layer cake, just below Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy—to whom he would report directly—and Deputy Secretary of Defense Donald Quarles.

It is notable that the new job carries the title of "director." This is taken to mean "boss."

The job would replace that of assistant secretary of defense for engineering and research. It is now held by Dr. Paul Darwin Foote, 70, a retired vice president of Gulf Oil.

Dr. Foote is now one of eight assistant secretaries of defense who have limited authority. The new bill cuts the number to seven.

WHAT THIS TOP JOB shift emphasizes is the increasing importance attached to military research and development.

One other way to gauge it is budgetwise. Five years ago, total appropriations for R. and D., as it's called, was a billion dollars. This year it is 1.8 billion and for next year 2.25 billion have been asked. With unexpected carryovers, R. and D. is now a five-billion-dollar annual operation.

In his last press conference, President Eisenhower said he thought all research money should be appropriated to the secretary of defense. This would enable him "to put all those very, very expensive programs where they could best be carried out by the several services."

This was what the famous Rockefeller committee report of last January recommended.

But it does not seem to be provided for in President Eisenhower's new draft legislation.

THIS BILL WOULD MAKE the new director of research principal adviser to secretary of defense. It would authorize him to "supervize" all research. It would let him "direct" all research the secretary deems to require centralized management.

But these powers would not let the new director of research run all Army, Navy and Air Force research projects. Only those that crossed service lines would have direct appropriation to Department of Defense.

What is apparent here is that the administration is hesitant to make the full jump to centralized Department of Defense control this year. It could be proposed in the 1960 budget, presented next January.

The division of research funds this year is Army, 471 million dollars; Navy, 641 million; Air Force, 719 million; Department of Defense, 425 million—the smallest of the lot.

This cautious approach to greater coordination in all U. S. defense efforts typifies the purpose of the new Pentagon reorganization plan. The big idea is to get ready to fight a missile war.

CURIOUSLY ENOUGH, HOWEVER, this meets the same objections that have been raised ever since the late Gen. Leonard Wood first proposed an Army chief of staff back in the 1900's. There is an inherent fear of creating an American "man on horseback"—in this case the secretary of defense—with so much authority that he might seize power.

On top of this there is strong congressional opposition to any surrender of its powers to appropriate money for the separate armed forces. Service rivalries stir up this feeling.

President Eisenhower's proposed legislation falls short in many respects of the eight major recommendations in the Rockefeller report.

But the President's bill goes much farther than the congressional bill on Pentagon reorganization introduced by Rep. Carl Vinson (D-Ga.), Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) and others.

This latter bill would cut the office of secretary of defense from 1,600 to 600 employes and reserve for Congress the right to prescribe roles of the armed services.

The coming fight in Congress will be drawn along these lines.

West, Pledged Not to Strike First Blow, Facing Dilemma

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — There's a bit of mystery as to just why the Soviets went to the United Nations Security Council to spread a propaganda which blames America for keeping bombers constantly in the air as a precaution against possible attack. The withdrawal of the topic from the council by the Russians for the time being does not by any means end the debate.

Back of the latest episode is a highly interesting story of changes in Soviet military strategy. Up to March, 1955, it was largely defensive and based on the use of conventional forces. Since that date, however, the Soviet military journals have been proclaiming what has been called "pre-emptive war." This is to be differentiated from "preventive war," by which is meant the old doctrine that one power must attack the other long before it becomes militarily strong enough to inflict defeat.

Article Quoted

An interesting article on the Soviet strategy appeared in the January, 1956, issue of "Foreign Affairs," published quarterly by the Council on Foreign Relations of New York City. In that article Herbert S. Dinerstein, who is on the staff of a non-profit organization that conducts research for the United States Air Force, wrote:

"The strategy of fighting a pre-emptive war—getting in the first blow against the opponent poised to strike—as advocated by Gen. Rotmistroy and officially adopted in 1955, is essentially a strategy of the second-best. For under these conditions, it is the opponent who chooses war; the Soviet Union simply makes the best of it in seeking by earlier action to blunt the opponent's first blow.

Norstad's View

"As long as the Soviet Union has no hope, in the first strike, of hitting the opponent's striking forces effectively enough to preclude retaliation, the initiation of war is an act of extreme desperation. If the Soviet Union could create a weapons system permitting the elimination of our striking force without fear of effective retaliation, the Soviet leaders could attack if and when they pleased."

Since that time America has adapted her own strategy to the new circumstances. Gen. Norstad, the top commander of NATO, said on Dec. 13, 1957:

"As we go along and add missile launchers there will be increasing thousands of places an aggressor would have to destroy in one blow. No aggressor can do this. It is impossible. The retaliatory capability of our Western forces could not be destroyed by simultaneous surprise attack either now or in the future."

'First Blow' Dilemma

This, however, requires constant alertness by the Strategic Air Command of the United States and the similar command in NATO. The "first blow" dilemma is described by Secretary of Defense McElroy in a copyrighted interview this week in "U. S. News & World Report" when he says:

"The thing which makes our problem more difficult than his (the enemy's) is that we are committed not to strike the first blow. Under those circumstances, for the fellow that will make up his mind only after he sees these weapons coming in his direction, the cost of defense preparation is considerably increased because of the necessity of much more rapid reaction to an actual strike than if he were doing the striking himself."

The Secretary was asked about meeting the "first blow" of the enemy, and replied:

"Of course, what we have to do is to observe it far enough out so that we will have our forces in the air on the way to deliver our own destructive counterblow to him. . . . We don't think that we can stop all of them, so we assume that some of them will get through. We haven't, of course, at the present time any anti-ballistic missile capability, so that if he (the enemy) had them—the long-range missiles—today they would get through. But he doesn't have the quantities of missiles he would require to deliver such a blow to this country."

Destruction Inevitable

The Secretary thereupon was asked: "Then do we accept destruction, really—before we do anything?"

Mr. McElroy's reply was: "No, we are not accepting destruction before we do anything. We are accepting destruction of some order as inevitable, but we will be on the way to deliver our own destruction to him. We must be on our way with either missiles or aircraft. A combination of the two is probably what will be involved."

The mere mention of these highly delicate points emphasizes why a disarmament agreement has become almost compulsory. The Soviets may have unwittingly brought to a head the very problem that has to be solved if the peoples of the world are to avoid a terrible war. This can be done only if peoples everywhere insist on an ironclad system of inspection such as the Soviets are stubbornly refusing to accept. But, in refusing, the Kremlin leaders become the "warmongers" of the era.

Need Extra Money? Make Something People Can Use

BY MARIE DAERR

..."If you want to be popular—and even earn some money—don't crochet potholders," a sociologist told a group of senior citizens.

"Anybody can make potholders. And most people already have a couple dozen more than they need.

"Do something, or make something, that's different. You'll find the world beating a path to your door."

That's good advice for any age. It's particularly good for some one who is 60 or 70 or even 80.

One 80-year-old, for instance, hasn't time to be lonely. She used to be a seamstress. Her eyesight is still good. These days she's busy putting in zippers, turning up hems and doing other fussy sewing jobs her younger neighbors don't have time for.

She's so busy she never thinks about herself. She doesn't long for company. Her doorbell is always ringing. And she's earning the extra dollars anyone can use.

A retired accountant learned a relaxing hobby in his working days: caning chairs. Now that he is home all day, his hobby is still relaxing him—and earning him money, too.

You'd be surprised how many people want a new seat for Aunt Emma's old rocker. In fact, business is so brisk this senior citizen has to turn customers away.

A former salesman always liked to take a watch or an alarm clock apart. He's doing that now, in his home, for people who need a repair job on a timepiece.

An older woman who can't walk, but whose fingers and brain are nimble, designs and makes unusual stuffed toys. Her specialty is a baby carriage ball, which a craft shop is happy to sell for her.

So, if you want to make friends—and money, too—remember, no potholders!

Q—I live in a small town. How do I go about organizing a golden age club?—J. W.

A—Get together a few potential members and set them to knocking on doors to find more. When you have a sizable group, go to your pastor, your YMCA or your service clubs and ask for meeting space. Then you're on your way.

Q—When applying for Social Security benefits, what is the best document for proof of age? —W. A.

A—A birth certificate. Lacking that, these are accepted in this order: baptismal certificate; hospital birth record; notarized family Bible record; school, naturalization, immigration, military, passport or vaccination record. Insurance policies and marriage records may be used, if they show date of birth or age.

So They Say..

The court, as distinguished from Justice Frank the fan, must find that the plaintiff's contentions, while sentimentally four-baggers, are legally outs.
—New York State Supreme Court Justice Harry B. Frank, ruling against N. Y. Giants' stockholder questioning legality of the team's move to San Francisco.

If the Russians have Siberia filled with political prisoners, the moon might be a good place for them to expand.
—Dr. Seth B. Nicholson, astronomer with Mt. Wilson and Mt. Palomar observatories, who does not think trip to moon is worth the cost.

Questions -- Answers

Q—Who composed the opera in which John Howard Payne's "Home, Sweet Home" first appeared?

A—The song formed a part of "Clari," an opera first produced in 1823 at Covent Garden Theatre in London.

Q—Are all camels dromedaries?

A—No, only the one-humped variety.

Q—Has the battleship Arizona, sunk at Pearl Harbor, been raised?

A—No, the Arizona, upside down on the bottom, still entombs many of the U. S. Navy men killed when the Japanese attacked the fleet base in 1941.

A—Department of Commerce.

Stunning Cold

BLOOMFIELD, N. J (AP) — Winter took the sting out of millions of bees in hives across the state. Paul Schindler, a beekeeper, said the extreme prolonged cold paralyzed the bees. Millions starved to death in hives when they were unable to reach honey, only inches away.

Doggie Delinquency

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Dogs with a yen to wander in suburban Whitefish Bay are advised to watch their step—they may end up with a police record. From now on, dogs (through their masters, of course) will be fined $5 for a first offense, $10 for a second offense and $15 for each one after that. But if there's no delinquency after two years, the pooch's slate is wiped clean.

World Briefs

LENDINARA, Italy (AP) — Mimi Rosetto, regent Gypsy queen of central Europe and the Near East, died today in her tent, surrounded by the elders of her tribe.

Three days ago the 56-year-old Mimi stopped responding to antibiotic treatment for a kidney ailment.

She queened the Gypsies of Hungarian origin. They are members of 15 tribes, but a census of her subjects would be impossible since many of them are behind the Iron Curtain.

Her kingdom spread over most of central Europe and the Near East and she was considered the most famous of Gypsy rulers.

PARIS (AP) — Gen. Maurice Gamelin, Allied commander in chief in the early days of World War II, was buried today after a private funeral. Gamelin died last Friday at the age of 85 after a long illness.

CAIRO (AP) — Iraq today was reported to have asked the removal of an Egyptian social affairs expert assigned by the United Nations to Baghdad.

The newspaper Al Ahram said the Baghdad government charged the U.N. official, Dr. Salah el Abd, had been engaging in political activities on behalf of the United Arab republic.

The U.A.R. is the rival in the Arab world of the Arab federation of Iraq and Jordan.

TUNIS (AP) — Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba retreated today on his latest ultimatum to the French. He said he would not take his quarrel with France back to the U. N. Security Council.

Bourguiba in his weekly broadcast to his people last Thursday had given the French a week to form a new government which would accept the compromise proposed by the U.S.-British good offices mission and accepted by Tunisia. He said otherwise he would go back to the Council.

"Contrary to what I said last week, we will not return to the U. N. on our complaint concerning our differences with France."

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — An Iranian air force plane carrying three American officers and one Iranian was reported missing today on a mapping mission. Twenty planes began a widespread search of a vast desert area. The U. S. embassy declined to release the names of the Americans.

PARIS (AP) — The French Foreign Ministry said today Egyptian reports of an agreement between Egypt and the old Suez Canal Co. are without any foundation.

"A new meeting between Egypt, World Bank representatives and the Suez Canal Co. has been proposed to the Egyptian government, which has not yet answered," a ministry spokesman told reporters.

Despite the denials, Egyptian officials stood by their report of Wednesday that the company's owners and Egypt had agreed on a formula for settlement.

Settlement of the dispute would help toward restoring normal relations between Egypt and the West. They broke down after Egypt's President Nasser nationalized the canal in 1956.

Denies Troopers Must Fill Quota Of 30-Day Arrests

ALBANY (AP)—State troopers are under continual pressure to arrest traffic violators—but they do not have to fill a monthly quota, a police official maintains.

Capt. Robert V. Annett, the division's traffic chief and head of the Thruway detail, spoke out yesterday after The Albany Knickerbocker News said several state troopers had been restricted to barracks for failing to meet a monthly arrest quota on the superhighway.

The newspaper said Thruway troopers on night patrol were required to make 15 arrests a month and day patrols 35 to 40. If they fall short, the paper said, they are ordered back to headquarters and may lose from two to four nights off.

"We want our troopers on the road to look for violations, of course, and to make arrests for such violations," Annett said.

"If you want to call that an arrest quota, go ahead, but there is no actual quota assigned any man in the state police organization. . . . We do, however, want him to do his job."

If any one man or group of men are now making arrests in a particular area, Annett said, and traffic accidents in the area are high, "then we know that man is not doing his job properly."

"All police departments in the country," he said, "are under pressure from national and state safety organizations for increased activity in traffic law enforcement to cut down accidents and highway fatalities. It's proven in public records that as traffic law enforcement increases accidents decrease."

ROSENDALE NEWS

Democratic Club Meets

The regular monthly meeting of the Rosendale Democratic Club, Inc. was held Monday at the Rosendale Grange Hall, Main Street. Vice President Arthur O'Leary presided at the meeting in the absence of President John J. Foley.

The by-laws of the club were read and amendments will be considered at the next meeting. The appointment of three members as a board of directors of the club is also being considered as specified in the by-laws. A donation of $5 was approved for the Babe Ruth League and $5 for the Little League. Mrs. Bernice Mushlit was acting secretary at the meeting as Secretary Frances McKeown is attending a three-day Democratic Women's Conference at the Sheraton Park Hotel, Washington, D. C.

Howard Mansfield of Tillson gave a talk in regard to matters that have recently taken place in this vicinity pertaining to education.

The club also reported that young Democrats will hold a regional meeting at the Capri Restaurant, Port Ewen, Saturday, April 26, starting at 10 a. m. At 10:45 a. m., Mayor Edwin Radel of Kingston, will welcome the young Democrats. Many prominent Democratic speakers will be present. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 p. m. Young Democrats may contact Frank Koenig, secretary to Mayor Radel, for reservations.

The next meeting of the Rosendale Democratic Club, Inc., will be held at the Grange Hall 8 p. m. Monday, May 19. A nominating committee will be appointed then to prepare a slate for election of officers in June.

Refreshments for the next meeting will be served by hostesses Mrs. Walter D. Born, Mrs. M. J. Coddington, both of Tillson and Mrs. A. B. Einemann of Rosendale.

Play to Be Presented

"O'Hara San," a play by Edith M. Barrows and Edward Johnson will be presented Friday, May 16 at 8 p. m. at the St. Peter's School Hall Kingston, for the benefit of the Rosendale St. Peter's School. This benefit performance is being held in Kingston this year, due to better facilities there.

Mrs. Arthur O'Leary is chairman in charge of the affair, and will be assisted by co-chairmen Mrs. Clinton Mushlit.

The program will be in charge of Albert Morrelli, F. Yonetti, Mrs. Mildred Helmich, Mrs. Cyril Tegeler and Mrs. John Schultz.

The ticket committee will be Mrs. Arthur Mulligan, Mr. and Mrs. Everett White, Miss Florence Buckley, Mrs. Vincent Steeley, Mrs. Charles Salerno, Mrs. John O'Sullivan and Mrs. John Banach.

Mrs. Peter Mathews is handling the publicity, and transportation to Kingston for the benefit performance will be taken care of by Arthur Mulligan and Mrs. Charles Chapman. Those interested in transportation may contact either of them for details.

Rosary Society Meets

The regular monthly Communion Sunday of St. Peter's Rosary Society of Rosendale was observed Sunday at the 9 a. m. Mass. President Catherine A. O'Leary presided at the regular monthly meeting of the society which was held immediately after the Mass at St. Peter's School Hall.

A letter addressed to the Rosary Society by the newly ordained priest of Rosendale, Father Jude Duffy, OFM, Cap., was read by the president. The Rev. Vincent de Paul Mulry, spiritual director of the society, opened the meeting with a prayer.

The afghan committee chairman, Mrs. Johanna Antony of Tillson, gave a report and asked that returns be made to her or to the rectory as soon as possible.

A tentative date of Saturday, October 4, was set aside by the society for a bus trip to the Shrine of Our Lady of Martyrs, Auriesville.

The food sale of the Rosary Society will take place on the church grounds Saturday, May 31, starting at 11 a. m. Donations of food from parishioners will be accepted as proceeds from the sale will be used for St. Peter's Altar. Mrs. Stephen Reposky of Lawrenceville is chairman of the food sale.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Ida Lippert of Rosendale and Mrs. Joseph Oehrlein of Tillson. Refreshments were served by Miss Karen Hansen, Miss Evelyn Hansen and Miss Elizabeth Hansen of Lyonsville. As May is the month of the Blessed Mother, the members decided it would be fitting to observe a Mother and Daughter Communion Sunday, May 18, at the 9 a. m. Mass, to be followed by the regular monthly meeting at the school hall. Refreshments will be served.

GOING TO BRUSSELS — Irving Geist stands beside full-length portrait of President Eisenhower in the New York apartment of artist Thomas E. Stephens. Geist, a real estate man, bought the painting from Stephens and will lend it to the United States for display at the Brussels Worlds Fair. Geist will personally deliver the painting to the U.S. pavilion in Brussels.

NEW CANCER CLUE?—Dr. S. E. Luria, University of Illinois virus expert, proposes a new theory as to the origin of cancer: a cancer-causing virus becomes a gene, one of the factors of heredity. The "misinformation" bred right into the cell is perpetuated and cancer eventually results. Experiments at California Institute of Technology give tentative confirmation to the supposition.

Old New Testament

BOSTON (AP)—A rare New Testament manuscript, dating back at least to the 10th Century, has been given to Boston University's School of Theology by Greek Orthodox Archbishop Makarios of Cyprus. Authorities said it may be among the best of some 4,000 known Greek manuscripts of the New Testament.

Along Capitol Corridors

By CHARLES DUMAS

ALBANY (AP) — Somewhere deep in the inner sanctum of the executive chamber there lurks an assassin—a man bent on murdering the King's English.

Disguised in a grey flannel suit, he toils undetected in a realm where just plain old Ivy Leaguers fetch coffee for Rhodes scholars and Phi Beta Kappas.

Smuggled From D.C.

He carries secreted on his person a deadly weapon; a manual entitled "Governmentese Made Easy." It was smuggled in from Washington.

The signs of his furtive labors are manifest in the hundreds of messages the governor issues with the bills he signs or vetoes after the legislative session.

Here you see the viciously split infinitive, there the cruelly dangling participle, now the pitifully fragmented sentence. All this he does in the name of Averell Harriman.

The Education Department, panic stricken, has bolted its doors. Capitol reporters sent out an emergency call to the Pentagon for an interpreter.

Expert's First Report

Now we have our expert's first report. These are the passages he translated:

Governor—"Other objectionable features of the bill do not require detailed consideration inasmuch as they pinpoint factors which are incapable of statutory application."

Translation—Any fool can see this is illegal.

Translation Sample

Governor — "Although lending strong support to the policy established by this bill, the comptroller recommends disapproval because of unworkable fiscal procedures contained in this bill."

Translation — The comptroller likes the idea but not the bill.

Our interpreter is bogged down on these next passages. Can you help?

"This bill is fatally defective. It omits the portion of the section which would have been deleted had Assembly introductory number 1811 been enacted into law. That bill however was not passed by the Legislature."

"He has satisfied me that the proposal, while costly, is not feasible."

"The State Civil Service Commission has advised me that the bill before me is 'unnecessary and furthermore undesirable since it would result in some confusion.' The bill which I have approved accomplishes the same objective more appropriately."

Ah, Romance

NEW YORK (AP)—Romance is making the restaurant business rough for Harry Bloomfield.

The woe is the matrimonial allure for men guests of the Hawaiian wahinis (girls) who have been installed as the restaurant's hostesses.

Bloomfield's restaurant, the Luau 400, opened only recently, but three of the original seven girls have already departed for wedlock, two more are altar-bound, and another was kept on the job only after the harried host found her husband an assignment in the dining room.

"I never thought marriage would be one of my biggest operating problems," says Bloom-

Four Ulster Firms Get Awards In 12-Week Safety Campaign

Four Ulster County industrial firms—one from Kingston—were named as single 100 per cent award winners in the 33rd annual state-wide accident prevention campaign of Associated Industries of New York State Inc., it was announced today. Two Kingston firms received certificates of achievement.

Single award winners are: Callanan Road Improvement Company, Plant 3, Kingston; Ulster Knife Company Inc., Ellenville; Hercules Powder Corp., Port Ewen and Ferroxcube Corporation of America, Saugerties.

International Business Machines Corp., Kingston plant and Pine Grove Manufacturing Company, Inc., received certificates of achievement.

Beacon Firm on Top

The Research Division of Texaco Research Center — The Texas Co., Beacon, was the grand award winner of the campaign of which the Mid-Hudson Industrial Association is a co-sponsor.

The Research Division of the Texaco Research Center worked a total of 186,388 hours without a lost time accident during the campaign conducted from January 5 to March 29 of this year.

Industrial safety established new records during the first quarter of this year. The number of accidents per million manhours worked dropped to 6.17, the lowest in 23 years. The best previous average was achieved in 1935 when participants in the association's state-wide industrial safety drive scored an accident frequency rate of 7.44. Last year's accident frequency rate was 7.66.

The highest accident frequency rate in the 33 year-old industrial safety spring was 22.4 scored in the 1928 campaign.

The 1,532 participants in this year's 12-week drive also set a new record for accident-free time of 99.955 per cent of the total of 207,180,064 man-hours worked. In last year's campaign 99.946 of the total time worked was accident-free.

To Be Honored at Dinner

Winners of the campaign will be honored in a series of 20 safety award banquets to be held throughout the state during May. The award dinner for the Poughkeepsie area winners will be held Monday, May 5, at the Nelson House, Poughkeepsie.

Award plaques and certificates will be presented at the banquet. In addition to the grand awards, special citations will be given for accident-free performance for five and 10 consecutive years as well as for accident-free and above average records in the campaign just ended.

The campaign open to all types of occupations, is supervised by a safety committee made up of 21 safety directors of various firms throughout the state. Poughkeepsie area members of the committee are Seymour B. Fleming, safety engineer of New York Trap Rock Corporation and G. Stuart Mansfield, director, employe benefits, Western Printing & Lithographing Co., Poughkeepsie.

Reuter Is Urged By Klein, O'Neil To Be Candidate

Two Kingston Democrats would have the state acting investigating commissioner seek the nomination for attorney general.

They are City Judge Aaron E. Klein and Francis J. O'Neil, a county supervisor from 1940 to 1945, representing the 13th Ward.

Judge Klein, in a letter dated yesterday, to Arthur L. Reuter urged him to actively seek the candidacy...as a result of sentiments expressed by numerous prominent persons of this community."

Reuter has been investigating irregularities in the Kingston Police Department and alleged kickbacks in road oil purchases by county officials.

Judge Klein wrote:

"It is felt that your elevation to such high office would give further assurance of the continuation of your inquiry into the subject of kickbacks and other related matters, as disclosed in the affidavit filed by you in the contempt proceedings now pending in the Supreme Court, New York County.

"You are, of course, uniquely qualified for this high position. Your record of accomplishment is an outstanding one."

"As a layman, O'Neil said, he endorsed Judge Klein's appraisal of Mr. Reuter's qualifications.

"I consider it a civic duty to encourage any qualified individual to seek the nomination for and election to any office for which he has the background and training . . . and the desire to administer to the best interests of the public."

Matter of FACT

Cork is the outer layer of bark of an evergreen oak tree growing mainly near the Mediterranean Sea. The bark is usually first stripped when the tree is about 15 to 20 years old. Nine years later another stripping is taken. Later strippings, made at intervals of 8 to 10 years for 150 years, are of a finer quality than the first two which are coarse and rough.

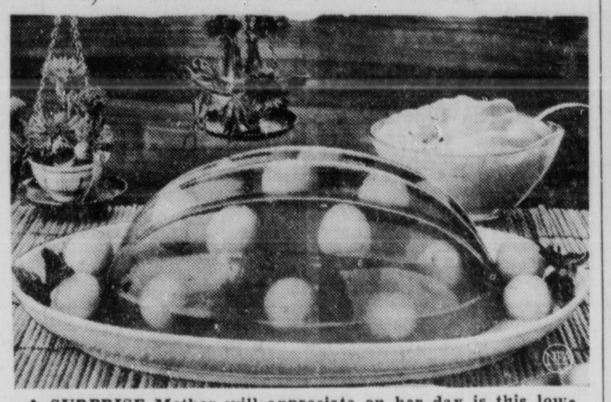
Mother's Day Surprise Is Sweet, Low-Calorie Dessert



A SURPRISE Mother will appreciate on her day is this low-calorie dessert, It's a melon mold with whipped mint topping.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Most modern mothers are weight conscious, realizing that excess pounds endanger health and make them less attractive. Therefore, a smart daughter will prepare a 100-calorie-a-serving dessert as a Mother's Day surprise.

She might also present her mother with the new book of 100-calorie-a-portion desserts, called "Unforbidden Sweets," by Poppy Cannon. It contains recipes for 150 desserts for people who crave sweets, yet want to keep their figures.

This recipe from "Unforbidden Sweets" is beautiful and refreshing and ideal for Mother's Day dinnner.

Chartreuse Melon Mold
(Makes about 4 servings).

One-half medium-size honeydew melon, 2 envelopes low-calorie lime gelatin, 1 cup hot water, ½ cup cold water, ⅛ teaspoon peppermint extract.

Scoop out melon balls with measuring spoon. Set shell aside. Dissolve low-calorie gelatin in hot water. Add cold water. Chill until slightly thickened. Then stir in melon balls. Spoon into melon shell or mold and chill until firm. Garnish with fresh fruit mint and extra melon balls. Top with low-calorie whipped topping.

Note: One-quarter cup green creme de menthe may be used to replace ¼ cup of the water and peppermint extract. Two cups frozen melon balls may be substituted for the half melon.

Whipped Mint Topping
(Makes about 2½ cups)

One-third cup cold water, 2 teaspoons lemon juice, ⅛ teaspoon peppermint extract; ⅓ cup instant nonfat dry milk powder, 4 teaspoons sugar, few drops green food coloring.

Combine water, lemon juice, peppermint extract and instant non-fat dry milk powder in deep bowl. Beat with rotary beater or electric mixer until stiff, about 8 minutes. Add food coloring. Gradually add sugar. Continue beating one minute or until blended. Chill before serving. Top garnish with sprig of mint, if desired.

Note: Calorie count—about 20 per ¼ cup serving.

Unique Offering

ALVA, Okla. (AP)—A farm couple who belong to the First Baptist Church in Alva, Okla., brought an unusual donation for the Sunday offering: a Sheland pony. The church decided to sell the pony and put the cash into the church coffers.

That Modern Generation

BALTIMORE (AP)—The morning after the northern lights lit up the evening sky, an elementary school teacher in suburban Rosedale asked the class if they had seen the Aurora Borealis. One boy replied: "I don't know. What channel was it on?"

Modena

MODENA—Modena Fire Department was called Saturday afternoon and evening, to the Peture Woods where grass fires threatened to spread to wooded sections.

The committee in charge of the card and games party held recently at the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall, sponsored by the Plattekill Democratic Club, labeled the affair a success.

The next regular meeting of the club is scheduled for Monday evening, May 12, 8 p. m. at the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall.

Miss Jane Fantini, a senior at the Wallkill Central High School, and Gilbert Smith, a junior, were among students attending the Wallkill School, from this locality whose names appeared on the honor roll.

Members of the Parents Club of Modena, invite and urge the public to attend the next meeting Thursday evening, May 8, at the school in Modena, when Mrs. Beulah Link, of New Paltz, will speak on India.

Members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Modena Methodist Church will serve refreshments and lunch at the Conklin public sale, north of Modena, on Route 32 ,Saturday.

The home of Mrs. Walter Lofink, Modena, was one of four visited by Miss Catherine Eichelberger, specialist from the Department of Housing and Design of the State College of Home Economic, Ithaca, in the interest of major decisions in selections of home furnishings and decorations.

A Word for Mass

NOTRE DAME, Ind. (AP)—Although man has been able to put satellites into space, the Rev. Frank Gartland, editor of the Catholic Boy, says the holy mass remains "the most marvelous victory which has been won over time and space." He said the mass is "the mystery of our redemption on Calvary daily renewed around the earth, circling it, uninterrupted for 19 centuries, from altar to altar over countless orbits of divine grace."

FOR YOUR WALLET—This is the Federal Civil Defense wallet card which has become one of the nation's most sought after pieces of literature. According to CD Administrator Leo A. Hoegh more than 12,751,000 orders for the card have poured into his office in recent weeks, following Hoegh's appearance on a nationally televised show in which he displayed the card. The front side of the card, left, reminds the individual to prepare a home shelter and an automobile evacuation kit, and lists five things to know and do. The other side, right, explains the public alert signals. Hoegh, who is amazed at the response, says, "No one will ever again convince me that people are apathetic about civil defense." The cards can be obtained by writing to FCDA National Headquarters in Battle Creek, Mich.

IBPOE Will Hold Dinner Saturday For Troy Leader

Past Exalted Rulers of Council 77, IBPOE are giving a testimonial dinner to honor Grand District Deputy Richard Cunningham of Troy, a member of the Upper Hudson and Capital Districts. The dinner will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel, Saturday at 8 p. m.

Brother Cunningham, who has worked tirelessly to build up the lodges in the district, has fostered a spirit of cooperation among all members. According to Grand Exalted Ruler Robert H. Johnson of Washington, D. C., "Grand District Deputy Cunningham has performed valiant service and is considered to be one of the hardest workers in the state of New York."

Johnson will be the guest speaker at the testimonial dinner. He will be accompanied by his wife. Also attending will be Grand Esteemed Leading Knight Harvey L. Harris of Philadelphia and State President Stanley J. Thomas of Rochester.

Music will be provided by the Noble Johnson Orchestra featuring the quintet with Noble Johnson at the organ.

Recession Proves Jobless Pay System Is Inadequate

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — What's an unemployment dole? While Democrats and Republicans argue about it, one thing is certain: The present unemployment pay system is inadequate.

This recession proves it. So does the agreement by Democrats and Republicans to do something about it. But what they propose is a temporary cure. The end result may be some permanent improvements in the system.

Labeled as 'Dole'

House Democrats have come up with a plan which would provide government money outright, a gift, to extend unemployment pay not only to the jobless people who've used what they're entitled to under state laws, but also to many never eligible under the present system. President Eisenhower yesterday called that a "dole...nothing else."

Under Eisenhower's own proposal to extend expired benefits, the money from the government would be a loan to the states, to be repaid in cash or higher taxes.

This country—which had lagged far behind Europe in providing some kind of pay for people who lost their jobs through no fault of their own — began its unemployment insurance system in 1935.

It works this way: Employers in all states—and employes, too, in a few states—are taxed. A fraction of the tax goes to the federal government. The rest goes into the individual states' funds.

Variesby States

The states then use their money to give weekly payments to workers who lose their jobs. The amount each unemployed worker gets, and how long he gets it, varies from state to state.

Repeatedly, before this recession hit, Eisenhower asked the states to provide unemployment pay for 39 weeks everywhere. He was ignored. About 43 million workers are covered by the system if they lose their jobs.

But millions of workers are not covered and therefore can draw no unemployment benefits if they lose their jobs. For example: farm workers, the self-employed, domestics, and employes of non-profit organizations.

Right now there are about 5,200,000 people out of jobs. Many thousands of them have exhausted all the unemployment pay due them. Perhaps as many as 2,100,000 more are not covered and are ineligible for unemployment pay. The Democratic plan would cover most of them too. Eisenhower's wouldn't.

Blind Are Only Beneficiaries of May 6 to 14 Sale

All merchandise offered for sale at the annual Kingston Sale of articles made by the blind is manufactured in the shops of the Albany Association of the Blind; and the blind are the only beneficiaries of the Kingston Sale, which is being held Tuesday, May 6, through Wednesday, May 14 at 641½ Broadway.

Church committees are conducting the sale, under the direction of the general chairman, Mrs. Harris Brown. The Lions Club of Kingston is sponsoring this sale.

Kingston area residents are asked to stop in at this sale of articles made by the blind, and give the blind a 'helping hand' by buying some of their merchandise.

Card Party Set at Zena Country Club Saturday

A public card party will be held Saturday starting at 8:15 p. m. at the Zena Country Club for the benefit of the Woodstock Fire Company No. 4.

John Holumzer has been named chairman of a carnival and bazaar to be held by the fire company at the Zena Firehouse August 1 and 2. Details will be announced later.

Woman's Prerogative

SUMMERVILLE, S. C. (AP)—Summerville's police force recently was ordered to begin "rigid enforcement" of an ordinance against parking near fire plugs. The weekly Summerville Scene reported the results: "It seems that a good many of the ladies have been ignoring the fire plugs and the law against parking within 10 feet of them. The police gave some of them tickets but they ignored these too."

War Threat Is Growing Daily, General Avers

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Curtis E. Lemay said today the threat of general war increases each day as the Soviet Union grows stronger.

But Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor said general war is less likely than limited wars because of the nuclear strength of both sides.

Taylor, Army chief of staff, and Lemay, Air Force vice chief of staff, prepared their remarks for the convention of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn.

"Where before they (the Russians) had no capability for general war," Lemay said, "today they have a nuclear stockpile, 25,000 operational aircraft, and a strong scientific and technical research and development program. The danger of general war is on the increase as these capabilities are moulded to fit their desire for world domination."

Lemay and Taylor differed on "mutual deterrence" — the idea that with each side able to destroy the other with nuclear weapons, neither will start a war.

"The Air Force believes in deterrence," Lemay said. "We do not, however, believe in the false security that derives from believing the myth of mutual deterrence."

Taylor expressed the view that "under such condition, we are probably justified in assuming that neither side would voluntarily start a general atomic war," but he added:

"It does not follow that the Soviet bloc will renounce other forms of aggression as a means of gaining their ends. It would rather suggest that they will prefer lesser forms of military activity pursued at an increased rate of occurrence."

K-R Span Shows Smallest Decline In Winter Travel

POUGHKEEPSIE (AP)—The hard winter caused a $30,000 recession in the state bridge business, officials reported today.

Traffic fell off nearly 10 per cent in the first quarter of this year, largely due to the more severe weather than in 1957's first quarter, the New York State Bridge Authority said.

Traffic over the four downstate bridges across the Hudson River fell from 1,465,000 in 1957 to 1,322,000 this year. Revenue slumped from $400,000 to $372,000.

The Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge had the least decrease, with the Rip Van Winkle bridge reporting the most and the Mid-Hudson and Bear Mountain bridges in the middle.

Fire Out of Control

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP) — A gas and oil-fed fire raged out of control today in the Esso Standard Oil Co.'s 25-million-gallon capacity storage plant on this port city's waterfront.

Eleven of the plant's 22 storage tanks have been destroyed. Officials appeared doubtful whether the others of the Hampton Road facility could be saved.

An explosion in the control shed of the 1½ million dollar plant shortly before 11 p. m. yesterday touched off the fire as the tanker Esso Newark unloaded at the plant's pier. Unofficial estimates placed the value of the stored petroleum products at several million dollars.

Loans Will Help Many

BUFFALO (AP) — Four to five thousand college students are expected to benefit during the next school year from state-backed educational loans.

The loan program was enacted by the Legislature in 1957. It is to be administered through the New York State Higher Education Assistance Corp., which was created by the 1957 legislation.

Ralph Peo of Buffalo, head of the new agency, said yesterday that it might guarantee as much as $30,000,000 in student loans in five years.

Peo, president of Houdaille Industries, Inc., of Buffalo, said arrangements had been completed with commercial banks belonging to the New York State Banking Assn.

Judge May Rule Today on Future Of Lana's Girl

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Movie star Lana Turner today is just a mother hoping for custody of her child.

The future of the actress' 14-year-old daughter Cheryl rests with a silver-haired judge presiding at a Juvenile Court hearing.

Cheryl has been held since her mother's lover Johnny Stompanato was fatally stabbed April 4 in the boudoir of the actress rented mansion. Police said Cheryl admitted plunging a kitchen knife into Stompanato's stomach when he threatened her mother.

A coroner's jury decided the slaying was justifiable homicide. However, this ruling is not binding on Superior Judge Allen T. Lynch, who sits each Thursday in Juvenile Court.

Among the 18 witnesses summoned were Cheryl, Lana and Steve Crane, second of Miss Turner's four husbands and Cheryl's father.

Cheryl could be sent home with her mother. Or Judge Lynch could place her in custody of her father or her maternal grandmother Mrs. Mildred Turner, or place her in a foster home or a state institution.

The judge could also order the girl tried as an adult for murder or manslaughter, but this is highly unlikely.

Tillson

Comedy Show Set For May 2 and 3

TILLSON — The Spotlighters, Inc., are holding final rehearsals for the play, "Out of the Frying Pan," which they will present for the benefit of the Tillson Parent-Teachers Association at the Tillson School Friday and Saturday, May 2 and 3. The comedy, in three acts, concerns a group of aspiring actors who endeavor to attract the attention of the director of a successful play who plans to put the show on the road. This group of actors want the job. The hilarious mix-ups that occur when the director finally gets to their place, and the results, are depicted in three fast-moving acts.

The play, being produced through special arrangements with the Samuel French company, is directed by Al Darnowsky of Woodstock. Those in the play include Robert Messner, Thomas DePuy, Walter Warren, Nathaniel Phillips, Walter Born, Frank Rowe Jr., Frank Chyzik, Helen Segelken, Mrs. Ernest Rossler, Barbara DeWitt, Joan Filkins and Helen Fox. Various members of the Spotlighters are acting as under-study's, make-up artists and stage hands. The scenery for the play is being constructed by the group, under the direction of Robert Messner.

Tickets are now on sale or may be purchased at the door. The play will start each evening at 8:15 p. m.

Indians Show in Court

NEW YORK (AP)—About 15 Indian chiefs and other tribesmen and women of the six New York Indian tribes of the Iroquois Confederacy descended today on the U.S. District Court to stop the State Power Authority from seizing their lands near Niagara Falls.

The Indians, one wearing full feathered headdress, listened to Federal Judge Sidney Sugarman and lawyers make arrangements for a hearing later in the day.

The Indians are seeking a preliminary injunction to stop the power authority from taking one-fifth of their 1,383 acre Tuscarora Reservation.

Ave Is Leaving $200 Million for Homes to Voters

ALBANY (AP) — Gov. Harriman today turned over to voters the question of whether New York State should go 200 million dollars deeper into debt to finance more housing programs.

The Democratic governor signed Republican bills to place individual proposals for two bond issues of 100 million each on the ballot at the Nov. 4 general election.

The governor had remaining on his desk today only 45 of the 1,303 bills passed by the 1958 Legislature.

He has until midnight tomorrow to dispose of the 45.

Must Act on 45

One of the proposed housing bond issues would be used to construct projects for the aged and other low-income groups on present sites of substandard or unsanitary housing. The second issue would authorize state loans to limited-profit corporations for construction of middle-income housing.

In action on bills yesterday, Harriman signed measures that:

Tighten state controls designed to protect buyers of health-insurance policies.

Authorize savings banks to lend mortgage money up to 90 per cent of the value of a house, provided the property is no more than two years old, to a maximum $25,000 for up to 30 years.

Appropriate $135,000 for the Conservation Department to launch its fish and wildlife management program, which includes provisions for paying land owners to open property for hunting and fishing.

GE Exemptions

Guarantee veterans the maximum benefit of tax exemptions on real property.

The governor vetoed bills that would have:

Created a temporary State Commission on Atomic Energy.

Provided $25,000 for establishment in the law department of a division of consumer frauds and protection.

Extended to all members of a local police department the 40-hour work week now in effect for patrolmen and some junior officers.

Created an authority to build and operate parking facilities in the State Capitol area in Albany.

Two City Youths Held in Virginia

Local police were notified last night that two Kingston youths, reported missing earlier in the week are being held in Virginia.

The reported indicated that they had made the trip in the car of Miss Rose Mary Feeney, of 49 West Chestnut Street, which was reported stolen between Sunday night and Monday morning.

The two reported missing are Ronald J. Demski, 18, of Abeel Street, and Jackie Ramsey, 16, of Colonial Gardens.

Police said the girl was being held at Richmond, Va., and young Demski was in the Hanover County Jail at Ashland, Va.

Arrangements were due to be made later today to bring them back here. Demski, police said, is wanted for violation of parole.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels and motors paced the stock market to a moderate advance in active dealings early this afternoon.

Leading issues rose fractions to more than a point. Aside from the favored industrial groups most gains of key stocks were small. Many were unchanged and there was an assortment of minus signs.

Amesican Motors and other low-priced stocks continued in demand but market leadership was taken away from them by the bigger issues.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 40 cents to $165.60 with the industrials up 60 cents, the rails up 20 cents and the utilities up 20 cents.

American Stock Exchange prices rose in moderate trading.

Damage Is Noted

Police were notified last night that the fence around the Hasbrouck Park tennis courts was knocked down, windows were broken in the field house, and a door panel was damaged. Another report yesterday said stones had been thrown and broke a window of a caboose on a Wallkill Valley train while it was near Wilbur Avenue, and a report in the early afternoon said garage windows had been broken on the Brown florist shop property, Clifton Avenue.

Bicyclist Hurt

Thomas Brisbois, 7, of 189½ Elmendorf Street, was injured yesterday when the bicycle on which he was riding became involved in a two-car collision on Elmendorf Street. The cars were driven by George Goldfarb, 43, of 575 Broadway, and Donald Otis, East Chester Street. The boy, who suffered injuries of the face, head, one foot and hip, was taken to Kingston Hospital in a Schultz ambulance.

Knowland Sees Coalition as Bloc To Labor Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) conceded today that what he called a coalition of Democrats and CIO-AFL leaders may be able to block his efforts to get Senate action on broad labor legislation at this time.

"But this is just the opening skirmish in this fight," he told newsmen." The Senate will have to face up to this issue several times this session."

Knowland has offered a series of general labor amendments to a bill for federal regulation of employe pension and welfare funds.

His statement to reporters, made as the Senate was talking up the bill, amounted to a commitment that, if licked this time, he would keep offering his amendments at every opportunity throughout the remainder of the session.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, said he will give his colleagues a chance to "show whether they want to do something about the abuses within the labor unions with which the country now is familiar."

Knowland's proposals, including requirements for secret ballots, are designed to give union members more control within their unions. They are generally opposed by labor leaders.

Causes Delay

His announced plan to offer them as amendments to a less controversial bill for regulation of employe welfare and pension funds caused a delay in consideration of that measure. But the Senate decided to go into early-and-late sessions to resolve the issue.

Knowland faced consolidated opposition from the Democratic leadership and Republicans who like to class themselves as liberals.

Sen. Ives (R-NY), one of the latter and a member of the Senate Labor Committee which approved the pending bill, said in a separate interview he believes at least a dozen Republican votes will be cast against Knowland's proposals.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, who has urged the Senate not to attach "crippling" amendments to the pending measure, obviously believed he could supply sufficient Democratic votes to the coalition to stop Knowland's drive.

Byrd Not Informed

There were reports some southern Democrats who usually favor restrictive labor legislation would go along with the effort to confine the bill strictly to the welfare-pension field. However, Sen. Byrd (D-Va) said he had heard of no such commitments.

The key provisions of Knowland's amendments would require secret ballots in union elections and in the ouster of union officials, as well as permit 15 per cent of the membership to force a vote on policy decisions and strike calls.

Ives said ordinarily he would favor the substance of about half of Knowland's proposals.

"But no hearings of any kind have been held on them and many of them are very controversial," Ives said. "They have no business on a bill which deals exclusively with pension and welfare funds."

The welfare-pension bill, sponsored by Sens. Ives, Kennedy (D-Mass) and Douglas (D-Ill), would provide federal regulation of all plans covering 100 or more employes, with criminal penalties for falsifying information for embezzlement of funds and for kickbacks to fund officers or employes.

Klein, Curran

munity by Assistant District Attorney John Larkin.

District Attorney Howard C. St. John requested an adjournment until April 14 so he might in turn request the information from the Governor which he said "apparently" had been made available to Judge Klein. The adjournment was granted.

All Decline Testimony

Later allegations of a possible leak in the Reuter testimony was made and Klein and Curran were subpoenaed before the grand jury for questioning in regard to any information they had in regard to disclosure of information from the Reuter report. Also subpoenaed were George Chenkin and David Greenberg, two of Reuter's investigators. All declined to testify.

Today District Attorney Howard C. St. John was notified that Judge Klein and Justice Curran were willing to appear since the Krom and Clark cases were disposed of and the client-attorney relationship no longer existed.

The letter to District Attorney St. John from Attorney John J. Schick, counsel for Klein and Curran is as follows:

"As you know, I have appeared as counsel for Aaron and Bill Curran in their recent appearance before the grand jury. You will recall, that at that time, Aaron was on the eve of trial in the Krom and Clarke cases and it was his feeling, shared by me, that the attorney-client relationship bound into secrecy as to all matters touching upon the trial of those cases. Accordingly, neither Aaron nor Bill felt that they were in a position to give the testimony you desired at that time.

"Now that both cases have been finally disposed of, that impediment no longer exists. If it is desired, they will be happy to reappear voluntarily at the convenience of the Grand Jury."

Ike Going South

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower plans to fly to Augusta, Ga., tomorrow for a long weekend of golf and rest.

Announcing this today, the White House said the President expects to return to Washington early Monday afternoon.

This will be Eisenhower's 20th visit to the Augusta National Golf Club since he was elected in 1952.

Saugerties Group Offers 'Mikado' Operetta Friday

Gilbert and Sullivan's "Mikado," or the Town of Titipu, will be presented Friday at 8 p. m. in Saugerties High School Auditorium by the music department of the school.

The two-act operetta includes a cast of nine with 24 in the chorus, five boys and 19 girls.

The cast includes Barry Shapiro as the Mikado; James Cousins as Nanki-Poo; Stanley Morse as Ko-Ko; Anthony Francello as Pooh-Bah; Joseph Scarselli as Pish-Tush; Barbara Lindhurst as Yum-Yum; Carol Garrison as Pitti-Sing; Beverly Mooers as Peep-Bo and Barbara Russell as Katisha.

Brophy, Sammons

rival of the others as Sammons concealed himself near the church.

Two of the others came along, and upon arriving at the car one said, "Oh, Oh, wrong car."

Held at Gunpoint

"Oh no, it's the right car," said Brophy holding them at gunpoint.

The fourth, apparently seeing or suspecting what was happening in the car, ran through yards in the uptown area and got away.

Held for their part in the stickup were Gerald Charles Schlesinger, 17, Marcus Sorgman, 16, and Joseph Harris, 16, all of Dorchester, Mass. Each has since been sentenced.

Ferrow Has Record

Police Chief Raymond Van-Buren today said that Ferrow has a record dating back to 1945. He was arrested in that year for juvenile delinquency. In 1949 he was held on a second degree grand larceny charge, in 1951 for disorderly conduct, and in the same year he was charged with being absent without leave from military service.

The laundry holdup was executed with two of the young men inside the laundry, one outside near the entrance, and one apparently behind the wheel of the car ready for the getaway.

Stalls Kalish

Edwin Kalish, vice president of the Kingston Laundry, Inc., had been out of the building, and upon his return was stopped in front of the building by the one who waited outside. He stalled Kalish by asking directions to a street, the name of which Kalish did not recognize.

District Attorney St. John said that as soon as information became definite it was submitted to a grand jury, which returned an indictment in January. The local detectives theorized early in the case that if they could find Ferrow they would have their man.

Police learned after the arrest of the three in November that shortly after the laundry stickup the four went to Saugerties to see a movie. They were caught when they returned to Kingston and left the car parked on Fair Street.

Trailed to Milford

The district attorney said that his office received a tipoff indicating that Ferrow was in Dorchester, Mass. Through trace of this it was finally found that he had gone to Milford, Conn.

The local detectives, and others in the local police department, were highly praised when the three were caught here shortly after the Nov. 14 robbery.

Big 3 Probes

letter from Eisenhower to Khrushchev of April 8 and that it did not contain "anything new."

Rejects Main Points

Later, acting on behalf of the White House, the State Department said that Khrushchev's letter "rejects the main point of the President's letter of April 8" in which Eisenhower had urged that Russia agree to technical disarmament studies covering control measures for both nuclear and conventional armaments.

Russia announced about a month ago that it was suspending nuclear weapons tests and Khrushchev sent official notice to Eisenhower on April 4. He asked the United States to follow suit. He reserved Russia's right to resume testing unless other powers—the United States and Britain—agreed to go along.

A Moscow broadcast of the new note said much the same thing and quoted it further:

"Now it depends only on the United States and Britain whether nuclear tests will be ended for all time or whether they will continue."

Israel 10th . . .

Jerusalem is the tomb of Theodor Herzl, 19th Century founder of the Zionist movement which laid the political foundations for Israel. The state was proclaimed May 14, 1948.

By the Israeli calendar the 10th anniversary falls tomorrow, but because the Jewish sabbath begins at sundown that day, the anniversary was moved forward to today.

A School Teacher Is Advised on Investment Of a $10,000 Legacy

ROGER E. SPEAR

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q—Miss J., Massachusetts, writes, "I am a school teacher nearing 60 who has no intention of retiring before 70 when I will get my maximum pension. No one is dependent on me but there are some nieces of whom I am fond and to whom I should like to leave a good remembrance. About $7,000 in savings banks, all told, should be enough to see me through most illnesses. An old aunt who was so tough I thought I would pre-decease her died and left me $10,000 which I have been handed in cash by the executors. I would value any suggestions about investing this mony. Some speculative risk wouldn't bother me a bit.

A—I judge from your letter that you are a fairly tough-mind person yourself, and I congratulate you. You seem to me to be the sort of investor who can embark on a common stock program during a bear market without lying awake nights if your shares sell off a few points. For there is, of course, no way of knowing just when this market will bottom out. Of this you can be sure, that you can buy some very fine stocks with a record of growth at what two to three years hence will almost certainly appear to have been attractive levels.

In your circumstanes I should unhesitatingly sacrifice income for growth. Ten or twenty years from now, when you are consiging your position, you should find that the value of your holdings has much more than kept pace with the continued devaluation of the dollar that inflation is likely to bring about. To give you a specific example of what I mean let's look back at 1946. A new car bought then for $2,000 would cost at least $4,000 today, so that your 1946 automobile dollar is now worth about 50 cents. But if you bought General Motors stock in 1946 you would find that even at its present relatively low level the stock has appreciated 200 per cent and your $1 in General Motors has become $3 today. What I would aim for in your circumstances would be to leave my nieces at least the equivalent of $10,000 in terms of today's purchasing power.

Some Growth Stocks To Accomplish Purpose

In the list that I suggest below the major speculative risk is in market fluctuation and for your purposes we are going to ignore this. I am going to include some stocks that are not yet blue chips but that I believe will work their way up into this category. First there is Air Reduction, a very specialized chemical issue. This company makes industrial gases, principally. Stock has shown a steadily rising trend since 1952 which has been temporarily interrupted by the present recession. There could be very rapid growth here from the increased emphasis on liquid oxygen, rare metals and missiles. You should certainly hold an electrical equipment stock and here I suggest Westinghouse. This has long been the number two company in the industry, and if you look closely in the next few years, you'll see the new management undertaking a terrific battle to overcome the leader, General Electric. Westinghouse is, off about 30 per cent from its 1955 high and should prove a very rewarding holding bought near present levels.

Texas Instruments Strong Favorite

You should hold one electronics stock and in this group my favorite is Texas Instruments. There is nothing depressed about the latter. It has sold recently at record high levels and with its strong position in transistors should do very well over a period of years. I would include Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing, makers of Scotch Tape among other items. This is one of the best management and research firms. The company has had a remarkable growth record. Stock sold at an adjusted price of less than a dollar in the bull market of 1929 and went above 100 in 1957. Down about 25% from its highs, I believe you would do very well with this stock in the years ahead. In the oil group, I would consider Amerada, a domestic crude producer with big reserves and long a favorite with institutional buyers. Finally, I think you should include an office equipment issue, in this group I like American Photocopy which makes equipment for the reproduction of letters and other printed or written material. This has been one of the best acting stocks in its group during a difficult period and should do even better under more favorable business conditions.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Received a note from Walt Riggins in which he writes: "The enclosed was sent to be by Mr. and Mrs. Daw Daley, former residents, now living in Bergenfield, N. J., and thought it might interest you." Years ago Walt and I worked in the same office. I have pleasant memories of that job and all those who worked there.

The item Walt enclosed is from the Bergen Evening Record of Wednesday, March 19, 1958, in illustrated feature story heading reading: "Historic New York Newspaper has been in family 158 years. Washington's Death, Napoleon's army strategies are recounted." It further states: "Today's newspaper is news; yesterday's is old, but one dated Jan. 4, 1800 is history." No doubt by now all the readers of this column have recognized our famous Ulster County Gazette, published by Samuel Freer and Son here in Kingston and the many copies which have been made of the Jan. 4, 1800, issue.

The two column wide picture shows Mrs. Mary Moshinski of 1146 Roosevelt Avenue, and her 14-year-old junior high school grandson reading and laughing over the items in the copy of the old newspaper. Mrs. Moshinskie says her copy has been in the family since it was purchased. She is a lifelong resident of Bergen County, and has had the Gazette since 1915, the year she married. She believes her husband's family passed it down through the family from the ancestor who purchased it in Ulster County 158 years ago.

The N. Y. Historical Society Library and Museum of American History at 170 Central Park West, 77th Street, New York City, is open to the public, admission free. Many of the exhibits link with the history of Kingston and Ulster County, as I notice from some of their press releases. They will now have a Stuyvesant family reunion in portraits by famous artists and others starting Wednesday, April 9. There will be some 22 oil paintings, also miniatures, silhouettes and photographs.

Peter Stuyvesant was closely linked with Kingston history as he laid out the stockade which became the uptown business section. Stuyvesant was the last director general of New Netherlands. His term ran from 1646 to 1664, when the English took over the colony of New Amsterdam and changed its name to New York. A colorful character, Stuyvesant lost his right leg in military service in 1644 while he was governor of Curacao, a Dutch possession in the Caribbean Sea. His wooden leg, which was decorated with silver bands, was often stamped by the Governor to punctuate his explosive conversation, according to legend. When the English took over the colony, Stuyvesant remained there, after a brief trip to Holland (1665-1668) to report on his stewardship, and lived in New York until the age of 80 as a respected community figure. There is an original painting in the Society's collection, by an unidentified artist. It was said, it was painted from life and dated by art experts in the 1660's. Several copies of this portrait were later made and owned by the family.

East Meets West

ELIZABETH, N. J. (AP)—Fred Campbell sits in his shop repairing saddles and making gun holsters for easterners on a Wyatt Earp kick. He's been doing it for 18 years—even gets orders for hand-tooled saddles which he sells for $175 or more. Children are his best customers for the "gun" holsters. Campbell operates a hardware store too, but they ain't a six-gun in stock, podnuh.

JUNK-YARD SATELLITE—That good old American ingenuity is not a thing of the past is proved by Walter Merker, 12, a Chicago schoolboy, and his homemade model of Explorer I, America's first satellite. The exhaust was once a flower pot; the nose cone was a soup ladle from which the handle was cut off; the casing was an electric dryer vent, with a liberal sprinkling of old stovepipes; and the crossbands over the radio units were cut from scrap aluminum with household scissors.

IN THE Service

Returns to Base

Richard A. Mackewitz, seaman apprentice, U. S. Navy has returned to his base after spending a 14-day leave at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Mackewitz of Oak Ridge, Ellenville. Seaman Mackewitz recently completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill. successfully completing the transition from civilian life to the military which included instruction in military drill, military customs and traditions, shipboard drills, seamanship and citizenship. He will report to the Naval Air Technical Training Center, Norman, Okla., for the course of instruction in the Airman Preparatory School. After successfully completing this school he will receive further schooling as an Aviation Electronics Technician. He is a former student at Ellenville High School and enlisted in January 1958 at the Navy Recruiting Station, Room 209, Central Post Office Building, Kingston.

Recreation Committee Names Mrs. Wetterau Arts Director

Appointment of Mrs. Margaret Wetterau as director of arts and crafts for the playground program this summer has been announced by Kermit Schwarz, chairman of the Recreation Committee.

Mrs. Wetterau, who formerly held the post, was chosen from among four candidates at the Recreation Committee meeting this week. She is a long standing member of the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen and formerly was in charge of the puppets at Rip Van Winkle Village.

Mrs. Wetterau will be paid a salary of $375.00 and will have Ingie Guston as her assistant at a salary of a dollar an hour.

Justice of the Peace Joseph S. Forno, ex-officio member of the committee, reported on a conversation he had with Harry Edinger, director of environmental sanitation for the City of Kingston, relative to securing a filter for the swimming pool at Andy Lee Memorial Field. Forno informed the committee a sand filter about four feet in diameter would be adequate. Chairman Schwarz named himself, James Nancarvis and Ed Jurist a committee to arrange for the purchase of a filter at a cost not to exceed $1,000.

Appoint Life Guard

Diane Cartlidge, 17, of Glenford, a student at Onteora Central, was appointed life guard for afternoon duty at the playground swimming pool. She will work from 1 to 3 p. m. daily at a salary of $1.00 per hour.

Miss Cartlidge has completed swimming classes and courses covering Red Cross skills from beginner through advanced swimmer, Junior and Senior life saving and water safety aide.

John Majores, playground director, submitted a proposed schedule of activities for 1958. His recommendations were adopted unanimously and it was decided that any special activities outside the regular program would be held from 2 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

June 28 was set as registration day for all children interested in the program. Registration also can be made on June 30, the opening date of the season.

To Meet With Lutzin

A tentative date of Thursday, May 8, was set for a meeting with Sidney G. Lutzin, director of the State Youth Commission. Lutzin will meet with members of the Recreation Committee, directors, staff members and volunteer workers to discuss the Woodstock program and playground activities in general.

Mrs. J. William Popplewell, representing the Woodstock Jayncess, proposed a pre-school group at the field, which would be maintained by volunteer mothers of the children. The proposal was tabled for further action after a lengthy discussion.

Attending the meeting were Kermit Schwarz, chairman; James Nancarvis, Janet Greene, Irving Kalish, Ed Jurist, Andy Shekitka, Marjorie Harder, secretary; John Majoris, playground director, and Joseph S. Forno.

Women's Guild Sets May 24 Date for Sale

Young Women's Guild of Christ Lutheran Church have decided to hold their spring sale on May 24 on the church lawn. The date was set at the Guild's meeting at the home of Mrs. Albert Holumzer.

Their specialty is children's toys of which they have several, including very attractive stuffed dolls which they have been making over the years. This year they are adding a new bean bag clown which is somewhat different from others offered before.

Various kinds of baked good and home made candy will be featured. All funds they are able to raise are for the parish hall the church is hoping to build in the near future. The next meeting will be held May 19 at the home of Mrs. Montcena DeWitt.

Register 27 New Boys for the LL

Twenty-seven new boys were registered for the Woodstock Township Little League on Saturday, April 19, league president, Alex Sharpe Jr., has announced.

About fifty boys who played in the league in 1957, its initial season, were also on the field, swelling the overall total to nearly 70.

The boys who played last season reported to their managers, while the new boys were taken in hand by Milt Combs, player agent for the league.

New boys who registered include: Drew E. Albrecht, Lewis Arlt, William J. Beck, Augustine Baptiste 2nd, William W. Blelock, Richard P. Doran, Ronald DuBois, Jeffery Hamilton, John Howland, Alan E. Hartman, Leon A. Johnson, Roger F. Jones, Vincent J. Kuypers, Robert Langling, James A. LeMaster, Glen E. Lund, Tom Matthews, James J. Marcato, John Miller Jr., Peter W. Moncure, Richard E. McLaughlin, William F. Pierce Jr., David Rose, Clarence Southern, Mark Wetterau and Gary R. Wolven.

Sharpe Gives Talk

President Sharpe talked to the fathers who reported with the boys. He gave a rundown on the plans for the league this season. A number of fathers volunteered for some of the jobs that must be done. Some volunteered for umpires. Those who wish to officiate reported to Wash Wilber, umpire-in-chief for the league.

The 27 new boys who registered on April 19 will report to Andy Lee Field on Monday at 6 p. m. sharp. Boys in the 8 to 12 group who did not register on April 19 may do so Monday evening (April 28) at 6 p. m. at the field.

Boy, Girl Scouts Participate in 25th Anniversary

All Boy and Girl Scout units are planning to participate in the 25th anniversary celebration of Boy Scout Troop 34 at Woodstock School on May 13, the Rev. Harvey I. Todd, pastor of the Dutch Reformed Church, has announced.

The program has not been fully developed as yet, but there will be exhibits and demonstrations of interest to everyone.

This troop, while it has always been sponsored by the Dutch Reformed Church, has undertaken to serve all of scout age in the community—Catholic, Jew and Protestant alike. And the church is greatly indebted to those of other faiths for their willingness to co-operate and for furnishing the leadership that has successfully carried on during these years.

It will be of interest to readers of this article to note the Scouts who were registered in the Troop the first year. They include Harry Whiteley, Robert Whiteley, Milton Houst, J. Carson Hutchins, Walter Riseley, Karl Schleicher, Harry Bentley, William Reynolds, Richard Bronson, Donald Scribner, Byron Bell, Gregory Lindin, Eugene Howland, Henry Dumond, William Gaynor, Robert Bradley, Victor Schrader, William Brown, William Elwyn, George Compton and Joseph Mangold.

'The Fence Sitters' Topic for Rev. Wilder

The Rev. Garnett M. Wilder will preach a sermon titled: "THE FENCE SITTERS" in all the churches of the Woodstock Methodist Parish on Sunday, April 27th. This sermon observes the tendency of church members to "sit on the fence," both to watch others do the work and give the money to carry forward the church's life, as well as to "straddle the line" on moral and social issues. We must go beyond this to see that a lukewarm faith is not much better than no faith at all. In fact, it could very well be worse, like an inoculation that makes one immune to the real thing. You are invited to worship with us this Sunday.

The Rev. Garnett M. Wilder will be away from his parish the week of April 28th to May 3rd. He will be taking the comprehensive examinations at Drew University for the Ph.D. degree in theology.

The Parish Youth Fellowship will meet Friday evening in the Wittenberg Youth Center at 7 p. m. Miss Valda Lapo will be in charge of the program.

The annual meeting of the Woodstock WSCS will be held Thursday, May 1 in the church hall at 12 noon. This will be a covered dish luncheon, after which yearly reports will be heard and officers will be elected.

The One Hundred and Fifty-Ninth Session of the New York Annual Conference of the Methodist Church will convene April 24th at Christ Church, 520 Park Avenue, New York City. Mr. Elbert Varney will be the lay delegate from the Woodstock parish.

Fellowship Family Will Meet in Zena

The Fellowship Family of Christ Lutheran Church, Woodstock, plan a meeting in Zena Country Club Sunday night, to be preceded by serving of dessert, tea, coffee and milk for children at 6 p. m.

The United Lutheran Church Women of Christ Lutheran Church plan a meeting with Mrs. G. Oliver Sands as hostess at the parsonage on the first day of May at 2 p. m. All women of the congregation are invited to attend.

Rev. Sands Will Preach On 'Christ's Lesson'

"Christ's Lesson on Prayer" from the first verse of St. Luke's Gospel, chapter 11—in which his disciples ask the Master to teach them to pray—is the text the Rev. G. Oliver Sands has chosen for his sermon in Christ Lutheran Church on the third Sunday after Easter, April 27, at the 11 a. m. service.

The adult class in Sunday school will be considering "God's Mighty Deliverance" which is based upon the story in Exodus, beginning at the eleventh chapter, in which God delivered the Israelites from bondage in Egypt.

Classes for all ages are held at the same hour. All are welcome.

Visitors in the village and vicinity, as well as summer and year-round residents, are urged to make this their church home. Members are to be received on Pentecost, May 25, the birthday of the Christian church. All are greeted cordially by pastor and people. We try to make this a friendly church. Please help us!

Regular choir rehearsals are held each week, the Youth choir at 7 p. m. the Senior choir follows. If you enjoy singing, why not join your voice with ours each Thursday night and Sunday morning?

Theological Senior At the Dutch Reformed

Jonathan Rhinkamp, senior in the New Brunswick Theological Seminary, will be in charge of the 11 a. m. worship service Sunday, April 27, at the Dutch Reformed Church, the Rev. Harvey I. Todd, pastor. A nursery is provided for younger children.

Sunday school is scheduled at 9:30 a. m. The Christian Endeavor Society meets at 7:30 p. m.

Man Relates Recovery From Serious Illness

Suffering from a physical breakdown after having lost his business in the early 1930s, a man from Vancouver, Wash., reports that he learned how to pray for the first time. He will tell how this enabled him to win his way back to health in telling of the experience on the Christian Science radio program over Station WKNY on Sunday, April 27, at 12:45 p. m. The subject of the broadcast is "Awake to Your God-Given Freedom."

Town Notes

The Past Noble Grands Association of Ulster District will meet at Olive Bridge on Wednesday, April 30, at 6:30 p. m. A business meeting follows the dinner

There are still places on the bus to go to New York on Thursday, May 8; leaving the village green at 7:30 a. m. and returning from the Port Authority Terminal at 8 p. m. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Fred Toms or Mrs. William Hoffman.

Walter S. Van Wagenen, principal of the Woodstock Elementary school, will be host to the Ulster County elementary school principals meeting at the local school on May 20.

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, Lewis R. Wilson and Justice of the Peace Joseph S. Forno will soon head north for their annual fishing safari to Canada. George Shivery, the Kingston automobile dealer, and Robert Holsapple of Wittenberg are also expected to be in the party.

His Woodstock Country Club cronies will be happy to learn that Tony de Lisio is due back in Woodstock on May 1. Mrs. de Lisio and family will arrive from St. Petersburg following the close of school the first week in June.

Ave Signs Bill For N.Y.-Jersey Transit System

ALBANY (AP)—Gov. Harriman today approved legislation to create a New York-New Jersey transit district with power to build and operate a bi-state transit loop across the Hudson River.

In doing so, he denied a veto request from New York's Mayor Robert F. Wagner. The mayor had urged a veto so that the idea could be studied further.

Before the measure can become law, New Jersey will have to adopt identical legislation. Federal legislation also will be required.

Connecticut could join the compact later if it wishes.

The rail loop, estimated to cost 500 million dollars, would be linked to all New Jersey railroads and highways and provide new tunnel connections with Manhattan.

The cost of construction would be borne by New York, Rockland and Orange counties in New York State and by these 10 North Jersey counties—Bergen, Essex, Hudson, Mercer, Middlesex, Monmouth, Morris, Passaic, Somerset and Union.

New Jersey and New York would pay $150,000 each annually for the first five years to cover operating costs.

116,000 Teachers To Graduate, But Shortage Remains

WASHINGTON (AP) — Colleges will graduate 116,000 new teachers this spring, but the teacher shortage next fall still will be critical.

That was the gist of a report issued today by the National Education Assn. after a state-by-state survey.

Still Short 135,000

The nation's public schools now need 220,000 more teachers, the report said. Only about 85,000 of this spring's qualified graduates are expected to enter the teaching field. That leaves a net shortage of about 135,000.

The number of graduates qualified to teach in grade school is estimated at 44,000, the same as last year. The number qualified for teaching in high school is estimated at 72,000—about 5,000 more than last year.

On the basis of past records, the NEA reckons that about 73 per cent of the qualified graduates will actually enter the teaching profession. Many potential women teachers will get married and begin raising families. The military will grab off a number of potential men teachers. Higher paying jobs in private industry will lure both men and women into other fields.

Recession May Help

The report, several months in the making, did not go into the impact that the current business recession might have on the teacher shortage. Most educators feel, however, that if the recession should continue into the late summer or fall, the teaching profession will get many spring graduates who might otherwise be lost to industry.

During the past five years, the nation's colleges have graduated more than 100,000 students who could teach, but decided not to. Some of these, too, might be pushed into teaching by business conditions.

Hurley to Hear Plans on By-Pass Tuesday, April 29

The proposed plans for the Route 209 Bypass will be explained to the residents of Hurley and Stone Ridge at an open meeting at 8 p. m. Tuesday, April 29, at the Hurley Fire Hall.

Raymond Schuler, assistant to the Chief Engineer, New York State Department of Public Works, will address the meeting and discuss with interested citizens the proposed route and present status of the project.

John C. Flanagan of Hurley, acting as chairman of arrangements for the Hurley Democratic Club, sponsors of the meeting, in making the announcement said: "There is a great deal of interest in Stone Ridge and Hurley regarding the proposed route. We felt that if our club would arrange an open meeting and invite all citizens to attend such a meeting would prove informative and helpful to the community. Schuler has told me that insofar as he is able to do so he will bring along proposed plans and maps of the area and he will go into as much detail as time will permit.

"Many people in Hurley and Stone Ridge have asked me about a meeting of this kind and now that it has been arranged I believe we will have a large attendance. It is an important meeting and the officers and members of all Hurley and Stone Ridge clubs and other organizations are urged to have a delegation in attendance April 29 at the Hurley Fire Hall."

Corn borers cost Ohio farmers nearly $1,500,000 in 1957.

Stunted Ambition

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—A teenage youth with ambitions of becoming a "private eye" suffered a slight setback the other day. Police caught him and two other boys driving a stolen car. A search of the youth in question turned up a private detective's badge and a pair of handcuffs. The would-be sleuth went to jail in his own manacles.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The first of the anti-recession moves—easier credit and cheaper money—is beginning to take hold today at the grass roots level.

Its effectiveness is in doubt still because, for one thing, it is partly offset by the sutbbornly rising cost of living.

It's easier today for business and individuals to borrow — and then spend. It's harder for individuals to balance their budgets and buy more—an anti-recession move of whose effectiveness there is little doubt.

The easier credit move was started last fall by the Federal Reserve Board. In a series of moves it has given the banks a sizably larger amount of money to lend and it has forced interest rates down—although it took really drastic steps to make the banks drop their charges for loans.

Remains to Be Seen

Business and individuals have been led to the trough of easier credit and cheaper money. It is still to be seen whether they'll drink.

Business is still borrowing large sums, both on short term loans from the banks and on long term issues sold to investors. But the demand for these loans isn't as great as it was.

The authorities hope that the latest moves for easier credit terms and more available funds now will lead corporations to revive expansion plans and business ventures and thus bolster the slipping economy.

Individuals have been borrowing less, especially for such sizable purchases as new cars and new houses. Easier credit is one of the prescriptions which the Washington doctors hope will restore health to the many industries involved, and it is the first prescription so far to be made readily available to the patient. Others, such as tax cuts and public works, are still in the talking stage.

But what to do about the rising cost of living is a tough and often touchy problem. Higher prices are as widely blamed as dwindling incomes for what decline there has been in consumer buying—and a reversal of this trend is devoutly sought.

Latest government figures on the cost of living put most of the blame for the continuing rise on the higher prices for many food items and the increased cost of the many services which take a steadily larger share of family spending.

Factor Is Food

Some of the food price rise is seasonal. Some is due to freakish winter weather that cut supplies. Some is due to less livestock coming to market because ranchers are rebuilding herds trimmed during the long drought.

But part of the blame is put on the consumer. Grocers and butchers say that the housewife grumbles but goes right on buying the choicest foods. These are the most expensive to start with. The steady demand for them even in the face of dwindling supplies has aggravated the price rise.

Also the housewife demands, and therefore gets, more service in the way of packaged and prepared foods—and this, too, adds its bit to rising prices.

Over the continuing high price of manufactured consumer goods there is much debate. Which come first, the wage rise or the price rise? How much of the high cost of manufacturing is built in now and beyond pruning? Can anything be done about rising transportation costs?

If prices don't come down, will any other anti-recession move be able to turn the trick?

AT 19TH ANNUAL BANQUET—Principals attending Tuesday night's 19th annual banquet in The Barn of the Ulster County Hotel, Restaurant and Liquor Dealers Association were (seated l-r) Jack Kelleher, organizer for New York State Association; Michael Greco, banquet chairman, and Mayor Edwin F. Radel of Kingston. Standing, Ray Amell, Artie Isabella, Emile Jordan, and Edward Shannon. (Freeman photo)

250 Attend 19th Liquor Dealers Dinner Tuesday

Some 250 members and guests of the Ulster County Hotel, Restaurant and Liquor Dealers Association attended its 19th annual banquet at the Barn last night with pretty Miss Rheingold of 1958—Madelyn Darrow—a chief attraction.

Miss Rheingold, the cynosure of all eyes, was beseiged with requests for autographs.

Walter Williams, president of the association, who presided at the meeting, spoke briefly, praising the excellent quality of those serving as members of the State Liquor Authority, pointing out that alcoholic beverage laws in New York State compare most favorably with those in other states.

Among guests were Jack Kelliher, State Organizer for the association; County Judge Louis G. Bruhn; Kingston Corporation Counsel William A. Kelly; and Mayor Edwin F. Radel. Also present were members of the local ABC Board.

Michael D. Greco served as chairman of the banquet committee and toastmaster.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

BRUSSELS (AP)—Visitors to the 1958 World's Fair should arrive equipped with plenty of cash, courage, patience and strong feet.

They'll need the money for Brussels' high prices, courage for rides with the city's speed-demon taxi drivers, patience for waiting in long lines at the fair for food and strong feet to tramp the exhibition's 550 acres.

Room Costs Jump

In November last year, an American reserved a double room with bath for himself and wife at a good but not swanky hotel. He was asked to pay 540 francs ($10.80) in advance.

On April 4 he was notified that with an increase in prices authorized by the government, the room would now cost 963 francs ($19.26).

The price includes a service charge of 15 per cent, taxes and a continental breakfast of tea or coffee and rolls.

But, you'd better tip just the same.

Taxi drivers of Paris long have been regarded by many foreigners as eccentrics. One of their eccentricities is breakneck speed.

Cabbies Like Speed, Tips

Brussels taximen seem to come from the same mould, The big difference is they have new automobiles, mostly American and German, and capable of greater speed.

Just before the World's Fair opened on April 17, the starting fare was increased from 7 to 10 francs (20 cents).

There is a local ordinance compelling a taxi user to tip a minimum of 15 per cent.

But, if you stick to the minimum you'll get more than a dirty glare. Tip 20 per cent and the cabbies are polite; 25 and they smile; 30 and they bow; 40 and they bow and call you Monsieur.

Not Enough Restaurants

Despite dozens of restaurants, there still are not enough. The restaurant at the American pavilion has had a lineup every day since the fair's opening.

The prices range from 50 cents for a prime beef hamburger, 1.60 for Dixie style barbecued half spring chicken to 20 cent coffee.

"In accordance with local custom," reads a note on the menu "there is a service charge of 15 per cent which replaces the tip."

No admission is charged at the various exhibits, but this, of course, does not hold for the sprawling amusement park section and other amenities such as parking your children.

Price Includes Fine

Buying a cocktail, whisky, gin or brandy is no problem in Brussels but it's a costly process.

Spirits cannot legally be sold at bars, restaurants and hotel dining rooms.

Spirits are legal at private clubs, however, and these seem to include a variety of unique establishments.

But you can get these drinks at hotels.

"The price is a little high, Monsieur," explained the waiter, "but you see, the price includes part of the fine we have to pay for violating the law."

Hurricane Alarm

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—L. W. Hamlin, a Little Rock manufacturer, thinks he has a simple answer to the need for a household alarm system for approaching hurricanes. It's a wooden block containing a barometer, buzzer, switch and batteries for power. It operates on the principle that a sharp drop in barometric pressure always precedes a dangerous storm. The buzzer is linked with the barometer in such a way that at a pre-determined point it goes into operation. Hamlin says it's loud enough to wake the heaviest sleeper.

Harriman Notes Patient Drop at State Hospitals

NEW YORK (AP)—Every patient admitted to a state mental hospital will receive intensive psychiatric treatment in the first few months, Gov. Harriman said today.

The governor said a special appropriation of four million dollars voted by the Legislature this year made it possible to extend the intensive treatment program, begun in 1956, from eight hospitals to all 18.

Third Successive Drop

The governor said this program, together with the use of tranquilizing drugs, had contributed to a third successive annual drop in the patient population of the state hospitals.

Harriman's announcement was in an address prepared for delivery at the opening session of the Northeast State Governments Conference on Mental Health.

Regarding the intensive treatment program, he declared:

"It is generally agreed today that treatment is most effective and the chances for recovery are best in the early stages of illness."

The governor reported that the state was encouraging a trend toward increase in the number of voluntary admissions to mental hospitals.

Objective Two-Fold

"The objective is twofold," he said, "to promote early treatment . . . and to avoid wherever possible the stigma of court commitment."

He said a 1958 law reduced from 60 to 15 days the period voluntary patients can be held in the hospital.

Harriman quoted Dr. Paul H. Hoch, state mental hygiene commissioner, as reporting that the statewide patient population declined by 1,200 in the fiscal year ended April 1, although admissions increased to 23,644 from 22,292 in the previous year.

He did not give the figures on the total population.

More Elderly Patients

Despite the overall decline, the governor said, the number of elderly patients is increasing steadily. He said 30 per cent of the admissions were senile and arteriosclerotic cases.

Harriman reported also that 22 communities in the state were receiving state aid under the 1954 community mental health act. This law provides that the state will match, up to $1 per capita, community spending for mental health services.

The 22 communities represent 85 per cent of the state's population, he said.

LA Students Protest Bermuda Shorts Ban

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Banning Bermuda shorts at Los Angeles City College has brought these protests by male students.

"Doesn't seem fair," John Zinda, 20, said yesterday. "A person can wear jeans and a T-shirt, even a dirty shirt. . . ."

"Some of the drama students are allowed to go around in beards," said Biggio Pennino, 21.

If the shorts were allowed, then school officials would have to decide exactly how long they should be, said Wendell Black, dean of special services.

"One day last year a boy came to school in something like a bikini," Black said. "We can't have that—we have to draw the line some place."

Distance No Bar

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—A mother from New England attended birthday parties for her twin daughters even though the twins live 3,000 miles apart.

Mrs. Fred Cowden, 83, started yesterday with one twin, Mrs. Marjorie Burgess, in New Bedford, Mass. At noon she caught a plane in Boston and flew non-stop to Los Angeles, where she was met by the other twin — Mrs. Marian Beal of Pasadena.

Cash Register Too Much

PATERSON, N. J. (AP)—Charles Alfier wrestled with a cash register and was thrown for a loss.

Police said Alfier, 36, tried to carry the register out of a meat market but the machine was too heavy. It fell on him, pinning his leg to the floor.

Police charged Alfier with burglary after he was found, still downed, when the store opened.

Turtle Adds Horror

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP) — A double feature "horror" bill at a downtown theatre had competition last night.

A 15-pound snapping turtle was let loose in the orchestra by a practical joker. Screams echoed through the theatre until he was coaxed into a box.

State Crimes Up 3,531 During '57

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation reported today that major crimes increased by 3,531 in New York State during 1957. The pattern was similar throughout the nation.

The bureau, on the basis of returns from 186 New York cities, reported a total of 187,215 crimes in the major categories of murder, negligent manslaughter, rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny, theft and auto theft in 1957. This was 3,531 more than the comparable 1956 total.

Some categories however showed a slight decline. Murder and non-negligent manslaughter, for example, dipped to 371 in 1957 compared to 374 in 1956.

Rape and robbery also showed slight declines. All other categories were up.

The incidence of 1957 crime in six major categories in some of Upstate New York's largest cities was:

Albany: Murder or non-negligent manslaughter — 3; robbery — 3; aggravated assault—53; burglary —406; theft over $50—112; auto theft—348.

Nazi-Type Youths Placed on Probation

NEW YORK (AP)—Six members of a Nazi-type youth gang, who planned to steal cars and rob a bank to promote a Nordic supremacy theory, were placed on probation for two years.

Ordering the probation was adolescent Court Magistrate Milton Solomon.

The youths, ranging in age from 16 to 18, all are from the Forest Hills - Kew Gardens section, of Queens.

George Leggett, 20, self-styled feuhrer of the gang, was not sentenced yesterday because his lawyer was unable to appear in court. Leggett and the others were arrested last January.

Rosendale Town Will Cast Bingo Votes May 13

Residents of the Township of Rosendale will vote on the question of whether or not bingo shall be legalized in the town at a referendum May 13. The vote will be held at the town clerk's office from 2 to 8 p. m.

The village of Rosendale has already voted to authorize playing bingo in the village.

A public hearing was held at the town clerk's office on Tuesday, April 22, at 7 p. m. at which time members of the fire companies of the town, representatives of the American Legion and several other interested citizens appeared in favor of the referendum. The public hearing was called at the request of fire company representatives, James Hicks, secretary to the township fire organization, announced.

Following the public hearing the town board voted unanimously for the referendum which will be held on Tuesday, May 13, from 2 to 8 p. m.

Asks FCC Approval

Matter of FACT

Weeks have not always consisted of seven days. The Greeks, who began with a 10-day week, took the seven-day week from the great Egyptian city, Alexandria. The Romans had an eight-day week until the time of Constantine in the fourth century, A.D.

Recovery Is Doubted of Missile Nose

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Air Force hurled a two-stage missile some 5,000 miles out across the southeast Atlantic Wednesday night, but today there were doubts that its top secret nose — needed for study—would be recovered.

Because some of the telemetry equipment aboard the Thor-Vanguard combination failed to function, the missile's course could not be followed as accurately as had been planned.

Longest Flight Yet

However, the Air Force confirmed that the nose cone had attained intercontinental range — possibly 5,500 miles.

This meant it was the longest flight any American ballistic missile has yet attained. It required only about 30 minutes to travel to the Ascension Island area off the African coast.

The Soviet Union has made claims of intercontinental ballistic missile flights at full range. The only U. S. missile that previously has flown full intercontinental range is the jet-powered Snark which requires about eight or nine hours for the flight.

Wednesday's mission was to launch the highly advanced and elaborately equipped cone 80 miles up in space and then 5,500 miles southeastward to a previously selected impact area near Ascension.

The launching was sensationally successful, and the flight appeared—after some initial excitement—to be perfect.

Outlook May Brighten

Some of the radio reporting equipment in the second stage failed. One Air Force expert said that without all the telemetry equipment "I wouldn't give two bits right now for our chances of finding the nose cone. There's an awful lot of water in the south Atlantic. But the outlook may brighten tomorrow."

The rocket, a Thor 1,500-mile missile into the nose of which the second stage of a Vanguard satellite rocket had been set like a candle, took off at 7:10 p. m.

The Air Force said the exhausted first stage burned out and fell away exactly according to program.

The second stage ignited immediately and bore the missile onward.

Observers said the missile traveled straight and true as long as it could be seen.

After the burnout of its second stage, the missile nose would continue on ballistically, like a rock hurled into a long arc through the sky.

Name Olean Man To Lottery Group

ALBANY (AP) — The State Lottery Control Commission has announced the appointment of Police Justice William L. McDermott of Olean as its administrative director.

The commission, which will supervise legalized bingo, held its first meeting here yesterday.

McDermott, 48, has been police justice in Olean since 1938. Previously, he served as assistant state attorney general.

His salary will be $14,000 a year.

Boy, Due for Knife, Promised Blood Help

ITHACA (AP)—A 15-year-old boy, in Buffalo for an operation tomorrow, can rest assured he has the sympathy of neighbors.

The Red Cross said yesterday that a call for blood donors for James Ditmars of Trumansburg brought 300 replies. Ditmars will undergo surgery at Children's Hospital for a defective heart valve. The operation requires blood less than two hours old.

Ten persons with type O negative blood were selected by the Red Cross. They will make the round trip to Buffalo by chartered bus.

Roads to Combine

ALBANY (AP)—The Delaware & Hudson Railroad announced today that, effective July 1, its Pennsylvania-Susquehanna and Saratoga-Champlain divisions would be combined.

Headquarters for the combined operation will be in Albany. However, some key operating personnel will remain in Oneonta, where the Susquehanna division offices are now, the railroad said.

The Saratoga division offices have been in Albany.

The Susquehanna runs from Albany to Wilkes-Barre, Pa., the Saratoga from Albany to Montreal.

The railroad said it was making the change to permit greater centralization of supervision. Personnel shifts will be announced later, the railroad said.

The change will not affect train schedules, a spokesman said.

Circus Promoter Slain

LYONS (AP)—A promoter for a circus was shot and killed today by a village patrolman called to investigate a disturbance, police reported.

The dead man was identified as Robert Healey, about 35, an advance man for the Mills Brothers Circus.

Amedeo Lisi, patrolman in this Wayne County village, said he was investigating a reported quarrel at a rooming house when Healey tried to hit him with a leather belt. Lisi said he shot Healey in the chest.

Further details were not immediately available.

Rates Salute

Mount Vernon, George Washington's 500-acre estate on the Potomac River in Virginia, is saluted by each U. S. Navy vessel that passes it.

5-CentStamp Is Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees meet again today to try to finish work on a postal rate and pay increase bill from which they have eliminated the 5-cent letter stamp.

The conferees voted yesterday to knock out the 5-cent temporary rate on out-of-town letters inserted by the Senate in its version of the bill. They accepted a straight 4-cent charge voted by the House last year. The present 3-cent letter stamp has been in effect since 1932.

The vote was a defeat for President Eisenhower and Postmaster General Summerfield who had asked for a permanent 5-cent rate on the inter-city mail along with 4 cents on other letters.

The administration has been trying since 1953 to get higher postal rates to cut down the post office department deficit.

One Republican senator said he believed the bill, if passed, would run into a presidential veto because of these actions of the conferees: knocking out the 5-cent stamp, approving a pay raise for the 500,000 postal employes far beyond what the President proposed, and making the pay boost retroactive to Jan. 1. The administration had opposed any retroactivity.

The pay increase approved by the conferees yesterday would total about 257 million dollars annually compared with 320 million in the Senate bill and 160 million recommended by the President.

SYRACUSE (AP)—Louis J. (Doc) Farone of Saratoga Springs, a central figure in a state gambling probe in the 1940's, was fined $4,000 yesterday after he pleaded guilty to one count of a two-count indictment of tax evasion.

Judge Stephen W. Brennan of Federal District Court gave Farone until May 1 to pay the fine and delinquent taxes for 1950, totaling $2,680.

The second count of the indictment, charging that Farone owed the government $17,000 for nonpayment of taxes in 1951, was dismissed.

Former Resident Vice - President Of AAIE Group

Walter C. Van Buren, a native of Kingston, and now a resident of Buffalo, and graduate of Kingston High School, was elected a vice-president of the American Association of Industrial Editors at that group's annual convention in Philadelphia April 23. For the past seven years, Van Buren has edited the "Moore Sales News" of Moore Business Forms, Inc., Niagara Falls. The 800 editors affiliated with the association represent companies which issue a variety of publications to employes, customers, prospects, stockholders, and others. The purpose of the association is to improve further the usefulness of corporate journalism.

This is Van Buren's third term as a member of the board of the American Association of Industrial Editors. He has been active in the Buffalo affiliate group, the Niagara Frontier Industrial Editors' Association and served that organization as president in 1954.

Prior to his joining the staff of Moore Business Forms, Inc., Van Buren served in the Army Air Force during World War 2 and was a first lieutenant when released from active duty. He was district correspondent for The Buffalo Evening News for four years before entering service. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Van Buren of 42 Henry Street.

Morhouse Accuses Gov. Harriman of Political Fakery

NEW YORK (AP) — Republican State Chairman L. Judson Morhouse accuses Gov. Harriman of "political fakery" on the tax cut issue.

Morhouse criticized the Democratic governor for going to Washington to urge a federal tax cut after opposing one for New York State income tax payers.

The GOP chairman, who spoke Tuesday at a dinner of the Bronx County Republican Committee, said: "Look who's talking. Tax cuts begin at home, governor."

On Monday, Harriman appeared before the House Banking Committee in Washington and recommended a tax cut as a major anti-recession measure.

Morhouse told the dinner gathering:

"This year, when the Republican leaders of the Legislature were trying to explore the possibility of continuing income tax abatement, he smothered all hope of that with a record-breaking budget."

Complete Berkshire Festival Programs Are Announced; Charles Munch Will Conduct

Charles Munch, music director of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, today announces the complete programs for the Orchestra's 1958 Berkshire Festival at Tanglewood, Lenox, Mass.

The concerts of the first two weekends will be held Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:30 and Sunday afternoons at 2:30 in the Theatre-Concert Hall (with the exception of the concerts of July 6 and 12 which will be in the Shed) with a chamber orchestra and will be devoted to music of Bach and Mozart. On Friday evening, July 4, Dr. Munch will present the four Orchestral Suites of Bach, Nos. 1, 2, 3, and 4. On Saturday evening, July 5, Lukas Foss will be soloist in the Piano Concerto in D minor and the remainder of the program will be devoted to "The Art of the Fugue." A special concert of Bach's B Minor Mass honoring the 100th anniversary of the Harvard Glee Club will be conducted in the Music Shed by the Glee Club's conductor, G. Wallace Woodworth, on Sunday, July 6. The choruses of the Harvard Glee Club and Radcliffe Choral Society will join the Boston Symphony Orchestra for this performance and the soloists will be Adele Addison, soprano; Eunice Alberts, contralto; Blake Stern, tenor; and Donald Gramm, bass.

Mozart Weekend

The three concerts of the Mozart weekend will be conducted by Charles Munch. On Friday, July 11, the program will include the Musical Joke, K. 522, the Sinfonia Concertante with soloists Ruth Posselt, violin, and Joseph de Pasquale, viola and the "Linz" Symphony No. 36 in C major. For the concert of Saturday, July 12, which will be in the Music Shed, Dr. Munch will present "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik," the Two Piano Concerto K. 365 with soloists Seymour Lipkin and Lukas Foss, the Serenade No. 10 in B-flat for wind instruments and the Symphony No. 40 in G minor. On Sunday, July 13, Dr. Munch will conduct the Haffner Symphony and the Piano Concerto in C major, K. 467 with Seymour Lipkin as soloist. In the second half of the concert Hugh Ross will conduct three choral works.

Music Shed Concerts

The first weekend of concerts in the Music Shed (July 18-19-20) will feature music of Johannes Brahms. The Friday evening, July 18, program includes Brahms' Serenade No. 2 in A, Op. 16, Aaron Copland's Variations for Orchestra and Brahms' Symphony No. 4. Saturday evening July 19, will be devoted to a performance of Brahms' Requiem with the Festival Chorus and Hilde Gueden, soprano, and Donald Gramm, baritone. Pierre Monteux will be guest conductor on Sunday afternoon, July 20, and his program will be Brahms' Academic Festival Overture and Piano Concerto No. 1 in D minor with Leon Fleisher as soloist. Mr. Monteux will close the concert with a complete performance of Stravinsky's ballet, "Petrouchka."

Russian Music

The concerts of July 25-26-27 will feature music of Debussy and Ravel as well as several familiar works by Russian composers. Pierre Monteux will conduct the concert of Friday, July 5, presenting Glinka's Overture to "Russlan and Ludmilla," Tchaikovsky's Symphony No. 4, the Overture to "Les Eumenides" by Darius Milhaud, Three Nocturnes by Debussy and Ravel's "La Valse." On Saturday evening, July 6, Charles Munch will direct the Orchestra in Stravinsky's "Agon," and Debussy's "La Mer." Byron Janis will be soloist in Rachmanioff's Third Piano Concerto. The program for Sunday, July 7, will include Bartok's Music for Strings, Percussion and Celesta, Ravel's Second Suite from "Daphnis and Chloe" and the Tchaikovsky Violin Concerto with Zino Francescatti as soloist. Dr. Munch will conduct.

Wagner Program

Charles Munch will conduct the opening concert of the Wagner weekend on Friday, August 1. The program includes the Prelude to "Die Meistersinger," the Siegfried Idyll, and the Prelude and Love Death from "Tristan and Isolde" with Margaret Harshaw, Soprano soloist Joseph de Pasquale will be soloist in Walter Piston's Viola Concerto, and Miss Harshaw will again be heard in the Immolation Scene from Wagner's "Gotterdammerung." The Saturday evening concert (August 2) will also be under Dr. Munch's direction and the program will be the Overture and Bacchanale from Wagner's "Tannhauser," Liszt's Piano Concerto No. 1 in E-flat with soloist Leonard Pennario, Vaughan Williams' Eighth Symphony and Siegfried's Rhine Journey from Wagner's "Gotterdammerung." Pierre Monteux will be guest conductor at the Sunday concert, August 3, and will feature Margaret Harshaw, soprano, in a number of Wagner excerpts, including Senta's Ballad from "The Flying Dutchman," Elsa's Dream from "Lohengrin,", the Air of Kundry from "Parsifal" and "Dich Teure Halle" from "Tannhauser." Mr. Monteux will conduct the following orchestral excerpts, the Overture to "The Flying Dutchman," the Prelude to "Lohengrin," the Ride of the Valkyries, Prelude to "Parsifal" and the Overture to "Rienzi."

Beethoven Selections

The final weekend of Shed concerts will feature music of Beethoven. On Friday, August 8, Dr. Munch will open the program with Honegger's Prelude Fugue and Postlude, followed by Beethoven's Seventh Symphony and Piano Concerto No. 5 ("Emperor") with Eugene Istomin as soloist. The young American violinist, Berl Senofsky, will be soloist in the Beethoven Violin Concerto on Saturday evening, August 9. The program will also include the music from Beethoven' "Prometheus" and Leonore Overture No. 3 and Hindemith's "Nobilissima Visione." Pierre Monteux will conduct. Dr. Munch will follow his established custom of presenting at the closing concert of the Festival Beethoven's Ninth Symphony. He will precede this with William Walton's Johannesburg Festival Overture.

Prospective Bride Of Louis Roberti

CAROL ANNE PROPER

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Proper, 13 Prince Street, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Carol Anne, to Louis Richard Roberti Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Roberti of Eddyville.

Miss Proper as a graduate of Kingston High School, and Academy of Beauty Culture, Newburgh. She is employed by Mickey's Beauty Salon. Her fiance attended Kingston High School and is employed by his father at Lou's Boat Basin.

A May wedding is planned.

High School Singing Group Will Present Concert in New Paltz

The Scotia-Glenville Choralaires, a high school performing group, will present a concert at the State University Teachers College, New Paltz, Friday, May 2 in the College Union Building at 11 a. m.

The general public is invited to attend free of charge.

A 440-voice mixed choir, the Choralaires, is an active performing group which presents some 25 to 30 performers a year. The group is extracurricular, and it rehearses during the noon lunchtime three days a week. Membership is chosen by audition from the high school band, orchestra, and chorus.

The Choralaires have travelled about 2,500 miles in the last four years and have presented programs throughout New York State. They appear frequently on television over WRGB-TV, Schenectady, and have done radio programs on Radio Station WGY in Schenectady.

The group specializes in all kinds of songs from madrigals to rhythm antics, and presents a wide variety of music in their programs. Featured soloists in this year's group are: Joseph Fennimore, Brenda Moore, and Sandra Whitbeck, along with the girls and boys octet. Comedy and dancing are a part of the program as well as serious renditions of sacred, folk, spirituals, madrigals, and serious contemporary music.

Church Group Gives Party for Guests

Members of the Harper Circle of the St. James Methodist Church feted 15 girls from Wassaic Home Wednesday, April 23, in the church parlors.

Featured entertainment of this annual event was a presentation of Beecher's "Indian Summer" by the Workshop group of Coach House Players.

Participating in the tense one act drama were Rose Helen Mellert, Linda Hall, Andrew Pappas and Robert Curtin. Direction is by Francis T. Matteson with production by Ralph Harper.

A social hour with refreshments was held. Entertainment chairman was Mrs. Marion Harper.

Tumasian-Minervini Nuptials Announced; Couple Plan to Make Home in Boiceville

Miss Anna Marie Tumasian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Hasenbein of Olive Bridge, became the bride of Anthony John Minervini, son of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Minervini of Boiceville, Saturday, April 19, at Our Lady of La Salette Church, Boiceville.

White gladioli decorated the church for the occasion.

The bride was given in marriage by her stepfather, Emil Hasenbein. For her wedding, she wore a French lace gown over Skinner satin styled with a fitted bodice, Queen Ann collar and long sleeves, all trimmed with seed pearls. The skirt was cut in a coat effect and terminated in a train measuring three yards The center panel was made of pleated nylon tulle. Her headpiece was a coronet of seed pearls and it held a four tier of French illusion veiling. She carried a Bible covered with white lace and a white orchid with satin streamers and orange blossoms.

The particular Bible carried by the bride has been in the bridegroom's family for the past five generations.

Mrs. John Minervini of Woodstock, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, served as matron of honor. She wore a maize nylon chiffon gown with matching headpiece and carried an old fashioned basket of rosebuds and iris.

John Minervini of Woodstock, was best man for his brother. Serving as ushers were Robert Minervini and Frank Minervini, also brothers of the bridegroom.

A reception was held immediately following the wedding.

The bride is a graduate of Onteora Central School. Her husband, who attended Kingston schools, was graduated from Onteora Central School also.

For her wedding trip, the bride chose a traveling ensemble consisting of a black dress and duster with a white hat and gloves, black patent leather accessories and a white orchid.

Home Extension Service News

The Home Demonstration Department of the Ulster County Extension Service will celebrate National Home Demonstration week by holding a countywide housing tour on April 28. Units around the county will exhibit the accomplishments of members in store windows or at "open houses."

Housing Tour

The annual spring tour to be held on Monday, April 28, will consist of stops at four houses: The Carlton Beach home in High Falls, the new home of the Sanford Cross' in Alligerville, the home of the John Schoonmakers in Accord, and the home of the Francis Davenports in Stone Ridge. The Home Demonstration Department is indebted to these families for being willing to open their home for the tour. Each home offers the visitor new ideas; each illustrates interesting and beautfiul accomplishments in planning to suit the family, furniture arrangement, furnishings, color schemes, storage, etc., which may suggest possible solutions to visitor's problems. Following the last stop there will be a drive through the northern section of the county to enjoy the scenery, a part of the project "Let's Know Our County."

Tourists will meet, at 9:45 a. m. April 28 in front of the Carlton Beach Home on the Lucas Avenue Turnpike in High Falls where tour sheets giving important items on each stop will be distributed. All will bring a packed lunch. The tour will end about 3 p. m. It is open to any interested person.

Good Taste Today

By EMILY POST

KISSING HUSBAND GOOD-BYE

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I both leave for work in the morning at the same time and ride part of the way together on the subway. When he gets off, he always kisses me good-bye. My sister, who happened to be with us one day, looked rather shocked when he did this and later told me that it is in bad taste to show any display of affection in public. Will you please give me your opinion on this?

Answer: According to strict rule, your sister is right, but at the same time it would depend very much upon how quickly and inconspicuously he did this. A real embrace would of course be in very bad taste.

Seating Bridegroom's Mother's Fiance

Dear Mrs. Post: My son plans to be married this June. My husband and I are divorced. He has remarried, but I have not. However, I am engaged to a man whom I have known for some time. We cannot marry at present because of financial obligations. What I would like to know is this: Would it be proper for him to sit beside me in church at my son's wedding? I would like this very much if, of course, it is proper. Also, if he may sit next to me, should he enter the church with me, or should he be seated several minutes before?

Answer: It will be quite proper for him to sit beside you, but he should be seated before you.

Side Dishes

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter tells me that when vegetables are served in little side dishes instead of on the dinner plate, they may be—or rather should be—taken out of these dishes and put on the dinner plate. Is this true?

Answer: The vegetables are generally, and most correctly, taken out of these dishes when served to you in a restaurant. In a private house, if you should encounter this practice it will be best to do what you see your hosts do.

STREAMLINER—The new superliner Canberra, when completed, will be the largest British passenger vessel to be built since the sister queens, Elizabeth and Mary. The keel of the craft has been laid at a shipyard in Belfast, Northern Ireland. Modern, sweeping design, uncluttered by normal funnels, will mark the 45,000 gross-ton ship. Scheduled for completion in 1960 at a cost of 42 million dollars, the Canberra will be powered by a turbo-electric propulsion system and will carry 2,250 passengers and a crew of 1,000 at a cruising speed of 27½ knots on the British-Australian-Pacific run.

The Mature Parent

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Special Favors to Child in Distress It Not Favoritism

After breakfast Lee's friend Connie telephoned to say that her Grandma had died. She said, "Daddy's driving us all over to Grandpa's house so you can't come over to play this afternoon."

Lee was upset by this news. Connie's Grandma had taught her and Lee how to knit. She'd bought them needles and wool. During the lessons Lee had grown fond of her. She was quite shaken by the discovery that a person she liked could die.

At lunch her father noted her abstraction. He said, "Lee, I'm driving over to the tree nursery this afternoon. How about coming along with me?"

Before she could answer, her little sister cried, "Can I come, too, Daddy?" Then, adding his demand, her older brother said, "Sure, we can all go, can't we, Daddy?"

Their father said, "No, you can't. Lee is feeling sad today. You aren't. So this treat is for her alone."

Though his other children grumbled, there was no heat in their protests. Both understood their sister's need of special privilege, and accepted the justice of their father's denial of it to them.

Some of us scared to move on a child's special need of special treatment lest his brothers and sisters accuse us of "favoritism."

This fear is inconsistent and unjust.

If Lee is recovering from the flu we do not serve her the lunch of soup and peanut butter sandwiches that we serve her healthy brother and sister. Without hesitation, we accept the difference between her physical weakness and their unimpaired strength. We serve her lamb chop and baked potato. What's more, we deal unhesitatingly with any objections to this special treatment.

We say to our other youngsters, "What's the matter with you two? Lee's hardly eaten a thing in two days. You're been eating like two little pigs. That's why she's getting lamb chop and you're getting peanut butter sandwiches."

But when a child is struggling with hurts instead of disease germs we find it hard to defend his right to special treatment with the same conviction.

This is sad. It's in our service to Lee's special needs that our other youngsters see reassuring promise of similar service to theirs.

DuBois - Breen Wedding Announced

Miss Susan Louise DuBois, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. DuBois of Wallkill, was married Saturday, April 12, in Wallkill Reformed Church to John Breen, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Breen of Prospect, N. J. The Rev. Walter N. Van Popering officiated at the double ring ceremony. Lester Troast, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was tenor soloist with Mrs. Louise Didsbury at the organ.

Immediately following the wedding ceremony, a reception, catered by the Young Adults of the church, was held in the church hall where music was furnished by an ensemble directed by Anton Ortone of Newburgh.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white nylon and lace floor length gown with a sweep train and a white pearl trimmed cap and nylon veil. She carried a bouquet of white glamellias and feathered carnations.

The matron of honor, Mrs. John S. Kvamme, sister of the bride, wore a blue nylon tulle with matching headpiece and carried a fan of blue feathered carnations. The other attendants were Miss Barbara Clark, and Miss Pauline Bower of Poughkeepsie, Mrs. Lester Troast of Pompton Plains, N. J., and Mrs. Donald Hewlett of Wassaic, N. Y. They were attired in green, yellow, lilac and pink nylon ballerina length gowns with overskirts of white embroidered nylon organdy, with matching headbands and carried fans of matching feathered carnations.

Best man was William Plymers of Hawthorne, N. J. Ushers were Louis DuBois, brother of the bride, Daniel Blumenberg, Robert VanderMuelen and Harold Pruiksma.

The mother of the bride was gowned in pink lace and dacron crepe with matching accessories and a pink glamellia corsage. The bridegroom's mother was attired in blue lace with matching accessories and wore a shrimp-colored glamellia.

The bride, a graduate of Wallkill Central High School and Vassar Brothers School of Nursing at Vassar Brothers Hospital, Poughkeepsie, is a member of the Wallkill Reformed Church.

The bridegroom was graduated from Prospect Park High School and is serving in the U. S. Air Force, A/s, stationed at Langley Field, Hampton, Va. He is a member of the Hawthorne Reformed Church of Hawthorne, N. J.

When the couple left for their wedding trip to Florida, Mrs. Breen was attired in a navy dacron suit with pink accessories and wore a white glamellia corsage.

Double Blessing

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP)—The Morrilton Lions Club got a double blessing when club president Thomas E. Massey called on Bob Allison to say grace at a luncheon meeting. One voice that responded was that of Bob Allison of the Morrilton club and the other that of Bob Allison, a visitor from the Conway club.

Senate House Friends To Hear Lecture At Tuesday Meeting

The 15th lecture sponsored by Friends of the Senate House will be given Tuesday, April 29, 8 p. m. at the Governor Clinton Hotel by Robert P. Lang, art instructor at State University Teachers College, New Paltz.

His talk, to be illustrated by a wide variety of slides, is entitled "The Great Age of Medieval Architecture." Mr. Lang recently conducted two tours abroad as director of the Foreign Study Program in European Art in cooperation with The Experiment in International Living. These summer courses for students and teachers are designed to broaden their knowledge of art by visits to five capitals of Europe noted for their museums and historic masterpieces, universities, art schools, contemporary galleries and artist's studios.

Mr. Lang in his early student years attended Oberlin College, Ohio, later the Universities of California and Columbia and finally received training in art history at Harvard. For several summers he traveled in Europe and taught at Cornell before occupying his present position as an instructor in the major art courses at Teachers College.

Benefit Dance Is Planned

B'nai B'rith Dinner And Meeting Is Held; Officers Installed

B'nai B'rith Zephaniah Lodge and Chapter 131 of Kingston held its installation dinner-dance at the Wiltwyck Country Club, Saturday, April 19. More than 180 members and guests attended.

Dr. Herbert I. Bloom of Congregation Temple Emanuel, gave the invocation and benediction.

Bernhardt S. Kramer, master of ceremonies, welcomed and introduced Louis Greenberg, the guest speaker. Mr. Greenberg, a resident of New York City, holds the office of membership chairman of B'nai B'rith Metropolitan Council, and is a member of the general committee.

The theme of Mr. Greenberg's address was the tenth anniversary of Israel's birth as an independent democratic nation. Mr. Greenberg related to the assemblage, the manifold areas in which B'nai B'rith activities have helped to build Israel. Mr. Greenberg also urged the necessary continuance by B'nai B'rith in its efforts to further the growth of that nation.

The address by Mr. Greenberg was then followed by the installation of new officers to the respective groups. Mrs. Harry Speigel, outgoing president for B'nai B'rith women, and Seymour Werbalowsky, who has been reelected to the office of president for the men's Lodge, presented their respective slate of officers for the coming year. They include: Women's Chapter president, Mrs. Arnold Pinsly; first vice president, Mrs. Leonard Bard; second vice president, Mrs. Albert Feldman; third vice president, Mrs. Harold Shorr; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Bruce Wally; recording secretary, Mrs. Melvin Mones; financial secretary, Mrs. Joseph Murkoff; treasurer, Mrs. Harvey Marcus; trustees; Mrs. Paul Mezer, three years, Miss Blanche Kirskenblum, two years, Mrs. Sam Barnowitz, one year.

Men's Lodge—President, Seymour Werbalowsky; first vice president, David Kline; second vice president, Dr. Herbert Derman; secretary; Arnold Pinsly; financial secretary, Herbert Gertner; trustees; David Popick, Leon Miller and Morton Zucker.

Awards for outstanding work in their respective offices were presented in the form of engraved scrolls to:

Mrs. Merril Stone, fund raising; Mrs. Albert Feldman, membership increase; Mrs. Richard Kalish, social services; Mrs. Joseph Murkoff, membership retention, Merril Stone, programming; Milton Dubin, membership retention; Herbert Gertner, financial programming.

Silver pins, in the form of B'nai B'rith symbol, a Menorah, awarded to the following women for outstanding service in chairmanship: The Mmes. William Zwick, Aaron Adin and Morton Levine, fund raising; Miss Irene Kaplan and Mrs. Irving Meyer, community services; Mrs. Bruce Wally, secretarial achievement, and Mrs. Leonard Bard, publicity.

Mrs. Arnold Pinsly announced the following committees and chairmen:

Adult Jewish Education, Mrs. Carl Lipton; Anti-Defamation League, Mrs. Jeremiah Sachs; B'nai B'rith Youth Organization, Mrs. Harvey Semiloff; Budget Allocations and Fund Raising, Mrs. Leonard Bard; Citizenship and Civic Affairs, Mrs. Merril Stone; Hillel, Mrs. Eugene Abramsky; Indoctrination, Laws and Legislation, Miss Blanche Kirshenblum; Membership Retention, Mrs. Harry Gold; Philanthropy, Mrs. Sam Barnowitz; Publicity, Mrs. Seymour Werbalowsky; Cerebral Palsy, the Mmes. Charles Forst and Robert Nadler; Tumor Clinic, the Mmes. Milton Dubin and J. Richard Naigles; Council of Social Agencies, the Mmes. Paul Mezer, Morton Honig and Leon Miller; Mental Health, Mrs. Morton Zucker; TB and Health, the Mmes. Edward Weissman and Charles Ronder; Cancer Materials, Mrs. Walter Meyers; Cheer, Mrs. Max Millens; Telephone Squad, the Mmes. William Helmrich and Irwin Gellen; Refreshments, Mrs. Zelda Perowitz; Community Council, the Mmes. Jerome Goldberg and Arnold Pinsly.

To Appear in Special Recital Sunday, May 4 At Marbletown Reformed, in Stone Ridge

FRANCES R. DEDRICK

Frances Dedrick of Stone Ridge, who has made numerous concert appearances throughout the East, will appear in a recital on Sunday, May 4, at the Marbletown Reformed Church in Stone Ridge.

The recital, which will begin at 8 p. m., is open to the public. A free will offering will be taken.

Frances Dedrick has appeared with Ruth St. Denis, internationally famous dancer in Carnegie Hall and for the Musicians' Club of New York, one of the oldest and most distinguished of such clubs. Other performances were for such groups as the Women's Press Club of New York City; the South Shore Symphony Society; and the National Federation of Music Club. Three years she performed with the Warwick Summer Choral. She also made a motion picture short and has participated in radio and television programs.

Starting at the age of seven, Frances Dedrick studied with Marion Bannerman of Long Island. While at college, she studied with Carlos Salzedo, considered by many the outstanding harpist in the world today.

Eastern Star

The regular meeting of Clinton Chapter 445, OES, will be held at Masonic Temple, 31 Albany Avenue, on Friday at 7:45 o'clock. At this meeting the five points will be honored. Following the business session, refreshments will be served and social hour enjoyed. All Eastern Stars and Master Masons are invited to attend.

Geraldine Scott Weds James E. Ransom in Double Ring Wedding

Miss Geraldine Scott of Newburgh, formerly of Plattekill, and a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Scott, was married Saturday, April 12, to A/1c James E. Ransom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roby Chester Ransom of Huntington, W. Va.

The wedding was solemnized at the Plattekill Methodist Church, the double ring ceremony being performed by the Rev. George Furnival, pastor of the Plattekill and Rossville Methodist Churches.

Soloists were the Misses Martha and Sandra Griffen and Patricia Dempsky of Fostertown, with Mrs. Edmund F. Wager Sr., as organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, George W. Scott, and wore a white silk and nylon gown of ballerina length, a fingertip veil attached to a crown of seed pearls, and she carried white carnations.

Donald Finland of Newburgh acted as best man. Ushers were A/2c Raymond Wiseman and S/Sgt. Barry Brooks of Stewart Field Base, Newburgh.

Following a reception at the Scott home in Newburgh, Mr. and Mrs. Ransom left for a wedding trip south, and will reside in Newburgh.

Mrs. Ransom is a graduate of Mount St. Mary's School, Newburgh, and is employed by the Penny Bag Co. there.

Airman Ransom is a graduate of Huntington, West Virginia High School, and is stationed at the USAF Air Base, Stewart Field, Newburgh.

Yankees Name Ciaccio Manager for NY-NJ State League Team

Newburgh Pilot Plans New Squad for Kingston

A veteran baseball figure who has compiled a brilliant record as field leader in Newburgh and developed five players for organized baseball will manage the Kingston Yankees of the New York-New Jersey League this season.

Fred J. Davi, owner of the Kingston franchise, today announced the appointment of Sal Ciaccio of Newburgh as field manager of the 1958 season.

Davi was highly elated with the acquisition of Ciaccio and promised Kingston would have its first real contender since the league was organized. The locals finished last in the eight-team circuit in 1957.

"Getting Ciaccio is a big break for us," said Davi, "and we know he will be able to assemble the kind of ball club needed to make Kingston a league contender. He has contacts with a wealth of college talent. Sal is a good handler of players and his long experience as a player and field leader makes him an ideal choice for us."

All-DUSO Player

A former All-DUSO third baseman with Newburgh Academy in 1934 and 1935, Ciaccio played semi-pro ball for the Newburgh Jewels in 1946 and 1947. He played with NFA in 1933-34-35 and Newburgh captured the DUSO championship in his last two seasons.

In 1948, with his brother Hugo, Ciaccio organized the NEBBCO nine, representing the Newburgh Boys Baseball Council, an organization set up to help the younger ball players in the Newburgh area.

Since that time, five players from the NEBBCO ranks have graduated to professional baseball. The top NEBBCO prospect, of course, is Billy Short, who signed with the New York Yankees in 1955 and has advanced to Binghamton of the Class A Eastern League.

Affiliated With Yanks

The NEBBCOs became affiliated with the New York Yankees in 1954 as a result of Ciaccio's negotiations with Paul Krichell, Harry Hesse and George Weiss.

SAL CIACCIO

Simultaneously with his career at Newburgh Academy, Ciaccio played American Legion Junior baseball in 1933 and 1934 with Newburgh and in 1933 played third base for Newburgh Legion, the New York State runnerup. The team met and lost to Johnson City in the Binghamton ball park in the state finals.

Well known throughout the Eastern area, Ciaccio is expected to assemble a strong roster for the Yankees in this year's NY-NJ circuit. He has already signed several players and will conduct tryouts later.

The Yankees are scheduled to launch their league season against the Saugerties Dutchmen on Memorial Day at Dietz Stadium.

Paul Foertsch's 696 Series Is All-Time Chalet Record

Paul Foertsch, sub-anchor on the Chalet squad, has rolled 696, the highest three game string in the history of the Chalet Leaders League and one of the highest triples ever recorded on the Rosendale lanes.

Rolling against Valley Inn this week, Foertsch powered games of 228, 250 and 218 to miss the coveted 700 mark by only four sticks. His 218 in the third game enabled The Chalet to soar to a high team single 1011. The team totalled 2750 with other sets of 897 and 842.

Kelder Slams 647

Foertsch's hefty shooting overshadowed a 647 slam by Ernie Kelder which ordinarily would have been high by a comfortable margin. Kelder spliced sets of 242-210-195.

Arnie Crookston fired 210-547, Gene Mulligan 212-550, Joe Steely 217-524, Bruce Temple 510, Dick Weir 508, Martin Joyce 507, Chet Myers 521; team results: Valley Inn 0, The Chalet 3; Myers Garage 0, Rosendale Florist 3; Schryver Lumber 2, D&H Tavern 1.

Pennant Picks Falter in IL

By The Associated Press

Toronto, Buffalo and Richmond, last year's first, second and third place clubs in the final International League standings, are having difficulty getting a winning streak underway this year. The three clubs have scored only four victories as compared to 16 losses.

Lynn Lovenguth, veteran pitcher for the Redwings who defeated the Virginians six times last year, did it again yesterday. But in beating Richmond 4-1 he needed help from reliefers Mel Wright and Bob Kuzava who came on in the ninth inning to get the final two batters with runners on second and third. Lovenguth gave up only six hits but four were doubles and one a home run.

In other games, the Montreal Royals shut out the Miami Marlins, 3-0, the Columbus Jets blasted Buffalo 11-5 and Havana beat Toronto 5-1.

Eddie Towne Winner In Roosevelt Debut

WESTBURY (AP) — Eddie Towne staged an exciting Eastern debut last night as he tore from sixth place at the top of the stretch to win the $3,000 class a pace at Roosevelt Raceway last night.

The 6-year-old gelding, just arrived from Santa Anita, was guided by Howard Beissinger to a 2:05 1-5 finish for the mile, half a length ahead of O'Brien Hanover. Eddie Towne, owned by Mrs. Henry Warren Jr. of Belvidere, Ill., paid $18.-90, $8.50 and $6.90 in his second victory in six starts for the season. Adios Dotty came in third.

600 Distinction

TOMAH, Wis.—Charlotte Honel became the second woman to roll a 600 series in the Tomah WBA. Her 621 included 190, 211 and 220. Eileen Lamb holds the all-time high of 630 rolled in 1952.

Detroit Threat to Yankees

Bobby Still Haunts Dodgers

Paul Foytack's Comeback Spurs Tiger Chances

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Fire-balling Paul Foytack and the Detroit Tigers are making liars out of those exhibition game statistics in the American League race.

The Tigers tip-toed back from the Southland with a 7-19 record, the worst in either league during the Grapefruit games, and Foytack looked the worst of 'em all, with a 14.06 earned run average.

But at the moment the Tigers are in second in the early standings, just a game back of the New York Yankees with their question-mark pitching staff showing four complete games. It was Foytack who put them there last night, gaining his second victory and second six-hit complete game with an 8-2 decision over the ambitious Kansas City Athletics that gave him a neat 1.00 era.

Washington's surprising Senators junked the Yankees' winning streak at six, coming from behind for a 10-inning 5-4 victory. The Cleveland Indians added to Chicago's woes 2-0, with Herb Score ending any question of his comeback by allowing the White Sox just three singles. Boston ended its losing string at five with a 7-5 victory over Baltimore.

The Senators stopped the Yankees on a run-scoring single by Jim Lemon, who was 3-for-4 and knocked in their first two runs in the third with a triple off Johnny Kucks.

Score struck out 13, for a total of 27 in his 21 innings, while outdueling Billy Pierce and matching his last shutout a year ago to the day—when he beat Pierce 5-0.

Pete Runnels, 3-for-3, singled home the clincher for Boston in the sixth and added a cushion run in the eighth. Ted Williams, Jackie Jensen and Frank Malzone had RBI hits in a three-run fifth that cracked a 2-all tie.

The Hero Clouts Double in Ninth To Beat LA

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

The charitable Chicago Cubs, giving up runs almost as fast as they scored 'em, still lead the National League today, thanks to Bobby Thomson, the much-traveled hero who still chills the Dodgers.

It was Thomson, of course, who walloped that playoff-winning home run against the Dodgers and gave the then New York Giants the 1951 pennant. And it was the Flying Seot, who since has shifted from the Giants to Milwaukee to the Giants to the Cubs, who capped a come-from-behind ninth with a two-run double that beat Los Angeles 7-6 last night.

Four of the Dodger runs were unearned, but the Cubs shrugged it off with three in the ninth off loser Clem Labine. Pinch-hitter Chuck Tanner started it, slicing a home run over the Coliseum's strained screen.

That saved a half-game lead for the Cubs over Cincinnati after the Redlegs had beaten Milwaukee and Lew Burdette, longtime nemeses, 2-0 on Bob Purkey's six-hitter. Philadelphia rapped Pittsburgh 8-1, and San Francisco, scoring six in the last two innings, defeated St. Louis 8-7.

Rare Redleg Victory

The Redlegs, whose pennant hopes died in 18 losses to the Braves last season, had only five hits off Burdette and reliever Gene Conley. But they clumped Purkey's double, an infield single, an infield out and Frank Robinson's single for the runs in the sixth. It was only the second Cincinnati victory over Burdette, who had a one-hitter for five, in 14 decision since May 26, 1955.

Jack Sanford, last year's top NL rookie with 19 victories, gained a 1-1 record with a seven-hitter and singled home two Philadelphia runs. Rip Repulski hit the Phils' first 1958 home run, with a man on.

Rookie Orlando Cepeda, 3-for-5, and Daryl Spencer, 4-for-5, had a hand in just about all of the Giant scoring. Spencer rammed a two-out, two-run homer that capped a four-run ninth triggered by Cepeda's two-run triple.

Venturi 5-1 In Las Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Select was the word today for the 22 golfers who set forth in the sixth annual $40,000 Tournament of Champions.

Playing the perfectly groomed Desert Inn Country Club's 7,048-yard course, an expanse of green dotting the desert, the first two-some was due to tee off at 1 p. m. pst.

First off the tee are Gene Littler, who has won this event, with its $10,000 top prize, three straight years, and his fellow San Diegan, Billy Casper, a strong rival for this one.

Littler, who didn't win another major tournament since his triumph here a year ago, said the par 36-36-72 course plays about the same as last year.

"The main problem is the wind," Littler added, referring to the gusty weather that can and has popped up without warning.

While Littler has tucked the Las Vegas event away three times, young Ken Venturi of San Francisco is the betting favorite in this resort where betting is legal.

Venturi is listed at 5-1. At 8-1 were Littler, Casper, Doug Ford and the recent masters winner, Arnold Palmer.

The ever popular Jimmy Demaret is 10-1, with Roberto de Vicenzo, Billy Maxwell, Tommy Bolt, Stan Leonard and national PGA champion Lionel Hebert 12-1.

Gracia Stops Toweel

GLASGOW, Scotland, April 23 (AP)—Guy Gracia, of France, defeated Willie Toweel, of South Africa, when the referee stopped the fight in the seventh round of their 10-round lightweight contest tonight.

Reading Batter Has Seven RBIs

By The Associated Press

Seven RBI's by Reading's Mitch June, a tie-snapping three-run rally by York, and two bases-loaded singles by Binghamton's Joe Arenivar added up to victories in Eastern League competition last night.

Reading walloped Allentown 10-4 in the Red Sox home opener; York broke a 7-7 tie with an eighth-inning rally for a 10-7 victory over Lancaster; and Binghamton made it two straight over Williamsport with an 8-4 win. The Albany at Springfield game was rained out.

Alston Puts Snider on Pan

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Duke Snider, the Los Angeles Dodgers' home run champion and highest priced performer at $42,500 a year, was taken off the payroll last night because he hurt his arm throwing a baseball over the 106-foot-high Memorial Coliseum rim.

Snider, who has been hobbling all spring after an operation to remove cartilege and a bone chip in his knee, suffered the arm injinjury during a bit of horseplay before the warmup for the game with the Chicago Cubs. His elbow was badly strained.

Manager Walt Alston was so incensed over the incident that he announced Duke would be docked until he could get back into the lineup.

Island Dock Keglers Capture Hi-Lo Pennant

Island Dock keglers are champions of the 1957-58 Hi-Lo League, having completed the season last night with a five-game margin over the runnerup Ramsey Hi Fi.

The Island Dock trundlers finished the season with 1-2 loss to Colonial tires for season's record of 55 wins and 35 defeats. Ramsey's won 50 and lost 40.

DiBella Raps 615

Fred DiBella was top shooter last night, mixing games of 220-190-205 for a 615 string.

Final Standings

Island Dock	55	35
Ramsey Hi Fi	50	40
Glad's Lunch	48	42
Kingston Block Co.	44	46
Colonial Tires	41	49
Bert Bishop, Inc	40	50

Golf Proving Old Man's Game

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP)—"It takes a long time to learn to play this game of golf," observed Jack Penrose, 42-year-old, balding ace from Miami, Fla., as he joined the gallery to watch later finishers seek places in the quarterfinals of the North and South Amateur Golf Tournament.

Penrose, himself 42 years old, had a point, it seems, after looking at today's setup. The oldsters had a field day as they waded through two rounds yesterday.

The "baby" of the field, 33-year-old Herb Durham of Dallas, Tex., meets Arnold Blum of Macon, Ga., who's 36, in the first of the day's four 18-hole matches.

Next comes Penrose and Bob Cochran of St. Louis, 44, and riding high after his victory over Billy Joe Patton in yesterday's third round.

Pinehurst's Dick Chapman, at 47, oldest of the eight survivors, takes on John Ward, 37-year-old real estate man from Fayetteville, N. Y. Completing the schedule, Bill Hyndman, of Abington, Pal, who was 42 last christmas day, goes against Alex Welsh, 38, of Rockford, Ill.

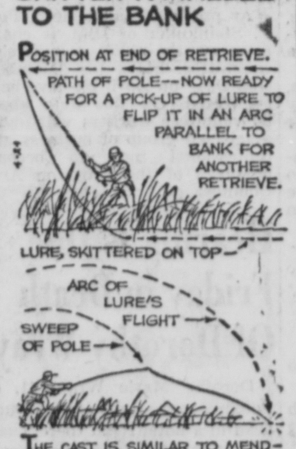
SKITTER PARALLEL TO THE BANK



THE CAST IS SIMILAR TO MENDING THE FLY CAST FOR CORRECT LOCATION AFTER A CAST.

A 20-FT. CANE POLE AND 25-FT. LINE MAY PERMIT CASTING OF UP TO 40 FT. PARALLEL TO BANK.

UPSETTING, ISN'T IT?—Giants' Jim Davenport slides into second as St. Louis Cards second baseman Don Blasingame drops ball in attempt for double play in first inning of game at Seals Stadium. Davenport was forced when Jim King grounded to third baseman Ken Boyer who relayed to Blasingame. Slide forced Blasingame to go high, juggle the ball and spoil twin killing try. Giants won, 8-7. (AP Wirephoto)

Casey Stengel's grabbing credit for the description of Dave Sisler as "a young feller who looks like he just come out of MIT, but pitches like a guy out of Notre Dame." . . . when actually it was Mickey Owen, the Red Sox coach, who coined the phrase . . .what's helped Sisler: he discarded the gentlemanly idea it wasn't cricket to knock a batter on his duff. . . .

Dave learned to control his pitches in self-defense . . . as a kid he used to shag balls for older brother Dick and his immortal dad . . . and if he didn't peg it to them straight, they're fire the ball back so hard it would almost take his young head off. . . .

Dave Sisler

An original Stengelism: "Skowron oughta kiss the pitchers every day. He thinks he should get a hit every time he goes to bat and the only reason he don't is the pitchers are mad at him and if he could get 'em friendly he would." . . . More Stengel: "That Bauer is a 35-year-old feller with a 25-year-old arm and runs desperate." . . .

Ford Frick enthusiastically describing the introduction of baseball to the west coast . . . then muttering, "Only the writers back here (New York) knock it."

The problems of a ballplayer: playing shortstop (and every other position) is such a consuming job for Gil McDougald that the Yankee infielder went for a cool grand to install a sprinkler system in the lawn of his New Jersey diggings . . . because he won't have the time or the inclination to water the vast acreage in the hot summer days. . . .

Verdict still out on the center fielding abilities of Marty Keough, Boston's bundle of bucks . . . but Red Sox writers vouch for the fact he's one of the best heart's players to come along in years. . .

The Dick Skuse who staged the huge welcome parade and reception that introduced the Giants to San Francisco . . . in a rain of 500 pounds of rose-petaled confetti and 10,000 baby orchids, not to mention 1,000 balloons (nothing like spontaneous enthusiasm) . . . is the same fellow who dreamed up the idea of Squaw Valley trying for the 1960 Winter Olympics, and landing them. . . .

Never since he deserted Mexico has Sal Maglie seen so little action as he has this spring . . . and admits plaintively, "A pitcher's got to pitch to be sharp."

If the Dan Hodge backers who mentioned a quarter of a million guarantee for the ex-Oklahoma A. and M. grappler to fight Floyd Patterson . . . and were shrugged off as publicity grabbers . . . are seriously willing to ante up the dough in '59, they've got a serious listener in Cus D'Amato. . . .

Hank Bauer can't understand all the oohing and aahing about the switch of Harvey Kuenn from shortstop to center field, supposedly the most demanding job in the gardens. . . . "It's tougher to play right," he grunts. "Ball slices." . . .

Between you'n'me, the same rumors that used to trail Jim Norris . . . about his interest in fighters extending beyond the promotion of their bouts . . . also crop up about succesor Truman Gibson and the Chicago stable of IBC favorites. . . .

Job Seniority

NEW YORK — Jocko Conlan, who came up in 1941, is the oldest umpire in the National League in point of service.

Registration for the American Little League will be held at 6 p. m. tomorrow and Saturday at the league's field near the State Armory on Manor Avenue.

All boys who have not played Little League ball are eligible to register, but must show proof of age. Parents are requested to accompany boys to the registration.

Tryouts are planned for the following week starting on Monday, with the regular player auction taking place after that. The boys who have been selected will be notified.

The boys who were not successful will be divided into teams which will form two minor leagues.

If boys are unable to register, they are requested to contact the league president or player agent Joseph Policano.

Kelly Traded For Hatfield

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians today announced the trading of infielder Fred Hatfield to Cincinnati for Bob Kelly, a right-handed pitcher.

Kelly won 24 and lost 11 last year with Nashville of the Southern Association. He is 30 years old.

The Championship Touch

St. Mary's of Kingston Capture CAA Pennant

St. Mary's of Kingston captured the 1957-58 Catholic Athletic Association pennant in spectacular fashion, wiping out a two-game deficit in the final match last night at the Bowlerama.

Trailing St. Peter's No. 1 by two sets going into the last match, the St. Mary's keglers staged a tremendous pressure show, to sweep three games from St. Joseph's No. 1. In doing so they clobbered the maples for a new team triple of 2750.

St. Peter's No. 1, meanwhile, found the challenge just a bit too rough and buckled to lose three straight to their own No. 2 squad. So, St. Mary's moved into the pennant by the margin of one game.

Noble Leads Team

Jim Noble sparked the championship effort with a 222-202-592 blast. All other St. Mary keglers took the pressure in stride to roll over 500 for a 2750 team effort. Bob Enright furnished 219-521, Joe Mahar 203-548, Frank Cirone 525, and George Magley 554.

Elsewhere in the league, Vince La Rocca shot 218-535, Ben Gulnick 205, Edward Cunningham 540, Joe Medvi 525, Fred Ferraro 515, Robert Henry 513, Charles Hertica 502, Jim Polito 521, Ed Lucas 500, Joe Mannello 533, John Loughlin Jr. 202-502, John Picklo 508, John Fautz 200-511, Ed Koskie 536, Art Smith Jr. 541, Ken Steltz 200, Frank Leirey Jr. 200-547; team results: St. Joseph's No. 1 (0), St. Mary's Kingston 3; St. Colman's 1, Catholic War Vets 2; St. Mary's Benevolent Society 0, Knights of Columbus 3; Church of Presentation 1, St. Joseph's No. 2 (2), Immaculate Conception 1, Sacred Heart Esopus 2; St. Peter's No. 1 (0), St. Peter's No. 2 (3).

Mary Is Consistent

AMSTERDAM, N. Y.—A consistent bowler is Mary Murphy. Rolling in the Commercial and City leagues, she has 69 games, 11,647 pins and a 168.55 average in both.

Falstaff Five Remains on Top

SYRACUSE (AP) — The Falstaff Brewing Corp. will get more than its money's worth out of its bowling promotions this year.

The San Antonio, Tex., edition of the Falstaffs crashed into second place in the American Bowling Congress tournament last night with a 3205 series, giving the brewery a 1-2 monopoly in the Open Team division.

The St. Louis Falstaffs have led the ten pin carnival since April 10, when they blasted 3210.

The Texans turned out their hefty total in fine dramatic fashion. They opened with a mediocre 944 game, then salvaged a 1035 in the middle game. In the finale, however, they scorched the alleys with a 1226 count, the highest team game ever recorded in the 55 years of ABC history.

1186 Old Record

The Tea Shops of Milwaukee, Wis., had scored an 1186 game in the 1957 ABC at Peoria, Ill., to hold the record for 31 years before it was demolished last night.

The Fairlanes team of Fairless Hills, Pa., moved into sixth place with 1052-990-1007—3049 last night.

The only change in the minor events yesterday came as Danny Thomas and James Pantazides of Detroit collaborated for a 1296 total to take seventh place in the Doubles standings.

Meanwhile, Toledo, Ohio—scene of five previous ABC championships between 1913 and 1926—appeared virtually assured as the host city for the 1960 tournament.

Officers and directors of the congress will determine the host city for 1960 today. Awarded two years in advance, the 1959 tournament will be in St. Louis.

Wins Sprint Race

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Moving to the lead on the ninth lap, Ed Elisian of Oakland, Calif., Sunday won the 30-lap, 15-mile sprint-car race at Daytona Speedway.

Laurel Double Pays $1,381

LAUREL, Md., Apr. 23 (AP) —Royal Brigade, only twice a winner in 23 previous starts the past two years, and Little Chains, a 4-year-old who never placed in the money before, combined for a $1,381.20 daily double at Laurel today.

Royal Brigade, now 7 years old, paid $52.40, $18.40 and $11 across the board. Little Chains paid $50, $23.40 and $11.40.

Sis Balash Slams 568

Pepsi Golf Set For Meadowbrook

The qualifying round of the rich Pepsi Golf Championship will be held at The Meadow Brook Club, Jehrico, Long Islan, N. Y., on Monday, June 23.

The Meadow Brook Club, nationally famous for its golf and polo, offers one of the country's most attractive and difficult golf courses. Its championship distance is 7,101 yards and par is 71.

After the qualifying round, the Pepsi Golf Championship moves to The Pine Hollow C.C., East Norwich, Long Island, N. Y., for the tournament which begins with a $10,000 Pro-Celebrity-Amateur Day on June 25, followed by a four day, 72 hole, medal play championship for $50,000.

Total prize money of $60,000 makes the Pepsi Golf Championship the richest event on the 1958 tournament schedule.

Shields Leads New Jersey Golf

SPRING LAKE, N. J.—William (Billy) Shields of Albany, former New York State Amateur champion, fired a one-under-par 37-34-71 today to feature a Newark Athletic Club golf tournament at the Homestead Country Club.

Joe Collins, former New York Yankee first baseman, had a 42-46-88 among the guests. Collins lives in Englewood.

National LL Plans Tryouts

National Little League will hold a tryout and final registration Monday, April 28, at 5:45 p. m. at Kingman Park.

All boys who have already signed up and who did not have their birth certificates are reminded to be sure and have their birth certificates with them.

This is the first tryout of the season and any youngster who has not signed may do so Monday. Boys are asked to please bring their glove and number.

10 May Start

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 23—Ten sophomores race tomorrow in Keeneland's Blue Grass stakes but there isn't a single big name for Kentucky Derby speculation in the field. This $25,000-added stakes becomes a wide-open scramble among the 3-year-olds seeking a shot at the Derby on May 3 at Louisville.

Gets Check-Up

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Outfielder Billy Bruton will fly to Oklahoma City Wednesday for another checkup on his knee by a bone specialist, the Milwaukee Braves said Monday.

Polynesian rafts made of flax stems were so sturdy they would carry 60 warriors at a time, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Archery Club Plans 1st Shoot

Kingston Archery Club plans its first outdoor shoot of the season, Sunday at its course on Lucas Avenue Extension (at the four corners) in Kingston.

This will be an invitational shoot for all divisions and trophies will be awarded. The club will have all of its 28 targets going on the all-wooded course.

Beginners, families and spectators are welcomed. Registration will be from 8 a. m. to 11 a. m. All scores must be in by 5 p. m.

SPRING SKIING—Despite the 40 to 50-degree temperatures, the snow on Ascutney Mountain, near Windsor, Vt., is more than four feet deep, which is nice for springtime skiers. John Howland, Jr., and Ann Harvey in shorts soak in the sum.

LASSIE LEAGUER—One of 12,000 girls expected to be in action throughout the country this spring and summer slams a screamer past the first baseman at Collegeville, Pa., and takes off for first base. Lassieball is a modified form of softball for girls from 10 to 15. It's something for the little gals.

Harry Grayson's SCOREBOARD

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK, NEA — The baseball writer gets a nice, comfortable feeling when he visits the Red Sox.

Ted Williams

Nobody sweats or kicks up a fuss. Boston is a splendid place to play and the pay is good. Everything will be quite all right as long as the club makes a respectable showing. Nobody expects the Bosox to beat the Yankees, anyway.

This perhaps has been the Red Sox' principal trouble through the years, accounting for the fact that they have won just one penant—that in what practically amounted to a war year, 1946—in the 24 years Tom Yawkey has owned them. They have managed to remain close, but no better, despite all the money Yawkey has lavished upon them.

And early indications are that this is just another edition of Red Sox. They remain closer to any other outfit a one-man show starring Ted Williams.

The Red Sox took it cozy in training because there was no competition for jobs.

Williams started out of shape because he did nothing more than pinch-hit in exhibition games before coming down with food poisoning. The Thumper is still annoyed by an old ankle sprain.

The infield appeared to be set with Don Buddin coming out of the Army to play shortstop and Kenny Aspromonte showing signs last fall that he could fill the bill at second base.

Easy-going Mike Higgins opened with Pete Daley catching in the hope of getting more in the way of an attack out of him than Sammy White could contribute.

But the season was only six games old and four of them had been lost to Washington when changes had to be made. Daley, Aspromonte and Jimmy Piersall had to be benched in a desperate attempt to get men on base. Aspromonte, who gave way to Billy Consolo, was batting .067 and Piersall, replaced by Marty Keough, .095.

It now turns out that Aspromonte is entirely too slow. Piersall is a notoriously poor spring hitter, but everybody outside of Boston has known all along that he does not pack enough power at any time to play in the outfield.

There is still considerable question about the hitting of Consolo, who was paid $60,000 for signing. The same goes for Keough, a spray hitter who got $90,000 and spent last summer in San Francisco.

Red Sox reinforcements included Pete Runnels, who played all over the infield for Washington, and Bill Renna, a big outfielder on whom the Yankees gave up years back. Runnels surprisingly opened the season at first base, which Dick Gernert was claiming for his own. Renna has a blind spot.

After a quick look at them, such an astute judge as Casey Stengel seemed to throw out the Red Sox as contenders.

Valdes Seeks Title Shot After Win Over De John

SYRACUSE (AP)—Outspoken Bobby Gleason, manager of heavyweight Nino Valdes, began his tub-thumping today for a title match following his fighter's split decision victory over Mike DeJohn of Syracuse.

"I'm going to see (Julius) Helfand in New York and post a $5,000 bond and demand a championship match with (Floyd) Patterson," Gleason said after last night's fight.

In almost the same breath, however, Gleason "thought a rematch with DeJohn would be a good thing."

"Why not keep my boy fighting," he said. "I know Cus D'Amato won't let his guy in there with my fighter."

Valdes, 206½, won last night's fight at the State Fair Coliseum on a two-point margin over his blood-smeared opponent. DeJohn weighed 204.

Referee Al Berl gave the fight to DeJohn 5-4 with one round even. Judge Bill Recht saw Valdes 6-4 while Judge Bert Grant called the 10-round, nationally televised affair 5-5 in rounds but gave Valdes eight points, two more than DeJohn. The AP scored it 5-3 and two even in favor of Valdes.

Says Layoff Hurt

Mike's manager-brother Johnny DeJohn, who also calls the signals for Carmen Basilio, claimed the long layoff from Mike's last battle in October was a factor in the loss. Mike blamed a hand injury received in the second round.

A crowd of 2,970 paid $8,995 to watch Mike lose his fourth fight in 39. The victory was the 43rd for Valdes against 15 losses and two draws.

Moses Graham, 204, Buffalo, outpointed Sam Jones, 199, New York, in six.

Julio Romero, 147, New York, outpointed Richard Stewart, 146, Syracuse, in six.

Moses Walker, 176¾, Syracuse, outpointed George Cartalian, 175½, Syracuse, in six.

Ricardo de Veronica, 134, Canastota, outpointed Carl Schroeder, 135, Rome, N. Y., in four.

Chamber Expects Full Committee Names by May 1

The appointment of 1958-59 committees in the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce will be completed by May 1, the beginning of the fiscal year. The terms of all standing committees for 1957-58 expire at the end of the fiscal year, April 30.

Robert L. Sabin, president of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, announced today that the chairmanships of the various committees, together with the personnel thereof, would be announced as acceptances are received.

Ronald G. Drowns, manager of the Governor Clinton Hotel, has accepted the chairmanship of the convention and visitor's committee. This committee will develop an aggressive program to attract conventions of all kinds as well as visitors to this historic city.

William R. Stall, who is affiliated with the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston, will continue as chairman of the established industry promotion committee and Attorney Hugh R. Elwyn will serve as chairman of the city and county legislative affairs committee for 1958-59.

Others who have already accepted chairmanships of Chamber committees are: James D. Hood of IBM, chairman of the education committee and Arthur W. Patteron, affiliated with the accounting firm of Franke, Hannon & Withey, will serve as chairman of the national legislative affairs committee.

As previously announced, Paul F. Steinkuller of IBM, is chairman of the 1958 membership committee. Plans for "Membership Day" on April 29, have been completed. On this date about 30 volunteer workers will invite a selected group of business and professional men to become members of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce.

Hearing Is Due Friday in Death Of Dorothy Wray

Dorothy Marie Wray, 41, of Poughkeepsie, who was found dead in a hotel room there Tuesday, died of a cerebral concussion, Dr. William Thompson, assistant Dutchess County medical examiner said.

Police Tuesday afternoon, arrested Joseph George DuBraski, 33, of 174 Mansion Street, on a second degree manslaughter charge. He pleaded innocent and is due for a preliminary hearing tomorrow.

Authorities said DuBraski admitted that he had been drinking and had fought with Miss Wray, who managed the Embassy Arms Hotel, 348 Mill Street. She was found dead at about 11 a. m., Tuesday.

DuBraski, operator of a grinding machine in the Schatz Manufacturing Co., is in jail for lack of $20,000 bail. Police said he had know Miss Wray for several years. He is nearly six feet tall and weighs 204 pounds, police said.

Police noted that DuBraski had been tried and acquitted on a third degree assault charge last May. The charge was lodged by another woman, and Miss Wray was a prosecution witness.

Rosendale

ROSENDALE — The regular meeting of the Village of Rosendale Taxpayers Association will be held at the village firehall Monday, April 28, at 8 p. m. Nomination of officers for the coming term of office will take place. Dues for the current year are now payable.

The Winesap apple, available through June, is both an eating (as is) and cooking apple.

Mental Exam Not Completed, Jury Has Scott Story

An examination of William Scott, 76-year-old Brimestone Hill, town of Wawarsing, farmer, to determine whether he is mentally responsible for the alleged shooting of 8-year-old Joseph Kowaski last Friday, has not been completed.

Meanwhile the grand jury today began an inquiry into the facts surrounding the death of the 8-year-old grand-nephew of Scott who was found dead from a gunshot wound.

Scott, who has served time for the death of his own small child, has stated he shot the Kowaski lad because he "bothered" him. Scott and his wife, since dead, were sent to prison in 1915 for the death of their own small baby which was abandoned in the woods and later died of starvation after the infant had been discovered in the woods.

Scott is being held on a first degree murder charge, pending grand jury action.

After his arrest last Saturday a mental examination was ordered to determine whether he was mentally responsible for the shooting of the young boy.

Kowaski was lured to a wooded spot after alighting from a school bus and apparently shot from behind. A double barrelled 12-gauge shotgun was found near the body which was discovered by the boy's grandfather, Chris Whitty, after the boy had failed to return home from school.

Rosendale Will Oppose Closing Of Rail Station

During a joint meeting of the town board and village board of Rosendale Tuesday night it was voted to engage counsel and appose the closing of the Rosendale station on the Wallkill Valley Branch of the New York Central Railroad as sought by the railroad.

A public hearing has been scheduled for May 29 at the Court House, Kingston, by the Public Service Commission on the application of the railroad to close the Rosendale station, also the stations at New Paltz, Gardiner and Wallkill.

At the joint meeting of the town and village boards of Rosendale the matter was discussed and it was voted to engage counsel and protest application of the railroad on behalf of the town, citizens and taxpayers.

It is sought to close the Rosendale station and make Kingston the control station. Only carload shipments would be received at Rosendale.

Resents PM's View

WASHINGTON (AP — Sen. Monroney (D-Okla) said today he resents Postmaster General Summerfield's statement that elimination of the 5-cent letter stamp from a postal rate increase bill is an unreasonable "raid on the Treasury."

Monroney told the Senate that Summerfield either did not know what he was talking about or "deliberately misrepresented the facts."

Senate-House conferees assigned to adjust differences between two versions of the bill voted yesterday to knock out the temporary 5-cent rate on out-of-town letters approved by the Senate and to fix a straight 4-cent charge.

High School Choir Will Give Scarsdale Concert April 30

Kingston High School Choir will appear in a program at Scarsdale High School on April 30 under the auspices of the Music Department. They have also received invitations to sing in Poughkeepsie and Hyde Park.

The choir, which is directed by Leonard Stine, was first organized in 1940. Each member studies voice training.

Having won top ratings in 11 New York State and two national competitions, the group has twice toured Connecticut, Pennsylvania, New York State, and in 1957 made a six day trip to South Carolina. The choir has twice appeared in the concert series sponsored by the Dutchess County Music Association.

Among many distinctions held by Kingston High School Choir is that of having performed Berlioz' "Requiem" under Robert Shaw. In 1956, the group appeared on a program for the Southeastern Zone Meeting of New York State Teachers Association. Other appearances have been made at Potsdam State Teachers College; New York University; New Paltz State Teachers College; Gettysburg College; Vassar College.

About the choir the New York Herald Tribune wrote, "a noteworthy illustration of what has been accomplished with high school students."

Couple Celebrate 45th Anniversary At Surprise Party

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Osberg of 36 Pine Grove Avenue, were honored recently at a surprise party given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Hulsair, 137 Glen Street.

The party was held in observance of the Osberg's 45th wedding anniversary.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dutto; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Powell; Mrs. Emil Lawatsch; Mr. and Mrs. Percy Mott; Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Mott; Brother John Patrick of Marist Preparatory School.

Congratulatory messages were also received from Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones of Kingston; Miss Hilma Osberg of Washington, D. C. and Mrs. Hilda Eastman of Ontario, Canada.

3 Stills Seized, Five Are Held In Fishkill Raid

FISHKILL (AP)—Three big alcohol stills were seized and five persons taken into custody early today when state police and federal alcohol tax agents raided a private dwelling here.

Police said the house, in a new residential development, contained elaborate distilling equipment including three 275-gallon stills.

Those taken into custody were identified by officers as Mr. and Mrs. Martin D. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. John Rivera, and Jack C. Richards. Officers said the two couples lived in the house, while Richards resided elsewhere in Fishkill.

The raiding party said that it found one five-gallon container of straight alcohol on the premises, plus a 20-gallon container of mash, from which alcohol is distilled.

Joins Briggs Staff

EARLE D. SHERWOOD

Earle D. Sherwood of Hurley has joined the sales staff of J. Ellis Briggs, Inc., on the Saugerties road, it was announced today.

Sherwood has been in the plumbing, heating, cooling and appliance business for the past 14 years. He has also taken courses on domestic heating and cooling and has experience in kitchen layouts.

Briggs said today that he was very pleased to be able to announce Sherwood's addition to his staff.

Sherwood resides in Hurley with his wife, Gertrude, and a son, Richard.

Rita M. Herzog Feted at Party

A surprise bridal shower was given for Miss Rita M. Herzog Saturday, April 19, at the home of Mrs. Gerard Scharschu in East Kingston. Hostesses were the Mmes. Joseph Fiore, William Herzog and Scharschu.

Attending were the Mmes. Daniel Dickens, Andrew Campbell, James Howard, Thomas F. McCullough, Fred W. Herzog, Peter Fiore, Ralph Nardi, Donald Herzog, Frank Fiore, Michael Kemlage, Sal Castiglione, Michael Quarantino, Alex Kish Jr., Irene Pierce, and the Misses Agnes Qualtere, Ann Kerntopf, Mary Herzog, Carol Herzog, Mary Ann Kemlage, Margaret Volker and Jeannine McCullough.

Gifts were also received from the Mmes. Charles Steegmuller, Edward Devine, Settino Fiore, William Sinsabaugh, Catherine Fiore, Florence Celuch, Richard Garrity and the Misses Marie Dueppe and Kathleen Fiore.

Miss Herzog will be married to Francis J. McCullough Saturday, May 10.

HST Splits Feelings

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman, who flew here last night for an overnight stay, had kind words for ailing Herbert Hoover but took a little dig at a Republican official.

Truman will go to Albany tomorrow to address the 89th convocation of the Board of Regents, which runs the State University System, and to accept an honorary degree.

Truman was asked to comment on GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn's statement that the Republicans do not expect to win the Senate this fall but do expect to win the House.

Oneonta College Will Stage Carousel On May 15, 16 and 17

Rodgers and Hammerstein's Broadway hit "Carousel" will be presented as the 1958 Oneonta State University Teachers College annual spring musical, it was announced by Dr. Josef A. Elfenbein.

Dr. Elfenbein, a faculty member of the Oneonta State University Teachers CoHege and director of the expansive production, said that the musical will be given in Alumni Hall of the college at 8:15 p. m., May 15, 16 and 17. He added that the third performance will enable visiting Oneonta graduates to attend the show while on campus for the 1958 Alumni Weekend program.

The Oneonta production of "Carousel," the musical which has been chosen for presentation at the World Fair in Brussels with many of the original cast, will have John C. Worley, SUTC, Oneonta music professor, as orchestra director and another State music department member Charles C. Burnsworth, as director of vocal music.

George W. Irving, SUTC faculty member, is the technical director for the May staging, Mrs. Esther K. Elfenbein will supervise costuming and Miss Joyce Hammond, of SUTC, is in charge of choreography.

Produced by Mask and Hammer, the college's dramatic society, "Carousel" will require a cast and crew of approximately 200. Most of this number will be made up of SUTC students, but several members of the orchestra and technical crew will be adults from the community and the SUTC faculty. Several pupils from Bugbee School will also have parts in the musical comedy. The show's director said that a listing of cast, orchestra and technical staff will be released soon.

Previous spring musicals presented by the Oneonta college have been: "Brigadoon," "Girl Crazy" and "New Moon." The former, the 1957 production, played to the largest audience ever assembled at Oneonta State University Teachers College.

All seats for the forthcoming presentation will be reserved, and patrons are urged to call Oneonta 832 or write in care of Mask and Hammer at the college.

Seats for the spring musical are usually sold out over a week prior to the performance. Dr. Elfenbein reminded those who have made reservations that tickets can not be held after 8 p. m. of the evening of one's choice unless it is indicated by the patron that the tickets will be secured at a definite time.

The selection of "Carousel" as the 1958 musical comedy follows the college policy of choosing the best in musicals to appear on Broadway. The carousel, for which the play was named, is receiving special local treatment, Dr. Elfenbein said. He reported that it is being built at the college, and that very few persons, except the construction crew, will see it before the actual staging.

Too Far From Home

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (AP) — State police arrested John R. Hirsch, city employe, while he was driving a 1926 Reo truck which belongs to the city. The truck did not have license plates —not even for 1926. Alvin Keller, city finance director, paid the $9 fine and said the truck is used at the water and light plant and is not supposed to be taken from that place.

About one-third of all linseed oil produced in this country is produced in Buffalo.

PICTURING 10 YEARS OF ISRAEL'S PROGRESS

Starting today, Israel embarks on a year-long celebration of the country's 10th anniversary. Israel became officially independent on May 14, 1948, when the British trustee administration withdrew and the Israeli Provisional State Council proclaimed independence. Simultaneously military forces of Egypt, Trans-Jordan, Syria, Lebanon and Iraq invaded the new country. The infant Israeli army beat them off and has held its Arab enemies at bay ever since. Some highlights of Israel's progress in its first decade are illustrated here.

Before Israel, Palestine was largely a primitive, agricultural area, much of it desert. It was from Palestine, which had not been an independent state since 63 B.C., that Israel was carved by the U.N.

AGRICULTURE: Cultivated area more than doubled, from 412,000 acres in 1948 to 956,250 in 1956. INDUSTRY: In 10 years a sevenfold increase. From a negligible start, 1948, it totaled $700 million by 1957.

EXPORTS: Industrial exports rose from 10.4 million dollars in 1949 to 50.4 million in 1956. Total exports in 1956 were 107.2 million.

CONSTRUCTION: Israel's cities and settlements are marked by the most modern housing projects and office buildings. REFUGEES: One of Israel's biggest headaches are the Arab refugees, displaced by partition of Palestine. There are more than 120,000 of them. Israel and the UN cooperate on the problem.

More Than 25 Plan To Take National Scholarship Tests

More than 25 students at Saugerties High School plan to take the National Merit Scholarship qualifying test, Dr. Grant D. Morse, Superintendent, announced today. The test will be administered at the high school at 9 a. m., Tuesday, April 29.

An estimated $5 million in merit scholarships and other awards are at stake in the national competition, now beginning its fourth year. Some $12 million in merit scholarships have been awarded in the first three years of the program.

Merit scholarships are provided by some 80 corporations, foundations, professional societies and individuals, as well as by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation itself, which conducts the competition.

The National Merit Scholarship qualifying test is a three hour measure of educational growth and aptitude. Emphasis is on broad intellectual skills, and on understanding and ability to use what has been learned, rather than on sheer knowledge of facts.

A group of 10,000 students—composed of the highest scorers in each state—will advance to the semi-finals when the results are reported to all participating schools next fall. Semi-finalists will then take a second examination. Those who repeat their high performance on the second examination will become finalists in the program and will indicate their choice of college and course of study. Further evaluation of their grades, citizenship, and extracurricular achievements will follow, and the winners will be announced in the spring of 1959.

The test results will be available at the beginning of the senior year, in time for use by seniors and their class advisors. The scores may also be used in many high schools to help students make decisions about college and the most appropriate courses in which to major. Many students throughout the country who do not expect to win have registered for the test, in order to learn more about their individual strengths and weaknesses.

Dr. John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, recently cautioned that there are many reasons why test results cannot be used to evaluate school performance. The distribution of the population throughout the state, the size of the school, the native intelligence of its top students, the percentage of students taking the test, the nature of the community where the school is located, the purpose of the school, and many factors having nothing to do with the total effectiveness of the school can influence its number of finalists.

The test results will however, enable students as individuals, to compare their scores with other students across the nation.

The test has been constructed by Science Research Associates of Chicago, and will also be scored and reported by the testing agency.

Each merit scholarship carries a stipend based on the need of each individual winner, and is renewable annually without further competitive examination. The average stipend in past years has been $650 per year. The minimum award in the 1958-59 program will be $100 a year and a maximum will be $1,500 a year.

The names of all program finalists will be sent to colleges and universities and other scholarship organizations throughout the country. In this way many non-winning finalists are helped in winning scholarships awarded directly by colleges and other organizations.

About 1,000 merit scholar winners of the 1957-59 competition, will be named May 1. They are winners in the third merit program which began last October.

The National Merit Scholarship Corporation directs the annual competition. It was founded in 1955, on grants of $20 million by the Ford Foundation and $500 thousand by the Carnegie Corporation of New York.

Minister, Delegate Set For Methodist Sessions

The pastor of the Saugerties Methodist Church, the Rev. George Werner, and the lay delegate of the church, Lewis Fellows, will attend the annual session of the New York Conference, meeting this week in Christ Church, Park Avenue, New York City.

The conference will be conducted by the Bishop of the New York Area, Dr. Frederick B. Newell, who will ordain young men entering the Chistian ministry Sunday afternoon at the 3 o'clock service.

Mrs. Werner will speak to the Deaconess Association of New York at the Friday afternoon tea and open house.

Saugerties Methodist Youth Fellowship will be represented at conference by Pennie Pettinger and Audrey Beaudoin who will participate in the youth activities.

The Rev. Mr. Werner will report on recommendations to be made by the minimum salary study committee, and Mr. Fellows is a member of the World Service and Finance Commission. Mrs. Fellows will accompany her husband to the conference.

Next Sunday, April 27, while the Rev. Mr. Werner is at conference, the Saugerties Methodist Church pulpit will be filled by Warren VanTuyl of Windemere who preached in the church last summer.

VanTuyl has studied at the Yale Divinity School and the Union Theological Seminary in New York City. The Sunday school will begin at 9:45 and the worship service at 11 a. m. The public is invited to attend the service.

SHS Debaters Beaten At Albany State Finals

Saugerties High School varsity and novice debaters were overwhelmed Saturday at Albany in the New York State Debate Finals. Eight New York City schools dominated the three divisions and only Jamestown of upstate was able to win placement, it was announced today.

Representing Saugerties in the varsity division was Carolyn Roeser, Nancy Overbagh, Anthony Francello and Lowell Mayone. In the novice division Paul Kruger and George Popowicz won 3 of 4. Other squads composed of Hannah McLennon, Arlene Krom, Carolyn Halpert, Nancy Overbagh, Malcolm MacKay and Stanley Newkirk floundered gaining only three wins and losing 10.

Saugerties gained the finals by sweeping to first in the varsity and second and third in the novice at the Monawk-Hudson Regional March 8. Fifty-three squads representing 44 schools participated. Malcolm A. Bump, local coach, was reelected a state director for two years.

Lion Club News

Mrs. William C. Plimley will be the guest of honor at the Lions Club meeting Monday night, April 28.

This invitation was extended in appreciation for the time and effort she spent in making the Lions Club minstrel show last weekend a success. Charles Gilmore was also invited since his participation in the minstrel as an end-man was one of the outstanding acts of the show.

Malden-W. Camp Notes

West Camp Auxiliary of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, West Camp, will hold a cafeteria supper tonight at 5:30 p. m. until all are served in the parish hall. Virginia baked ham will be the entree.

Gretchen Coons and Kay Moose, Miss Saugerties of 1957, will vie for the title of Page One Queen Saturday afternoon at Governor Clinton Hotel. The queen will preside at the newspapermen's dinner and ball Saturday, May 3 at Governor Clinton Hotel. The two West Camp girls are among six of Saugerties entered in the contest.

The church council of St. Paul's Church meets Sunday at 7:30 p. m. in the parish hall.

The Saugerties Area Council of Churches meets in West Camp parish hall Monday at 6 p. m.

Albert J. Cawein of West Camp Dartball team was voted to represent the team in the all-star game to be played in West Camp parish hall Monday, May 5. The annual league dartball banquet will be served in the parish hall at 6:45 p. m. prior to the all-star game and league series games.

Cementon Dartball team voted Adam Gage to represent them in the game.

West Camp will participate in the Newburgh Dartball Council Hudson Valley Tournament Thursday, May 1 at Newburgh YMCA.

Mrs. James Wynne of Bennett Avenue, Saugerties, was a recent visitor of Mrs. Anna Winchell of Malden.

Worship services in Malden Methodist Church have been cancelled this Sunday in order that the minister, the Rev. Albert Arbogast may attend the Methodist conference in New York City.

Baptist Church Offers MissionaryFilmSunday

The Kodachrome sound film "The Call of the Southern Cross" will be shown at First Baptist Church, Partition above Main, Saugerties, Sunday at 7:30 p. m.

This is a professionally prepared film showing missionary work in South America. Filmed in Argentina and Brazil, the picture depicts present day life in South America. The picture is of interest not only from the religious standpoint, but from the social and economic as well.

Chamber of Commerce Meeting Highlights

The continuance of the annual Miss Saugerties Pageant conducted by Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce was assured by the appointment of Mrs. Joan Feldmann, secretary of Saugerties Youth Council, as Chamber social activities chairman.

Mrs. Feldmann replaces Mrs. Irene Roming who resigned from that post after conducting three successful Miss Saugerties promotions.

Mrs. Feldmann's committee includes Mrs. Roming, former Chamber President Thomas W. Reynolds Jr., and former executive secretary, Albert J. Cawein. All served on the committee for the past three years.

The committee meets this afternoon at Reynold's Photo Studio, Partition Street, Saugerties to set the date for the pageant and annual coronation ball.

The decision to continue the annual event, created by the Chamber as an activity for the young ladies of the Saugerties township, was approved by a 2 to 1 vote of the members present.

The membership approved a proposal to enter a car conveying Kay Moose, Miss Saugerties of 1957 in the VFW Loyalty Day parade in Saugerties Saturday, May 3.

A similar proposal for entering a car conveying Chamber members and one with Miss Saugerties for the July 4th parade was also approved.

Nat Aaron was named chairman of the proposed "Do It Now" campaign of the State Department of Commerce designed to combat recession. Aaron will choose his committee for the promotion.

The Chamber went on record to advise the New York State Employment Service of the urgent need of a two-day office to process the unemployed of the Saugerties area in Saugerties, rather than at the Kingston office.

President George E. Thornton said that Town Supervisor Peter M. Williams and Mayor George P. Holmes have made similar requests of the Albany office of the agency.

Robert Levintan, chairman of the welcoming committee reported that five new members were signed in recent calls made with Ben Fein.

The matter of publishing the new edition of the Saugerties classified business directory was tabled for the next meeting Wednesday, May 21 at 8 p. m., at a place to be announced.

Accidental Alarm Finds Staff Alert At Benedictine

An alarm today, which summoned the city's fire units to the Benedictine Hospital in full force, was accidental, but Fire Chief James M. Brett noted that it tested alertness at the hospital.

Box 3421 at the hospital sounded the alarm when an electrician was connecting a sprinkler unit with the alarm system.

No inside alarm resulted, however, and the hospital's personnel did not realize the possibility of an emergency until the first fire equipment arrived.

Then, the chief said, the hospital went into immediate execution of its emergency plan with no signs of undue excitement or hint of panic.

"I was impressed with the way in which the entire staff and personnel of the hospital were in full accord with the emergency plan," the chief said, " and I compliment all for the way everything turned out."

Dr. William Morton, a Boston dentist, first demonstrated the use of ether as an anesthetic in tooth extraction in 1846.

LEGAL NOTICES

OFFICIAL NOTICE

Whereas rabies exists in Ulster County, and

Whereas the state commissioner of health has so certified,

Notice is hereby given that the provisions of Section 2140, of Title IV, Article 21 of the Public Health Law, are in full force and effect in the above-mentioned municipality. In accordance with the provisions therein contained, Section 2140 of Article 21 is published herewith.

PUBLIC HEALTH LAW
TITLE IV, ARTICLE 21
SECTION 2140
RABIES: PREVENTION OF THE SPREAD

1. Whenever the disease known as rabies shall exist in any county or in the vicinity thereof, and the commissioner shall so certify to the health officer of such county or any local health district contained therein it shall be the duty of such health officer immediately to publish a notice of the existence of such disease, together with a copy of this section, and sections two thousand one hundred forty-one to two thousand one hundred forty-three, inclusive, of this chapter, in a newspaper generally circulated within such county, or local health district contained therein or by posting in several conspicuous places, or by both such publication and posting. 2. Until the commissioner shall have certified that rabies no longer exists in such county or local health district and due notice shall have been given, it shall be unlawful for any person owning, boarding or otherwise keeping or having in his custody a dog within such county, or local health district, to permit such dog to be at large elsewhere than on the premises of the owner except that it be on the premises of another person with the knowledge and assent of such other person; provided, however, that subject to conditions prescribed by the commissioner and in areas designated by him, a dog which has been actively immunized against rabies may be permitted to be at large.

SECTION 2141
RABIES: DOGS AT LARGE; VIOLATION AND PENALTY

Any person owing or harboring a dog and who shall permit such dog to be at large in violation of the provisions of section two thousand one hundred forty of this chapter is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be subject to a fine or not to exceed twenty-five dollars for the first offense, and for each subsequent offense to a fine or not less than twenty-five nor more than fifty dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for not to exceed twenty-five days, or by both said fine and imprisonment.

SECTION 2142
RABIES: DOGS AT LARGE: SEIZURE AND DISPOSAL: REPORTS.

1. During the period when the disease known as rabies shall exist in any county or in the vicinity thereof as certified by the commissioner pursuant to the provisions of section two thousand one hundred forty of this chapter, any duly appointed dog warden or any peace officer shall and any other person may seize and confine or kill any dog found at large in violation of this article.

2. Any person confining or killing a dog under the provisions of this section shall immediately report in writing the fact relating thereto to the local health officer. Such person shall not be held liable for damages for killing a dog found in violation under the provisions of this section, provided that the facts relating thereto have been reported to the health officer as herein required.

3. The local health officer shall forward the report or a copy thereof to the department.

SECTION 2143
RABIES: DOGS AT LARGE: SEIZURE AND DISPOSITION; FEES.

1. Any peace officer and any duly appointed dog warden, except when such peace officer or dog warden receives a salary in lieu of other compensation, shall be entitled to a fee or four dollars for each dog seized and confined or for each dog killed in the enforcement of the provisions of section two thousand one hundred forty-two of this chapter.

2. The expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions of sections two thousand one hunded forty to two thousand one hundred forty-three, inclusive, of this chapter, shall be paid from moneys raised or to be raised for the suppression of rabies, as provided in section two thousand one hundred forty-four of this chapter.

The requirements of the foregoing sections will continue in effect until the state commissioner of health shall have certified that rabies no longer exists in Ulster County.

Dated at Kingston, N. Y., this 15th day of April, 1958.

Both Ave, GOP

cans and passed by Republicans. Only the signature was a Democrat."

The exchange provided a preview of what probably will be a major issue in the campaign for governor next fall.

Harriman had said last winter there was no room in his record $1,800,000,000 state budget for a major boost in school aid. The state already was spending more than 500 million a year for this purpose.

Republicans countered by slashing 24½ million dollars from his budget and using it to launch their extra aid program.

GOP political strategists figured they would have a ready-made campaign argument—that Republicans could produce for education when Harriman could not.

Besides raising school aid by 53½ million, the legislation appropriates another $955,000 for two programs to improve the quality of instruction.

One of these programs establishes 250 graduate fellowships for training college instructors. The awards will be worth up to $2,500 each for two years. The GOP bill appropriated $475,000 for the first year's cost.

Under the other program, the state will spend $480,000 for refresher courses for high school science and mathematics teachers. The Education Department will organize the classes.

These are the key features of the aid program:

1. An eight per cent boost in the foundation (basic aid) program, $37,300,000.

2. Changes in the formula for computing average daily attendance, to offset unusual absenteeism such as that caused last year by Asian flu, $11,700,000.

3. Special aid to fast-growing school districts and districts with high tax rates, $3,460,000.

4. Changes in the aid formula for emergency school building advances, $500,000.

5. Special aid for support for New York City's schools for problem pupils, $375,000.

6. Special aid for experimental programs to stimulate teaching of science and mathematics, $200,000.

Self-Arrest

GASTONIA, N. C. (AP)—Police Sgt. J. E. Mosteller, after lecturing a Boy Scout troop on safety, ran a stop sign and hit a car. Acting as the investigating officer, the embarrassed police veteran quoted himself that he thought the stop sign was one block away. He charged himself with running it. Both cars were damaged, but no one, including a startled Scout riding with the sergeant, was injured.

Officers for the year are John A. McCullough, president; Stuart Munson, Mrs. Bernard Forst, Leonard Stine, vice presidents; Mrs. Louis Kegler, secretary; Stanton Warren, treasurer. The officers and a board of approximately 20 directors work each year without recompense to bring to Kingston the finest possible concerts under the Community Concerts Association plan. The association is an affiliate of Columbia Artists Management Inc., New York.

State Launching

clude stream and pond improvement, more public access to lakes and streams, more foot and horse trails into remote areas, more camping, bathing and picnic sites and more roadside clearings for viewing scenery. The program, he said, probably would take longer than a lifetime.

"I'm glad that Commissioner Mauhs favors a number of improvements in the Forest Preserve," Tubby replied at Saranac Lake today. "His recommendations make a great deal of sense so far as they go. However, he ignores wholly the successful record of forest and recreation management in other states and in the national forests . . . he sets up a number of straw men easy to knock down.

"If Mr. Mauhs would visit the nearby national forests in Vermont he would see how some selective cutting has helped improve forests and recreation there, with no disappearance of the wilderness."

man Flint of Delaware County and Frank Campochario of Ulster County.

There were no other nominations and Sen. Bush was nominated unanimously.

Succeeded Wicks

A committee on vacancies was appointed consisting of Neal Brandow of West Coxsackie, Harold W. Cole of Hurleyville, Mrs. Isabelle Gorman Flint of Delhi and Kenneth L. Wilson of Woodstock.

The official Republican nomination for the office of State Senator will be made by the enrolled Republican voters at the primary to be held August 12.

Sen. Bush was recommended for his second term, having been elected to serve as successor to Senator Arthur H. Wicks, who retired from office after a long and distinguished career in the state senate.

Saugerties . . .

pects of shopping in Saugerties was the quality of salespeople employed in local stores. Shoppers noted that poor service is an exception, and salespeople were commended for their neatness, courtesy and helpfulness.

Saugerties, although an average New York State community in many respects, has several distinguishing characteristics. The survey discloses a more conservative use of retail credit than elsewhere, with more people using credit away from home than in local stores. Only 18 per cent of area residents surveyed use local retail store credit as compared with 35 per cent in similar communities surveyed. Thirty-four per cent use charge accounts away from home as compared with 51 per cent elsewhere.

Need Modernizing

Customer opinion of local stores is divided. With the exception of cleanliness which rated high, local stores were rated lower than the average of comparable surveyed communities. While commending local stores for their cleanliness, adjustment services and reputation, customers pointed to a lag in store modernization, displays, variety of merchandise offered, quality, proper sizes and prices. There is room for upgrading Saugerties retail stores all along the line, the majority agreed.

Although Saugerties retains an average share of customers in local stores, it has a larger number of mail order users than New York State communities surveyed. One-third of the shoppers surveyed frequently make mail order purchases in comparison with 27 per cent in comparable New York communities.

Eighty-nine per cent of the surveyed customers use cars frequently for shopping, but less than half found local parking facilities satisfactory. The majority advocated rear exits from stores to parking lots and expanded parking facilities. Frequent shopping outside Saugerties was noted by 58 per cent, with purchases of women's, men's and children's apparel, yard goods, shoes, and household furnishings leading. This is comparable with similar communities in the state.

Two Shopping Nights

More than half of those surveyed agreed upon the need for two shopping nights, with preference for Wednesday and Friday expressed by the majority. There is more window shopping in Saugerties than in other communities surveyed, with almost all shoppers requesting the display of prices.

Among the improvements suggested by the survey were:

1. Enlarged department stores, apparel shops and five-and-ten-cent store.
2. A modern shopping center.
3. A good fabric shop.
4. Better repair services.
5. Greater willingness on the part of merchants to order merchandise not on hand.

Suggested parking improvements included: better parking facilities, a parking lot closer to Main Street, enforcement of double parking ordinances and improved parking during the Friday evening rush hour.

The survey, a report on customer reactions—habits, opinions, preferences and attitudes of women shoppers in the area—is a summary of answers to questionnaires selected by a committee of the local Chamber of Commerce and tabulated and analyzed by the State Commerce Department. Cooperating with the Commerce Department were 28 community, church, labor, veteran and fraternal organizations.

Contrasts Made

Contrasts are drawn between Saugerties and "comparable communities" which have carried out shopping habit surveys under similar auspices utilizing the same questions. Offering retail facilities of a like nature and faced with similar competition and problems, they provide a basis for judgment of local shopper reaction.

Last year's officers of the Saugerties Chamber of Commerce responsible for the survey include: Thomas W. Reynolds Jr., president; Willett C. Overbaugh, vice-president; Mrs. Irene Roming, second vice-president; Otto Bumb, treasurer and Albert J. Cawein, executive secretary. On the survey committee were: Joseph Bosco and John Offermann.

Jay Cee Cee Camp Names Director

Richard McCormick, popular area physical education director, has been appointed as 1958 camp director for Camp Jay Cee Cee. This marks the second year of McCormick's association with the Jewish Community Center Day Camp.

McCormick will be in full charge of the expanded Day Camp program at the Camp Turkey Point site. More than 150 children will be accommodated in the complete activity schedule commencing Monday, June 30.

In addition, the camp personnel committee announces the appointment of Mrs. Paul Hamburger as unit head. Mrs. Hamburger, a newcomer to this community, brings with her many years of camp leadership and administrative experience.

Appointments to the other positions on the camp staff will be made by the camp personnel committee headed by Mrs. Herbert Kletske, assisted by Mrs. Robert Davis, Mrs. Sam Greenspan and camp chairman, Mrs. Norman Reamer.

McCormick has begun his duties of planning for the biggest and best summer activity offered by the Jewish Community Center. In cooperation with the camp committee, facilities, equipment and staff are being prepared for this undertaking. Applications from campers for a full summer or one month period are being accepted on the basis of place available in the camp.

Proof Positive

ELKHART, Ind. (AP)—Harold Baker, 42, can offer first-hand testimony that 40-year-old Police Lt. Norman Sinning recovered completely from an attack of polio that struck him last year. The lieutenant, who was bedfast for several weeks with partial paralysis of one leg, chased Baker for a full block to arrest him for drunkeness. He finally downed his quarry with a perfect flying tackle.

Cordiner Is New Head Of GE Board

SCHENECTADY (AP) — Ralph J. Cordiner is the new chairman of the board of the General Electric Co. He succeeds Philip D. Reed, who was chairman for 19 years.

Robert Paxton, 56-year-old executive vice president who joined the company in 1923, assumes Cordiner's former position as president.

Continues as Chief

But Cordiner will continue as chief executive officer of the company, a function previously filled by the president.

The company's board of directors approved the top-level changes yesterday as approximately 4,000 stockholders gathered at GE's main plant for the annual meeting.

Reed, who announced last year he would retire in 1959 and therefore would not seek re-election, will serve as chairman of the board's finance committee for the coming year.

Cordiner, 58, was named president of the huge electrical concern in December, 1950, when Charles E. Wilson was picked to head the Office of Defense Mobilization.

Paxton, born in Edinburgh, Scotland, and raised in nearby Troy, joined GE immediately after graduation from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. Last September, he was assigned overall responsibility for GE's four operating groups and elected a director.

Joined GE in '26

Reed, 58, joined GE in 1926, became a director in 1938 and was elected board chairman the following year. During his term as chairman GE sales grew from 396 million dollars in 1939 to more than 4 billion last year.

There was no announcement yesterday on Paxton's successor.

Cub Pack 13

The monthly meeting of Cub Pack 13 of P-TA, School 7, met Tuesday night at George Washington School. The opening and closing ceremonies were conducted by Den 6. During the business meeting Cubmaster Bernard Orr announced that Pack 13 will have a window display in O'Reilly's Store, Broadway, from May 10 through May 16. This is a Cub Scout citywide project in the nature of a window-display contest.

There was a discussion during the meeting of a soap box derby for the Cubs of Pack 13. Interested parents are asked to contact either Cubmaster Orr or Donald Jameson of the committee.

On Sunday afternoon, May 25, Cub Scouts of Pack 13 and their parents will go to West Point to view the dress parade. All cars will leave Dietz Stadium at 1 p. m.

The theme for April was "Keep America Beautiful" and all den tables displayed a variety of items made by the boys during the month such as wastebaskets, decorated litter bags, posters, turtle neckerchief slides, birds and other items.

Bear Badge—Michael Daly, Stephen Guzewich, William Holt, Paul Lambiase.

Gold Arrow Points on Bear Badge — Christopher Reuner, Paul Lambiase.

Silver Arrow Points on Bear Badge—Bernard Orr Jr., Christopher Reuner.

Denner Stripes — David Stewart.

Cub Pack 13

All Cubs and Den Mothers received their new registration cards. Michael Angstrom who is Den Chief for Den 1 received his Den Chief Cord.

District Commissioner Edward Safford presented the new Pack Charter for the coming year and also presented Scouters lapel pins to Donald Jameson, Louis Suhrhoff and Theodore Lyke, all members of the Pack Committee. District Commissioner Safford also presented Den Mother's pins to the Mmes. Kathryn Kennedy, Alan Holt and Louis Lambiase.

After the meeting refreshments were servid by mothers of Den 2. Last month's refreshments were served by mothers of Den 1.

The next meeting of Pack 13 will be May 27 at Forsyth Park. Meeting time is 7 a. m., but there will be a picnic supper at the pavilion prior to the meeting for all Cubs and their parents.

Court Rules Out Financial Subpoena

SYRACUSE (AP) — A State Supreme Court justice has quashed a subpoena ordering Utica Democratic leader Rufus P. Elefante to show financial records to a grand jury probing vice.

Justice William E. McClusky held that the subpoena was too broad.

He ruled Monday on Elefante's motion for dismissal. The ruling was made public today.

Elefante appeared April 7 before the Oneida County grand jury, which is investigating crime and vice in Utica. But he evidently did not produce the records the jury wanted. The subpoena directed him to produce his financial records for the last five years.

In his ruling, McClusky said "the relevancy of the subpoena's command to produce (extensive records) for five years past . . . escapes this court. There is no point of reference for the subpoena. It does not relate to transactions with anyone. Such a subpoena is too broad."

McClusky added: "The rights of any and all citizens must be protected even from well-meaning grand juries. . . . That body must act within the framework and limitation of the laws it has sworn to uphold."
